(From our own Correspondent) Simcoe, Aug. 20.—"He pulled me out," was the concise remark of Otto, the eight-year-old son of Anthoner Sam King, as he pointed to Theodore ("Ted") Richards, the eleven-year-old son of Arthur Richards, superintendent of the process wing at the Simcoe canning factory. The boys were seated side by side on the camp paraphernalia in the rear of Mr. Richards' car, when it drew up at the residence of Alderman Cropp Saturday morning to allow Mrs. Cropp, Sr., to alight. Mrs. Richards was also in the car with her husband; and the remark was in answer to a reference by the reporter to a near tragedy on Thursday afternoon.

Boat Upset with Four Lads The two boys had walked from Normanvale up the sands to Turkey Point, and had on invitation gone into a boat with two Ferris boys of their own age. Otto, while standing, reached for a paddle, tipped the boat, and with the Ferris boys, went headlong into the water. "Ted," tells the story from here as follows:

Worthy of Life Saving Medal I learned to swim at "the dingle" last year. Harry Witherspoon taught me. We are scouts at the Presbyterian church, but they are all broken up now. I sat on the boat till it went down under me with the water that came in, and then I started for the shore; it was not far away; the Ferris boys could swim, and were ahead of me. I heard Otto call for help, and looking around saw him go under. I was not sure I could save him, but I decided to try, and turned back. He came up and went down again before I got to him. When I got there he was under, but he caught me by the arm and neck and pulled me under. While we were down, he said to me, "Get up, get up, get up." I came up, I told him to hang on that way and to catch the overturned boat when we got to it. We had only a couple of feet to go, so we got there and hung on. Otto was about 16 years old on the bank. He went to the house near by and got a bathing suit instead of his clothes. He waded out as far as he could, and then swam to the boat. He told me to hang on, and he swam with one arm and pulled the boat along till we felt the bottom, and we got out. We could have hung on some longer. There were no bigger people around. At one time I was afraid I was going to be drowned.

Little Otto corroborates this story adding: I can't swim, but can paddle a little to keep from sinking. I did this some, but when I stopped I went down. I touched the bottom twice, and when I grabbed "Ted" he went down with me the third time. I let go his arm and grabbed his hand, under water. I am going to learn to swim.

Your correspondent learned of the accident and narrow escape a few hours afterwards, but deferred his report till after interviewing the boys. On May 23rd, 1916, Pte. Wilfred Wingate very narrowly escaped death and himself had to be rescued when he went in to assist a sinking soldier from the mill dam here. Wingate deserved the medal for life-saving, as a score who witnessed the rescue would testify. No one went about the matter, and Wingate passed on with his battalion without recognition. Here we have a boy of 11 who from the mouths of four witnesses, among them the little lad saved, testify to the fact. There is considerable pressure of opinion that some one should lead off in the matter of having "Ted" Richards presented with a life-saving medal. Mr. King cannot take the initiative, for his gratitude cannot adequately be expressed in any such action. It looks as if it were up to the head of the scout organization at St. Pauls. We shall be pleased to report progress.

The Shaver youth, is, of course, given great praise for his deliberate

Press Photographs. H. P. Innes, K.C., and Mrs. Innes, returned on Friday from a fortnight's visit with relatives in Port Arthur. Mr. Innes reports renewed commercial and manufacturing activity at the lake head, and was impressed with the immense volume of lake freight traffic, and the magnitude of the bottoms in service—never out of sight of two or three or more ships.

W. J. Drynan, of Hamilton, spent the week-end with relatives in town and will presently enter the military college at Kingston for a cadet course.

A. D. Aiken, brother of Lt.-Col. L. P. Aiken, who left here in March, 1892, dropped in on Thursday noon. The late Richard Stephen, mentioned in Saturday's news from Dover, is well remembered here. He was a warm personal friend of the late Wm. Wallace, M.P., and a frequent contributor to the columns of the British Canadian.

D. Walker, of Winnipeg, a retired judge of the Manitoba bench, is at present renewing acquaintances in Norfolk, accompanied by Mrs. Walker, and spent Sunday with the latter's brother, J. E. Anderson, of Port Dover. Mr. Walker was formerly a Simcoe lawyer and lived in the residence on the south west of the intersection of Robinson and Head streets which with a recent annex forms the dwelling and grocery store of Miss Thompson, located here in 1870, the year of the first Reil rebellion. The late Dr. Walker of Port Dover, was a brother. The Anderson's have one son, a lawyer in Winnipeg, connected with the camera records.

Mrs. Cropp has returned to town after spending a fortnight at Normandale.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Whitehead, will break camp at Turkey Point to-day, and return to town.

Mrs. A. Richards and family, have returned from cottage life at Normandale.

