COOPER DIP

250 Million Sheep Dipped in it Every Year.

Has no equal. One dipping kills ticks, lice and mites. Increases quantity and quality of wool. Improves appearance and condition of flock. If dealer can't supply, send $1.75 for $2 (100 Gal.) Pkt. to BOLE DRUG CO., WINNIPEG, MAN.

5. How many sheep may be liberally pastured on an average quarter, after setting apart a plot for hay and other winter food? How many acres should be set aside for this purpose?

CORNERPOST.

Ans.—1. There would not be a mound at the South East corner of the North East quarter of section. There should have been a stake there but it has probably been misplaced by this time. You could have these stakes or mounds re located by an engineer but you would have to pay the expenses.

2. If you do not use your neighbor's fence by attaching a fence to it and using it as one side of your field you will not be required to pay any share of its costs. There should not be any dispute as to the ownership of the strip of land between the two fences. You would be justified in closing up the gate way your neighbor has made having access to your property. You would not be justified in going on to your neighbor's land to place anchors for your corner and gate posts without his permission but you would be justified in putting an anchor out on the road allowance although you might be liable by the obstruction.

3. To be a lawful fence of the kind you describe it should be not less than four feet high and the posts should not be more than 35 feet apart. There is no stipulation as to the number of lateral wires or as to the distance between laterals and gauge of horizontal and perpendicular strands. This fence does not require a barbed wire.

4. There is no restriction in regard to keeping sheep that does not apply to other animals. There is no reason that you should not use your whole quarter section for sheep if you want to. If your sheep get out and injure your neighbor's fields of grain you would be liable for damages just in the same way that you would be liable for damages done by horses or cattle.

5. The number of sheep that could be kept on 160 acres depends so much upon the nature of the land and the rainfall that we can simply give an approximation. In dry years ranchers reckon about twenty acres of range to the head of cattle but in wet seasons the range will carry three to four times as many. So it is with sheep but we would suppose that with good grass land and some fodder a quarter would easily keep from eighty to a hundred sheep and if the tame grasses were grown with plenty of alfalfa in time you could keep from three to five hundred. If you started with sixty head you should set apart about twenty five acres for fodder the first year and seed this with grass and plant ten acres to alfalfa. It is also a good plan to sow blue grass seed on the bottom lands as it improves the grazing.

STABLE BURNS.

A insures his stable, and receives a receipt for the premium money from B. a well known agent for the company. The fire burns A's stable with contents and on applying to the company they say B is not in their employ; has not been for some time, and they have no reference to the said policy so refuse to pay, saying B. must pay A. Can A. insist on payment from company or from B. The receipt is on the usual company's form numbered properly, but signed in behalf of the company by B.

Sask.

BURNT OUT.

Ans.—Either the company or the agent of the company B. is liable; the company on its policy or B for fraudulently representing himself as being the agent of the company when he really was not. Whether B was or was not the agent of the company, is a question of fact, and not of law. We should need to have full particulars of the dealings between the company and B before we could venture to make a safe answer to this question of fact. Judging however, from your letter, we suspect that B and not the company is liable. It looks very much like as if B's authority to do work for the company had been cancelled and that he continued using the old forms of policy and receipts in his hands. You may make yourself perfectly sure however, that either B or the company is liable.
