

A MINISTER'S STORY.

The Painful Experience of Rev. C. H. Backhus.

For Five Months he was helpless and Endured Agonizing Pains—Could neither Rise Up Nor Sit Down Without Aid—He Tells How He Found a Cure.

From the Tidewater Observer.

The Rev. C. H. Backhus is a resident of Bayham township, Elgin county, Ont., and there is probably no person in the county who is better known or more highly esteemed. He is a minister of the United Brethren Church. He also farms quite extensively, superintending the work and doing quite a share of it himself despite his advanced age. But he was not always able to exert himself as he can to-day, as a few years ago he underwent an illness that many feared would terminate his life. To a reporter who recently had a conversation with him the rev. gentleman gave the particulars of his illness and cure, with permission to make the statement public. The story as told by Rev. Mr. Backhus is substantially as follows:—About three years ago he was taken ill and the doctor who was called in pronounced his trouble an attack of the grippe. He did not appear to get any better and a second doctor was called in, but with no more satisfactory results, so far as a renewal of health was concerned. Following the grippe came an excruciating nature located themselves in his body. He grew weaker and weaker until at last he was perfectly helpless. He could not sit down nor rise from a sitting posture without assistance and when with this assistance he gained his feet he could hobble but a few steps when he was obliged to be put in a chair again. For five months these agonizing pains were endured. But at last relief no long delayed came. A friend urged him to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. He yielded to the advice and had not been taking them long when the longest for relief was noticed coming. He could move more easily and the stiffness and pains began to leave his joints. He continued the use of the pills for some time longer and the cure was complete. Seeing Mr. Backhus now it would be difficult to think of him as the crippled and helpless man of those painful days. Mr. Backhus is now past his 50th year, but he said, "by the aid of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I am as able as those ten years younger. You can readily judge of this when I tell you I laid forty rods of rail fence this year. I am glad to add my testimony in favor of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills strike at the root of the disease, driving it from the system and restoring the patient to health and strength. In cases of paralysis, spinal trouble, locomotor ataxia, sciatica, rheumatism, neuritis, sciatica, neuralgia, etc., these pills are superior to all other treatment. They are also a specific for the troubles which make the lives of many women a burden, and speedily restore the rich glow of health to pale and sallow cheeks. Men broken down by overwork, worry or excess, will find in Pink Pills a certain cure. Sold by all dealers or sent by mail postpaid, at 50c. a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N. Y. Beware of imitations and substitutes alleged to be "just as good."

Mrs. Thos. Hardy seems to be invaluable to her husband, quite outside of her housekeeping capacity. It is his proud boast that she keeps herself posted in the literature of the day that he finds himself constantly drawing from her fund of knowledge. It was Mrs. Hardy who induced her husband to forsake architecture for literature as a profession, and it was she who copied out his first novel and sent it to the publisher.

Joining the church is in one sense a very small affair. It makes no difference whatever in your life in one sense. It is simply the open confession of what you already believe in your soul. In another sense it is of the utmost importance. It means the open alliance of your life's powers with those whom you believe to be battling on the right side in this great moral conflict. It means that your influence with men shall be for the right.

If you would write to any purpose, you must be perfectly free from within. Give yourself the natural rein; think on no pattern, no patron, no pay, no press, no public; think on nothing, but follow your impulses. Give yourself as you are—what you are and how you see it. Every man sees with his own eyes or does not see at all.

Let it be remembered that the best carpet, rug and mat makers in Canada always use the celebrated Diamond Dyes, and as a consequence achieve the success they desire.

The "Diamond" are the only dyes in the world that give perfect colors and satisfactory results. Ask your dealer for the "Diamond" and see that you get them; refuse imitations and adulterated dyes.

A contemporary tells a story of a shorn horse that was induced to go ahead by its owner singing a hymn. The Hamilton Spectator says:—"There's nothing singular about that. Many a man's alleged singing is sufficient to not only cause a horse to be driven to get away from him, but there exists a Hamilton man who can make his horse stop by singing a hymn. He sings:—"Stop your sinners, stop and think, Before you further go; Do you not know you're on the brink Of everlasting woe?"

The singing of the last fortissimo does the trick.—Prince Edward Islander.

Charles Burleigh, the Abolitionist, in the midst of an anti-slavery speech, was struck full in the face by a rotten egg. Wiped his face with his handkerchief, a proof of what he always maintained—that pro-slavery arguments are very unsound. The crowd laughed heartily, and Burleigh was allowed to speak without further molestation. So true is that a witty as well as a soft answer will turn away wrath.