Rev. S. D. Jamieson, of Thornbury, is visiting the Jamiesons on Elmhurst St.

What the Camera Missed. While in the operation of re-sealing a gas-well on the Radical Road in Woodhouse the other day, the workmen had a pipe drawn twenty-two feet above the ground the pressure below sent the water quite as much higher. The big stream struck the block of the tacking in such a manner as to form a complete umbrella, of water, white and glistening and spread to one hundred feet in diameter. The workmen who saw it longed for a camera to take a snap of the huge canopy whose tip was quite as high as the H. S. Falls store.

Odd Ends of News. Two religious sects held forth last night one on a street corner and the other in the park—both doubtless waiting for church union to provide them with a building.

Silent policemen took their stand at the four corners of the business centre Saturday noon and remained on duty since.

Saturday night's shopping throng was no indication that the absence of reckless driving and mix-ups was driving any business out of town.

The silent policemen were obeyed except by the occasional driver who could not see a barn door painted red and who never knows "why" it is the cause of an accident.

The trustees of the new western suburban school section are waiting patiently for Engineer Marston to chain of the school site. Mr. Marston is still battling with bricks, barrel hoops and boards in the "Grand" Trunk sewer.

A consignment of new books has arrived at the Public Library. Those contemplating competing at the Civic Vegetable Show should keep Saturday's Courier for reference.

A big auto driven by a local owner went down the gravel Saturday evening bounding all over the road. A citizen and his wife returning to town by auto, met the madcap and were so unnerved at the possibility of smash that they drove to the ditch and were sure whether they were yet clear of a collision. The husband complained hotly about the terrific driving and vowed that he would report the offender with a view to having his license cancelled as it is alleged he has paid two fines this year already. Now Watch.

We have heard it suggested frequently that the troughs of the public drinking fountains be hadly in need of a thorough cleansing.

The farmer who was made the subject of a roorback to the effect that he was transferring his farm account from town because of the enforcement of the traffic by-law, has anything but thanks to express for those who gave him such a public misrepresentation. As of old therefore, chickens persist in coming home to roost.

With the water out of the dam and the auxiliary gas engine halting, the Norfolk Milling Company's rolls were not rolling on Saturday.

Miss Holt, of Scotland, lost her wrist watch just before boarding the 8.55 car at Dover last night.

CHOLERA INFANTUM

Cholera Infantum is one of the fatal ailments of childhood. It is a trouble that comes on suddenly, especially during the summer months, and unless prompt action is taken the little one may soon be beyond aid. Baby's Own Tablets are an ideal medicine in warding off this trouble. They regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach and thus prevent all the dreaded stomach complaints. Concerning them, Mrs. Fred Rose, South Bay, Ont., says: "I feel Baby's Own Tablets saved the life of our baby when she had cholera infantum, and I would not be without them." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

DIGGING IN GARDEN

Mr. Thos. Poulton Uncarths Interesting Token

The Courier, Herewith Presents the History of the Same

Mr. Thos. Poulton, of the post office, who resides at 180 Park Ave., when digging in his garden recently, unearthed an object a little larger than a fifty cent piece.

On the front is the half bust of a man in uniform encircled at the top with the words, "Maj-Gen. W. H. Harrison," and below the inscription, "Born Feb. 9, 1773." The reverse side depicts a small wooden building with the stars and stripes flying and the words, "The People's Choice" and "The hero of Tippecanoe."

Mr. Poulton handed his find to The Courier for identification, which is herewith given.

The piece is not a coin, but an election token, and it is in the neighborhood of eighty years of age. William Henry Harrison was the 9th President of the United States. He was born in Virginia in the year above related, and was a son of Benjamin H. Harrison, who was one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence.

W. H. in 1792 joined as an ensign, the army which Wayne was leading against the Indians of the North West. He left the army in 1797, and in 1801, when only 23 years of age, became Governor of Indiana and its representative in Congress where he succeeded in passing a law relating to the sale of the Federal land in small parcels, to which the Western States ascribe all their prosperity. In the war against the Indians in 1811, and which soon became also a war against the English in Canada, Harrison as commander-in-chief of the American Army, showed great military talent. He defeated the Indians in an important battle at Tippecanoe, and by the victory of Perry on Lake Erie, was able to pursue British invaders into Canada. In 1814 he resigned his commission; in 1815 he was elected to Congress and in 1824 to the Senate. In 1828 he was sent as Ambassador to Colombia, but was recalled in 1829. The following few years he spent in retirement as clerk in a County Court of Ohio. He ran for President in 1830, but was defeated, succeeding, however, in 1840.

The interesting token which Mr. Poulton unearthed, must have been issued at either one of the dates named.
