

To The Managing Editor New York Evening Journal;

Dear Sir;

I accept with pleasure for my team the invitation to dine as the guests of The Evening Journal. We would request a simple dinner, with light beer and no other stimulant. That is our idea of the proper drink for athletes in training.

Yours Very Truly,

BROOKLYN NATIONAL BASEBALL CLUB

C. H. EBBETTS, President

Playing baseball in a National League is not all play in fact it is hard work. Mr. Ebbetts advocates light beer for his men giving evidence that light beer is beneficial for them. A light beer contains 3 1-2 p. c. of alcohol. Malta is an extremely light beer in fact it contains the food elements of a light beer to a smaller extent. If a light beer is beneficial to an athlete, Malta is beneficial to you. Live Grocers, Confectioners, Cafes and Clubs handle it. It is within easy reach of every man, woman and child. Just say MALTA the next time. There is no beverage that can compare with it.