The Art of Not Hearing.

The art of not hearing should be learned by all. There are so many things which it is painful to hear, very many which, if heard will disturb the temper, corrupt simplicity and modesty, detract from contentment and happiness. If a man falls into a violent passion and calls all manner of names, at the first words we should shut our ears and hear no more. It is in the quiet voyage of life we find ourselves caught in one of those domestic whirlwinds of scolding, we should shut our ears as a sailor would furl his sail, and, making all tight, send before the gale. If a hot, restless man begins to inflame our feelings, we should consider what mischief the fiery sparks may do in our magazine below, where our temper is kept, and instantly close the door. If all the petty things said of a man by heedless and ill-natured idlers were brought home to him, he would become a mere walking pin cushion stuffed full of sharp remarks. If we would be happy when among good men we should open our ears; when among bad men, shut them. It is not worth while to hear the chatter of those who are about our children, what our rivals say about our business, our dress or our affairs.

'TIS JOYOUS NEWS.

PAINE'S CELEBRY COMPOUND CURES ARE ALWAYS PERMANENT.

The Happy Cures that the Afflicted Desire.

A Report from Mr Douglas Hixon, of Beamsville, Ont.

A great number of men and women, cured months and years ago by Paine's Celery Compound, have taken the trouble to assure the proprietors of that famous medicine that their cures are permanent.

This noble and bright record of permanent cures, shown only by Paine's Celery Compound, is worthy of special notice, as it is the greatest record of the kind in the world. It should also be noted that all the permanently cured people are residents of our own Canada.

There are some medicines that partially relieve pain and suffering, that assist in building up vain hopes of a new life; but after a few days or weeks the terrible agonies come back again in more alarming forms, and hope and faith are lost forever.

This never happens when Paine's Celery Compound is used as a banisher of disease. The first bottle establishes a joyous feeling of security, and soon a perfect cure is effected which is permanent and lasting.

Mr Hixon says: "To-day I think more of Paine's Celery Compound than ever before. Since I was cured—over two years ago—I have never had a bad day or lost a day's work, never having had a return of the rheumatism from which I once suffered so terribly.

Through my influence many have used Paine's Celery Compound and have been cured. I wish to affirm more than that it was Paine's Celery Compound that took the rheumatism from my system. I strongly recommend it to all rheumatic and sick people."

Refining Influences of Poetry.

It is a great mistake for any young woman to judge poetry by the melodious tinkling of current verse, and to say that she "can't read poetry." Real poetry finds a home in every woman's heart.

Its tenderness, its music, its vagrant fancies, its vivid emotions are more adapted to her nature than to the masculine hand. If she does not read the best poetry she is missing one of the most refining and consoling influences that can enter her life through the medium of books.

A woman who has not read Keats' "Eve of St. Agnes," Coleridge's "Christabel," Mrs Browning's "Aurora Leigh," Shelley's "Adonais," Wordsworth's "Ode to Immortality," Tennyson's "Idylls of the King," and Longfellow's "Evangeline," has unconsciously missed the greater part of her emotional inheritance.

PERFECT DIAMONDS.

The Only Reliable in the World.

Do you make rag carpets, rugs and mats at home? If so, you surely do home dyeing.

It is needless to say that success in your work depends upon the colors you give your cotton and wool rage. When you have a handsome design, rich, bright and brilliant colors give life and beauty to the work of your hands.

Let it be remembered that the best carpet, rug and mat makers in Canada always use the celebrated Diamond Dyes, and as a consequence achieve the success they desire.

The "Diamond" are the only dyes in the world that give perfect colors and satisfactory results. Ask your dealer for the "Diamond" and see that you get them; refuse imitations and adulterated dyes.

A Decaying Nation.

The Paris workman lives on drink, not solid food. Normandy has been completely changed by the drink craze. Bremen is the capital of drinkists.

Its population is 15,000, and it consumes 10,000,000 gallons of brandy yearly. The dock porters, after a few hours work, indulge in a succession of "nips," which let up to about four frs. the quart.

On market days there are men who drink cider brandy in large glasses, as others do beer or wine, and one and a half pints of that alcohol daily is quite a common allowance. Saturday night and Sunday are the great boozing days; the rural as well as the town population, then are "foam." On the roadsides, in the fields, against the street houses, men lie dead drunk.

