ADVICE TO WORKERS.

We are accustomed to look upon John D. Rockefeller as merely the incarnation of wealth, an industrial juggernaut that crushes the life out of everything that comes in its way, but there is something very human about the old man after all, says the Detroit Journal. That was shown by the talk he had with the reporters just before he left Chicago. Being asked if the present prosperity was likely to continue, he answered their question with another:

"Do you men save any money?" That was in his mind the key to the situation. If the people are saving money they may look to the future with confidence. If they are living up to the last dollar they make, then there is some reason, Mr. Rockefeller thinks, to regard the future with apprehension. Then he went on to give them the secret of his own success:

"Men, I want to tell you that systematic saving and self-denial with a good deal of hard work is the foundation of every large fortune. That has been my experience."

That is the advice that any father might give his son. It may be said that a man might save for a hundred years, if he lived so long, and then not have more than an independence, but that is not what Mr. Rockefeller meant. If a man lays aside a few hundreds each year he will soon have a little capital, and when an opportunity offers itself he will be in a position to grasp it. No one knows better than the great financier that wealth is made from investments, not from savings. But the greater benefit to be derived from systematic saving is the benefit to the individual. It requires both hard work and constant self-denial to lay aside a portion of one's salary, and the man who exercises these qualities, day in and day out, for years, cannot help building up an admirable business character.

The opportunities for acquiring wealth are as great to-day as ever they were, said Mr. Rockefeller, and however much one may be inclined to dispute this dictum, still he is in a position to judge. If he were divested of his wealth to-day is it at all likely that he would be a pauper ten years hence? The late Hiram Walker made a second fortune in his old age, after divesting himself of the enormous wealth he had accumulated in his earlier years. Rockefeller would probably do the same. He added:

"Don't fear or envy those who progress or push ahead. We all get the benefits. No one can get ahead unless you and you (designating each reporter by a friendly poke in the ribs), get the benefit."

If by this Mr. Rockefeller meant that all were to get an equal opportunity he has perfectly right, for our interests nowadays are so intertwined that no one class can be benefitted without benefitting the mass of the population; no one city can be benefitted without the whole country sharing in the prosperity. A raise of wages in one field of labor tends to raise the standard of living for the whole community. But if it is meant that one shall get the part of the robber baron and levy tribute upon all the others, as Mr. Rockefeller himself is accused of doing, his success will not be a benefit, but a detriment to the nation.

Mr. Rockefeller's advice may well be taken to heart by young men who in the magnificence of youth are apt to despise small savings. Mr. Rockefeller's great business was built up by saving a mill here and cent there in the different processes, the enormous output making every these-paving economy amount to millions.

Economies that are not despised by a Rockefeller need not be looked down upon by a young man starting life.

NEW METHODIST PASTORS ARE FAVORABLY RECEIVED

Something About The Men Who Will Direct The Destinies of Victoria Avenue And Park St. Methodist Churches During The Next Three Years

Sunday last was a memorable day for the Methodists of the Maple City. It was marked by an important incident which will have a direct bearing upon their future growth and spiritual welfare—a change of pastorate.

During the last few years especially, the Methodists of this city have been very fortunate in securing the services of pastors who have not only been a credit to that particular church, but also to the city at large. For that reason, if for no other, the arrival of their successors has been looked forward to with a great deal of interest. It is safe to say after the splendid services in both churches Sunday, that the first impressions have been more than favorable, and it is expected that the Methodist churches in this city will continue to grow and prosper under the management of the two new pastors which have been allotted to them. Large congregations were present at both services on Sunday, and the sermons delivered were able, inspiring and brilliant.

REV. DR. DANIEL.

Rev. George Daniel, Ph. B., M. A., Ph. D., the new pastor of the Park street Methodist church, is one of the distinguished men of the Methodist ministry. He was born in July, 1852, of English parentage. He came to this country when he was a small boy, and commenced to preach at the early age of 16 years. Two years later he was received by the conference and was established in the Adelaide Circuit, O. T. He was ordained in '76 in St. Catharines after attending Victoria University. Soon afterwards he was moved to Niagara, where he remained for four years. He then went to London, whence he went to Winnipeg in 1883, where he was pastor of the Bannatyne street church, which at that time was the most important charge in that city. In 1886 he received an invitation to Regina, the capital of the Northwest Territories. In 1889 he was again moved to Portage la Prairie, after which he went to Brandon. At the close of his ministry in Brandon, he received an invitation to the Queen's avenue church of London, one of the most important Canadian charges in Canadian Methodism. During the last years of his ministry in the West he was District Chairman and Examiner in history and literature, and Secretary of the Board of Examiners for the Manitoba and Northwest Conference. After leaving Queen's avenue church in London, he went to the Central church, Sarnia, and was chairman of the Sarnia District for three years. He was then invited to the North street church, Goderich, where he was also chairman of the district during his term of pastorate. He then went to the Colborne street church, which is situated on the corner of Colborne street and Rickardville, London. He spent the time from '94 until the present year as pastor of that church.

Mr. Daniel has been in the ministry for 30 years, and during all of that time he has continually filled charges in cities and towns. He has spent 17 years in cities, and it will be seen from the above that he has had a wide experience. At the age of sixteen, when he commenced his ministry, he filled pulpits in the Arkona district. He was stationed in Forest doing evangelistic work, when he was accepted by conference. Dr. Daniel has been an earnest student all of his life, and has won many scholarships from the best colleges which he attended. He first started his training for the ministry in Victoria University, and completed his course in the Illinois Wesleyan University of Chicago. It was there that he won his degree of doctor.

