THE LATE MISS ELLIOTT .- It is with feeligs of deep regret we announced in the oitnary column of Thursday's Mencury to death of Miss Elliott, sister of George the death of Miss Liliott, sater of Grorge Elliott, Esq. for many years a resident of Guelph, living with her brother. Mr. and Mrs. Elliott were on their way to spend the winter in the Southern States but were recalled in consequence of Miss Elliott's illiness, and arrived here about ten days ago, a return which has ended so mournfully, and in which we feel they have the sympathy of their friends and the public to whom they are so well known. Miss Elliott lived a quiet unobstrusive, retired life. She took the greatest interest in all haritable and Church verk, and in the Grainbuyer's Supper.

On New Year's about a dozen of the buyers on the Guelph market assembled at the Prahpean hotel, and partook of a complimenerty appear tendered them by the propriete. Mr. James Johnston. It is tunescessary to say that the spread was first-class and in kepping with the high reputation of the hones in this line of catering. His Worship Thomas Goldie, Mayor, coupied the bair, and stret the small loyal toasts hat been duly honored, the toast of "The Mayor and Corporation was proposed by Mr. F. K. Skinner.

The Mayor respondes that the regretted that there were not more of the buyers present, attributing the cases to the fact that several of them had to entertain company at home, and a few were absent, and also that some present were there under personal sacribee. He then referred to the inadequate market accommodation. It would be agood thing for the buyers to meet, discuss the pequirements and make a proposition to that end submitted to the Council.

Md. Hewer remarked that it was an injustice to tax a man ben cents for bringing a small quantity of stuff to the market on a double team, while a man thus had a heavy load was only charged the same price—that is to say if a man brought a hide, or a basket of butter in a double team he was charged ten cents, which farmers justly complained of as an injustice. If he was returned he would endeavor to make alterations in the bylaw to do away with grievances.

Ex Ald. Carter remarked that this was the first grathering the buyers had had for many years. It was most enjoyable and how as sutisfied a good deal of good would accrue from it. He suggested that a few inclosed on the square, and thus provent people from being compelled to wade ankile deep in mud during a wet spell; also that $50 a year out of the market lady for many years. It was most enjoyable and the province and that it should be fosted in every detail.

Mr. Skinner replied to "The Invited Guests," expressing his pleasure at being present and observing the manimity that existed between the buyers and was glad to
