

advantage of the camp, and they consequently resided during the meeting in the City of Toronto.

But for the unfortunate state of the weather, the meeting would not have extended beyond six days, but the wet weather compelling a cessation in shooting, the meeting was thus protracted into the following week.

The Officers Commanding the Royal Artillery, and wing of the 60th Rifles stationed at Toronto, kindly permitted their men to act as markers.

During the meeting no accident of any description took place.

C. STUART, LIEUT.-COL.,
Secretary.

Ottawa, March 1, 1870.

