"HERE IS THE SORT OF BOOK WE WANT ON THIS GREATEST OF ALL SUB-JECTS"—"TIMES."

THE DAYS OF HIS FLESH

The "Times" of October 13th says:

"We shall not stay to argue the need for a substitute for Farrar. The late Dean of Canterbury's 'Life of Christ' will always keep his name in memory. But popular as it was, it came too soon in the development of English New Testament scholarship; and the interval between then and now has been filled by a number of notable commentaries of the separate Gospels, and a close examination of the genesis of the Gospel records as a whole. Smaller commentaries are at the disposal of the humblest student, and our examination system has commended to us a definite study of one or more of the Gospels. The result is that we are now ready for a book that will put the four together for us.
But the careful scholarship which has gone to the making of the commentaries in the individual Gospels—Wescott, Wete, Plummer, to mention but three instances—will inevitably set the type of our requirements in the case of the compendium. We have, in other words, our own 'arra.' His purple passages will not serve us as substitutes for the exact meaning of a phrase or the precise bearing of an incident. In fact, a life of Christ which is to last in the minds of students must be content to instruct the mind rather than titillate the senses."

Net $2.50. P. stage extra, 10c.
