

You do not know the pleasure you give to all of us by being here yesterday - such a day as in the summer as long as we live. I wonder how the day feels today for it must have been a great strain on him as well as on the rest of us.
 The story of your photo is very good - it may be a week or two days before they are finished according to the weather. I am so glad you had some taken.
 You went away without your apple & what a pity.
 Jennie and Willie thought he is getting better slowly.

 They tell him he will have to go to a warm climate when he gets better - he does not like the thought of that at all.
 Jennie and Willie are at the British for dinner and father is going to his first meeting then I wish you were here as could have such a quiet little talk all by ourselves but if I can not have you here I must just think bright. Thoughts of both my boys and the time will not be so long until we are all together again.
 How did you sleep last night
