Fortieth Anniversary of Christ Chur

Athens-Gateway of Famous Charleston Lake

On Thursday, November 13th, the fortieth anniversary of the opening of Christ Church was fitly commemorated by three inspiring services in the Church, and by a sumptuous anniversary dinner and supper in the

A large congregation assembled for the Iloly Communion service at 11.00 a.m. The Rev. G. W. Swayne, L.Th., rector of Bath and Ernestown, and a former rector of this parish, was the celebrant. Canon F. D. Woodcock, of Brockville, read the epistle, and the Rev. George Code, M.A., rector of Newboyne and Lombardy, also a former rector, read the gospel. There were about 70 communicants. 'The Rev. L. E. Davis, M.A., rector of St. Paul's Church, Brockville, and Rural Dean of Leeds, preached an able and inspiring sermon from Nehemiah 3:28 and 4:6, "For the people had a mind to work", emphasizing unity, faithfulness and perseverance, as being factors in successful work.

The musical part of the service was beautifully rendered by the large surpliced choir under the leadership of Mrs. V. O. Boyle. The anthem was entitled "Christian the Morn Breaks Sweetly O'er Thee", the soprano solo being taken by Mrs. Boyle in her clear powerful soprano.

After the service the congregation repaired to the basement where a most appetizing chicken and meat dinner was served, with pies and salads and cakes in abundance.

At three o'clock in the afternoon an informal service was held in the & church. The opening hymn was "Blest Be the Tie that Binds", and the prayers were read by the rector, Rev. V. O. Boyle, M.A., B.D., who also presided.

The first speaker was Rev. A. H. Coleman, who was rector of Leeds and Lansdowne Rear from 1872 to 1878. Lord with my whole heart". This pioneer clergyman now over four score years, reminisced on olden times and told of the hardships and difficulties and sacrifices of the early days.

Canon F. D. Woodcock spoke next and paid high tribute to the love and devotion of the church people of former days and urged the present generation to carry on the work they so ably began.

so ably began. The first rector of the parish of Lansdowne Rear and Athens, was the Rev. R. N. Jones, who undertook the task of building the church. The cor-ner stone was laid in June, 1883, and task of building the church. The cor-ner stone was laid in June, 1883, and the church was opened on Thursday, November 13th, 1884. The rector read a letter from Mrs. Jones express-ing her regret at being unable to be present at the fortieth anniversary, and conveying her good wishes for a present at the forheth anniversary, and conveying her good wishes for a successful day. A letter was also read from Rev. C. E. S. Radcliffe, Deser-onto, in which he paid a glowing tri-bute to the character and work of the late Rev. R. N. Jones, who had been a personal, as well as a college friend of his.

Mr. A. E. Donovan, who presented the church with a silver communion service forty years ago, and which is still in use to-day, spoke briefly. He recalled being present at the twentyfifth anniversary in 1909 and comparbasement. The weather was very ed the old fashioned days with modfavorable, being bright in the morn-conveniences to-day, unknown to our ern times and noted several scientific forefathers. The Rev. G. G. Upham, pastor of the Baptist Church, Athens, extended the hearty congratulations of his congregation and sounded the note of sociability and also of fraternity among the churches to-day, which had not been so closely heard in the past.

Rev. A. H. Coleman pronounced the benediction and after the singing of the hymn, "Watch and Pray", a very inspiring meeting came to a close.

A delicious supper was then served in the pasement to about 200 people.

The church was filled to over-flowing for the evening service, which began at 7.30, the choir and the clergy proceeding up the aisle singing the hymn "Rejoice, the Lord is King".

ston, with whom he had resided for five years following the death of his wife at their home in Athens in 1919. The service was in charge of past rectors. The Rev. R. B. Patterson read the service and prayers, the Rev. George Code read the first lesson, the Rev. W. G. Swayne read the second lesson, and the Rev. J. deP. Wright, the son of a former rector, preached an eloquent sermon on the duty of thanksgiving, using as his text Psalm 9:1, "I will give thanks unto Thee, O

A choir of 25 voices, assisted by an orchestra of three pieces, provided a musical treat. The anthem, "Lift up Your Voice", was exceptionally well rendered, the quartette part being taken by Miss Kathleen Taylor, Miss Victoria Lee, Geoffrey Goodbody and Rev. V. O. Boyle. The orchestra selection was "Now the Day Is Over", the solo part being played on the cor-net by Lawrence Taylor, accompanied

But there is a revulsion of feeling against war, not only among the entente powers, but among the central powers as well; the world is feeling that war must go. There are various solutions offered as to how the problem of the abolition of war is to be met. Some say by moral sussion. This is good as far as it goes, but, like a short life-line, it does not go far enough. Some say "pre-serve peace by preparing for war". Offensive warfare is barbar ous, hellish, inexcusable. The Great War was precipitated not because royalty was slain-but because of boundaries, economic rivalry and international jealousy.

Think of the stupendous cost of the war in human sorrow and suffering! It has taken years to compile statistics, but it is estimated that thirteen millions were slain, twenty millions were disabled, nine millions were made orphans, and five millions were made widows. The stricken ones were made widows. The stricken ones were not the old and decripit, but the flower of youth and middle age. What a financial loss the war entailed! Three hundred billions of dollars worse than wasted! At least two nations gank-rupt, and others trembling on the verge. Then, on the moral side, the juggling of facts and figures, intend-ed to mislead each other, engendered deceit among the nations and pro-duced a lack of confidence which is lamentable.
