It is said by opponents of the branch lines that the Loughheed amendment is almost certain to carry.

The Kingsclear Branch Line.

Ottawa, June 2.—Why the Senate called for 41 miles of new railway at National branch line bill, Senator McLennan moved an amendment that after clause 8 in each bill there should be added "and after completion of the railway authorized by this act, statements showing the annual amount of traffic, both freight and passenger, and the contribution of the said railway to main line traffic" should be furnished the Minister of Railways.

He said in this manner they would know whether they had been justified in making railway expenditures. He said this was possible under the C. P. R. system and should be under the Canadian National.

The Kingsclear branch line, which is in New Brunswick and would furnish the C. N. R. a connection with the main boundary, provoked considerable discussion. The original bill called for 41 miles of new railway at a cost of $2,123,000. This was amended in committee so that only 14 miles from Harvey to Vanceboro of new road would be required, and running rights for the remainder of the distance secured over the C. P. R. on an appeal to the railway board.

Sir James Loughheed moved another amendment which would eliminate the construction of any new line but give the Canadian National Railway running rights over the C. P. R. from Fredericton to the St. Croix river, contingent on satisfactory terms being made through the railway commission. He claimed that this would save $1,000,000 to $3,000,000 and yet would not at some future time prevent the construction of an independent line for the Canadian National.

Senator Dandurand pointed out that the committee had adopted the first amendment. He also showed the necessity of this connecting link to the Canadian National Railway to secure their fair share of return traffic.

He said he had submitted the last amendment to Canadian National authorities, and read a memo from them strongly opposing it. He proposed that this bill stand over until the members had an opportunity of studying the Canadian National Railway officials' report.

HAYWARD-HOWLAND.

Pretty Wedding Solemnized at Wasia United Baptist Church.

Wasia, June 30.—A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the United Baptist church on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when the Rev. Mr. Francis united in marriage Miss H. Pearl Howland, second eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Howland, and Harry E. Hayward, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Hayward, both of Wasia.

The ceremony was performed in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives.

The bride was given away by her father and wore a gown of white satin de chene trimmed with silk. Spanish lace and pearls and a large veil with orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and maiden hair fern. She was attended by her sister, Miss Lilian, who wore a dress of blue silk canton crepe with grey radium lace trimmed hat to match and carried a bouquet of pink carnations and ferns, while the groom was supported by Hazen Grasse.

The wedding march was played by West Smith, of Oromocto.

After a sumptuous wedding supper was served by the bride's parents the happy young couple motored to Barker's Point to the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Rice, where they will spend a few days and on their return will spend a few days the guests of the groom's parents and afterwards give the bride a honeymoon at Lincoln.

The groom's present to the bride was a sum of money and to the bridesmaid a silver bar pin set with brilliants, to the rostrum man and organist each a set of gold cutlery.

Mr. and Mrs. Hayward were the recipients of many beautiful wedding gifts, including silver, linen, glass, china and money.

SEEK TO SIDE-TRACK C. N. R. BRANCH LINES

Rapid Construction Impossible if Senate Amendment is Passed.

(Special Despatch to The Daily Gleaner.)

Ottawa, July 2.—While the Senate has been giving credit for backing up on its hostility to the Canadian National branch lines the trouble is not yet over, a new monkey wrench is to be thrown into the machinery at the last minute by Sir James Loughheed, who gives notice that he will move apropos of the bond guarantee that the amount so guaranteed shall first be included in the estimates and voted by Parliament for that purpose.

The effect of this will be to bedevil the bond issue. The National Railwayways plan a three year construction programme, so that work once started may be proceeded to completion.

A bond issue covering this period is proposed. Grave difficulties in financing are foreseen if the bonds, in place of being authorized at one time, are made contingent from year to year, the effect being to limit the amount of the annual voting of an estimate in Parliament.

It is said by opponents of the branch lines that the Loughheed amendment is almost certain to carry.

Lawn Bowling is Introduced Here

Lawn bowling was formally introduced into Fredericton on Dominion Day when the local branch of the G. W. V. A. staged their initial tournament in the morning on the green at Officers' Square. Interest in the game ran high and competition was keen, the winning of a trophy donated by ex-Ald. D. E. Crowe lending additional interest to the contest.

Six teams entered the tournament, which was conducted on the elimination basis. In the first round, playing five ends a game, the team skippered by Frank Barton qualified for the finals by defeating that skipped by Dr. Ray MacDibbon, 14-3. In the second round F. Faulkner's aggregation eliminated Edward Basque's line-up, 11-9, while W. W. MacCormac's coxter qualified also for the finals by defeating the team skippered by Eddie Colwell, 11-9.

In the first round of the finals Faulkner's all stars defeated Barton's team, 10-8, and went up against MacCormac's aggregation in the second round. At the end of the five ends both teams stood tied and an additional end was played with the score still tied. An additional end gave the championship to Faulkner's all stars, 10-9.

As highest individual scorer on the winning team Harry Lifford, with 14 points, won the Crowe trophy. C. W. Hawkins ran a close second for premier honors with 12 points. The following are the scores by games:

THE REPEAL OF THE M'KENNA DUTIES

Passed the British House of Commons Without Division.

London, July 1.—The House of Commons yesterday finally confirmed the repeal of the McKenna duties without division by the passage of the appropriation clause of the finance bill. William Graham, Secretary to the Treasury, said that according to the Government's information the prospective repeal had had no appreciable effect on unemployment.

The McKenna duties on foreign imports were inaugurated during the war and affected chiefly foreign films, motor cars, motor cycles, clocks, watches and musical instruments. Under the duties Canadian-made motor cars have enjoyed a substantial preference, the import rate being 22.29 per cent, as compared with a rate of 33 1/2 per cent. on United States cars. Under the Snowden budget as now finally adopted, the duties will be repealed on August 1st next.
