M. E. C. SAFFERY, professor of Music, offers his rervices professionally, in the purchase and selection of new and second-hand Instruments. There is so great a difference even in New Pinnos, in point of tone and touch, that parties would be consulting their own interest in availing themselves of his professional experience remembering, that without due discrimination and adjunction, you often pay more for a worldhess instrument than a superior one would amount to, verifying the old adage. "That you have paid too dear for your whistle;" therefore, the fee of $4.00 is absolutely money saved.