The women are also stricken by the plague; they purchase ready made coffee at the dram shop—one part coffee and three alcohol. Dr. Trudart, the medical officer of health, attests that the general family "seep" consists of brandy and bread steeped therein, alike for children and parents. Mothers, he adds, prefer punch and alcoholized wine to milk for the babies; it warms them, but kills. One schoolmaster made enquiry among his scholars and found that every pupil drank alcohol with his meals.

Dr. Brunon, another eminent local authority, asserts that coffee and alcohol are given to babies even before a month old, and continued till aged three years. There are fine country lads aged eighteen to twenty-five, who arrive in Rouen to seek employment, and that can easily earn twice to fifteen frs. per day. They are soon caught by the sirens of alcohol; before they are forty years of age, they are old men with hollow chests, speckled voices, and pained limbs.

Naturally, the population is being rapidly decimated. What with cider brandy in the west, and absolute drinking in the other parts of France, the outlook is sad.—Paris Letter in the Week.

Only a Glass in the Morning.

Youth is the forming time of habits and these, unless carefully watched, will grow until they bind like ropes and handcuffs. There are few young men who are awakened to the evils of a bad habit in time to conquer it as did a certain young man who had thoughtlessly formed the habit of taking a glass of liquor every morning before breakfast.

An older friend advised him to quit before the habit should grow too strong. "Oh, there's no danger. It's a mere notion. I can quit any time," replied the drinker.

"Suppose you try it to-morrow morning," suggested the friend. "Very well. To please you I'll do so, but I assure you there's no cause for alarm."

A week later the young man met his friend again. "You are not looking well," observed the latter. "Have you been ill?"

"Hardly," replied the other one. "But I am trying to escape a dreadful danger, and I fear that it will be long before I have conquered. My eyes were opened to an imminent peril when I gave you that promise a week ago. I thank you for your timely suggestion."

"The first trial utterly deprived me of appetite for food. I could eat no breakfast and was nervous and trembling all day. I was alarmed when I realized how insidiously the habit had fastened on me and resolved to turn square about and never touch another drop. The squaring off has pulled me down severely, but I am gaining, and I mean to keep the upper hand after this. Strong drink will never catch me in its net again."

Reformation Discouraging.

In the temperance work as much as in any other, experience clearly demonstrates that an ounce of preventative is worth a pound of cure. It is a much easier thing to take a boy by the hand and persuade him to take and keep a life-long total abstinence pledge than it is a young man who has once begun to form an appetite for drink. After such a chance of final reformation are very poor in most cases.

Wherever he had much experience in trying to reclaim drinking men who have not yet even reached that stage where they become known as drunkards, he too often realized what a discouraging work it is.

Moody, the celebrated evangelist, has been saying: "I have been working a good deal with drinking men; I think the rest of my work will be with the young. Once in a while a drunkard may keep away from his cup, but it takes all his strength to fight the habit. It is a good deal better to begin when you are young and never get the appetite fostered in you."

For an impoverished condition of the blood and loss of vitality, take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. "I have to help Johnny with his pen, but I can't do it," said the father of a young woman, "and it is a nuisance."

"Do you ever find that celebrated problem about one plus one equals one?" asked the young man. "I said mental arithmetic, but sentimental," replied the young woman.

Hall's Hair Renewer contains the natural food and color-matter for the hair, and medicinal herbs for the scalp, curing grayness, baldness, dandruff and scurfy sores.

A late bishop of a somewhat inquisitorial character, once wrote the following query to the "Church warrens of a parish in his diocese:—"Are the conversation and carriage of your clergyman consistent with his holy office?" The reply was:—"We can't say nothing about his conversation, but he doesn't keep no kerriage."

A travelling salesman gives it as his opinion that 50 per cent. of the travelling salesmen ride wheels, and he thinks the other 50 per cent. do for kowies. He adds: "We are all good roads advocates. When we get good roads in this country our winter sales will improve in the west, where trade is dull in the cold season, because farmers cannot get to town."

That the blood should perform its vital functions, it is absolutely necessary it should not only be pure but rich in life-giving elements. These results are best effected by the use of the well-known standard blood-purifier, Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

I heard your minister resigned from his charge, every evening," said the well, no, not exactly. How was it, then? Why, you see, we'd been resigned to him as long as we could stand it, and we thought it was time for him to resign, etc. He didn't resign; we resigned him."

At the late annual dinner of the Boston Club, F. H. The newspaper man who falls to appreciate his good-natured thrust, had better lay aside his paste brush and give his scissors a rest.