Dr. Daniel is a man of striking personality, and a very pleasant speaking voice. It is not hard to learn that he has a kindly sympathetic nature, and he will no doubt meet with more than the usual amount of success as pastor of the Park street Methodist church.

In a short interview with The Planet yesterday, Dr. Daniel spoke in glowing terms of his first impressions of the Maple City.

"You have a very beautiful city," said he, "and I am sure that I will enjoy my residence here. We Methodist ministers always try to like new towns when we are changed, but I am sure that in my present case it will require no effort on my part to fall in love with Chatham. We are already particularly charmed with the cordiality and geniality of the people here, and I am sure that we will enjoy ourselves more the longer we stay."

REV. W. H. GRAHAM.

Rev. William H. Graham, B. A., the new pastor of Victoria avenue Methodist, is a young man of prepossessing appearance, and of frank, hearty manner, that should make him quickly popular with the growing and appreciative congregation of that church. Before coming to Chatham, he had won for himself a name as being one of the rising young Methodist ministers of the Western Ontario. When a Planet reporter called on him yesterday, he was busy superintending the placing of his household effects in the parsonage on Grand avenue.

Rev. Mr. Graham was born in the County of Perth, near St. Mary's, where his parents at present reside. He attended Public school near his home, and later the Collegiate Institute at St. Mary's. His education was completed at Victoria University, where he graduated in Arts and Divinity.

He graduated in 1898, and was ordained in the same year, but he had seen considerable service in the cause of Christianity previous to his ordination, first taking up the Lord's work in 1891, when he took his first charge on the Erin circuit, near Guelph. The second charge taken by him was at Rulitort, and his first charge after ordination was at Camlachie, where he spent three years. From there he went to Sparta, where he remained three years, and lastly to Goderich, where he was pastor for the past four years. By these facts it will be seen that he has had much experience in his chosen and sacred calling.

"I feel that I will like Chatham," he told a Planet reporter, during the course of a short conversation yesterday. "We like our new home and that I had a very favorable impression of Victoria avenue Methodist congregation during the two services Sunday, despite the heat which prevailed."

Undoubtedly this talented young clergyman and his family, like all others who come to the Maple City, will grow to like Chatham more and more as they get better acquainted with the people and the surroundings.

LITTLE CANADIAN CAPITAL

In the course of a two column article sent to his paper after a visit to the Tibury oil fields, J. Ross Munro, of the Toronto Globe, makes the following statement:

"It may be said that the owners of the wells receive $1.68 1-2 cents a barrel for the oil. Of this 56 1-2 cents a barrel is a bonus from the Canadian Government. And, notwithstanding this bonus there are not more than two or three Canadian syndicates on the field. Most of the wells are owned by men who have interests in Ohio fields. They have made no efforts to advertise East Tibury, but, on the contrary, they seem to desire to keep the oil movements as much in the dark as possible. Such a course of action helps them to obtain other leases more cheaply should the field show any marked extension. They have met with considerable success in keeping the secret of the oil deposits, to such an extent, in fact, that it is doubtful if 75 men from Chatham, the nearest city, have ever been within sight of the derricks. The oil is in Canadian territory, and it is difficult to see why nearly all the profits should be allowed to go to the other side of the line. Mr. Michael Egan, the pioneer of the Tibury oil industry, says there are plenty of openings for Canadians yet, but fast work will have to be done in order to get ahead of the Ohio men. These experts from the States estimate that it costs $3,000 to sink each well in Tibury."

Trouble Was Not Serious.

Liebow, July 8.—It is officially stated that the trouble at Angra de Heroismo, in the Azores, where the troops were reported to have refused to march against the manifestants was not serious. Order was restored with the summoning of reinforcements from Ponta del Coda.

A GREAT PILGRIMAGE

The Seventeenth Annual Pilgrimage from the Diocese of Kingston to the Shrine of St. Anne de Beausapre, Quebec, will take place this year on the 23rd inst. The pilgrims can go by the C. P. R. or G. T. R. at specially reduced rates. For information, see posters at all stations on both lines, or apply directly to Rev. J. P. Kehoe, Gapanoque, Director of the Pilgrimage.

CATARRH CAN BE CURED

Kill the Germs by Breathing Hyomei—Gives Quick Relief.

Many people who have suffered with catarrh for years naturally feel that the disease cannot be cured, and become discouraged.

Their failure to get relief is due to the fact that they have not used the right remedy. Catarrh is an affection of the head, throat and lungs, and cannot be cured by stomach dosing.

The only scientific and natural treatment for this disease is Hyomei, which is breathed through a neat pocket inhaler, so that its healing medicated air reaches the most remote air-cells, kills all catarrh. Hyomei is the only cure for catarrh that has ever been sold with the understanding that it was to cost absolutely nothing unless it cured. C. H. Gunn & Co. sell Hyomei in this way and are always ready to refund the money if it does not relieve and cure catarrh.

The healing and antiseptic balsams of Hyomei perform their purpose to perfection, and by using this remedy for a few times each day, you can soon cure yourself of any catarrhal troubles.

A complete Hyomei outfit, consisting of a bottle of Hyomei and an inhaler, costs but $1.00.

Diplomacy consists largely in not giving advice unless you know exactly the kind that is wanted.
