CHILD'S TONGUE BECOMES COATED IF CONSTIPATED

When cough, feverish and sick give California Syrup of Figs. Children love this "fruit laxative" and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely. A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sours, then your little one becomes cross, half sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally. If breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs" and in a few hours all the constipation was gone, bile and undigested food passed out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

Good Night Stories

BROWN CRICKET
Brown Cricket was so happy to think the meadow folk had asked her to open their concert with a song that she didn't notice Johnny Grasshopper turn his back and disappear under the grasses.

Johnny Grasshopper had hoped he would be asked to sing, but no one but his best friend seemed to think he could sing at all. Of course Johnny Grasshopper thought there wasn't a voice in the meadow quite so rich as his, and when he heard Brown Cricket accept the invitation it made him very cross.

"Isn't it lovely of them to ask me," chirped Brown Cricket to Wooley Worm. "There's Katy-did and Johnny Grasshopper, who both have nice voices."

"Yes, there are plenty of pleasant voices among the meadow singers, but your song always seems so cheery every one feels better after listening to them," replied Wooley Worm, and she promised to call for Brown Cricket in plenty of time for the concert.

Now it happened that Johnny Grasshopper heard their conversation, and he made up his mind the best way to get a chance to sing was to keep Brown Cricket from reaching the concert on time, so he spent all day trying to find a way. When he saw Wooley Worm stop at Brown Cricket's house he hopped along among the dead grasses, so she couldn't see him. And when Brown Cricket and Wooley Worm took to the smooth road, Johnny Grasshopper stopped them and said he feared they would be late if they went that way.

"I've found a much shorter way if you care to come with me," said Johnny Grasshopper, and Brown Cricket who didn't want to be late, gladly accepted his kind guidance.

They hadn't travelled far when they came to a dreadful mud puddle. Wooley Worm began to cry, for she didn't want to get her feet wet. Neither did Brown Cricket, so she asked Johnny Grasshopper what he intended to do.

"Jump across!" cried Johnny Grasshopper, and with one spring he spanned the puddle, and they quickly crossed and reached the concert just as Johnny Grasshopper was trying to convince the meadow folk that Brown Cricket wasn't coming, and that he was to sing in her place.

Wooley Worm told the audience that Johnny Grasshopper had tried to do. They were so angry they wanted to drive him away, but Brown Cricket interposed, and Johnny Grasshopper was given a back seat and was permitted to listen.

Brown Cricket started the concert with a merry song, and the meadow folk never had a better time.

After the concert Wooley Worm told them about this short cut home and the lovely bridge Brown Cricket had built. They all walked across it on their way home, all but Johnny Grasshopper who jumped over the puddle and hopped out of sight. Some said he was still sulky, but Brown Cricket felt sure he was ashamed of himself.

"Folks that do little hateful things always regret it Johnny Grasshopper probably will never do it again," chirped Brown Cricket, and she was right.

After that Johnny Grasshopper was the best friend Brown Cricket ever had, and most any summer night you can hear them singing together down in the meadow.
