PERMANENT FORCE TO BE REDUCED.

It is about decided, says the Toronto World, to reduce the strength of the permanent militia corps from July 1st. When man enlists it is for three years, or a less period if Her Majesty does not require his services. It is expected that at least 250 men will be discharged at the end of the fiscal year, which, on an average of $400 each, a very moderate allowance when pay, rations, uniforms, and transport are taken into consideration, will mean a saving to the country of $100,000. This amount, added to the appropriation which may be specially voted, if expended in drilling the city and rural corps will, to a certain extent, remove the reproach that the volunteers are being "starved." It must not be forgotten, however, that the permanent corps were established with a definite object in view, viz., to serve as training schools for the officers of the active militia; it is held in the general interest of the force that the reduction of the permanent corps must not be too sweeping.

CONFESSING POVERTY.

Hon. G. E. Foster made a notable confession at Ottawa the other day to a delegation of Montreal gentlemen who interviewed him on their application for $250,000 in the construction of General Booth's exhibition in the latter city. Notwithstanding all the taxes the Tory government have levied on the people of Canada during the past sixteen years, the Finance Minister was obliged to admit that the government is hard up, and that the denial of grants to public works and the levying of new taxes has been forced on the country. Among other things he said: "We feel the financial times which are not the best by any means, and we are obliged this year to do two things which are distasteful—diminish the expenditure by $2,400,000, and, in the second place, to add some to taxation. The taxpayers feel that we must be careful how we expend because we make them pay some extra, and public works were denied to them. All that points to the argument that you come in a difficult year to ask for assistance. Some years ago we ceased to aid provincial exhibitions. The stringency was so great that we could not make an exhibit in Mexico, where there was a fair chance of making trade. So, that in the matter of ways and means, we find it very difficult to meet your request." Mr. Foster has since informed the delegation that the grant will not be given.

OPEN ALL THE WEEK.

Three Protestant churches in Boston have tried the plan of keeping open all the week, and continuing their good work each day. The plan seems to have resulted beneficially, and the promoters are encouraged to keep it up. One of these churches is Berkeley temple, and in a recent article in the Chicago Interior, Herbert D. Ward describes the work. This church is situated in a district of boarding houses, where people without real home conveniences are plentiful, and the field is a good one for the experiment. The church has two offices, two telephones, two lecture rooms and two reading rooms. One of the pastors, or his representative, is on hand all the time. Classes of every description, from sewing to theology, are held during the week. Every evening there is some entertainment going on to draw people into the building; in short, the church (except between ten at night and eight in the morning) belongs to all who wish to use it. There is a winter kitchen that supplies the hungry daily with hot rolls and hot coffee, a branch of the Associated Charities where reports are presented every week. Lessons in dressmaking, painting, stenography, French, German, elocution, bookkeeping, penmanship, grammar and arithmetic are given daily.

NEGOTIATIONS OFF.

It seems that negotiations for the entry of Newfoundland into the Canadian confederation have come to a standstill, and are not likely to be renewed at present. The ancient colony refuses the terms offered by the Dominion government, and the latter will not accept the basis proposed by the Newfoundland delegates. The particulars of Canada's offer and Newfoundland's demands, were laid before parliament by Mr. Foster, Thursday night, and the former may be summarized as follows: Canada to assume Newfoundland's public debt to the extent of $10,350,000; to pay the island an annual subsidy of $465,000; Canada to maintain all the services in Newfoundland, now under Dominion authority in the other provinces, and to grant $400,000 annually for a constabulary force in lieu of militia; Newfoundland to be represented in the Canadian senate by four members, and in the House of Commons by ten members. Supplementary terms offered by Canada, include offer of a subsidy of $6,000 per mile to complete Newfoundland's railway, and $35,000 annually to the subsidy, making the latter $500,000 a year.

ACCORDING TO THE DOCUMENTS WHICH HAVE SO FAR BEEN MADE PUBLIC, NEWFOUNDLAND INTENDED TO SPEND MONEY WITH A LAVISH HAND UNDER CONFEDERATION. THE TOTAL COST OF THE ADMISSION OF THE COLONY INTO CANADA, HAD THE ISLAND TERMS BEEN ADOPTED, WOULD HAVE BEEN $1,212,888. THIS IS MADE UP OF AN ANNUAL SUBSIDY OF $650,000 AND AN EXPENSE OF $862,888 IN CONNECTION WITH SERVICES TO BE ASSUMED BY THE DOMINION. THE SERVICES TO BE MAINTAINED BY THE ISLAND WERE ESTIMATED AT $835,794

FREDERICTON BRIDGE.

Public Accounts Committee take up the Matter—Mr. Temple, Mr. Edward Jack and others Testify.

At Ottawa yesterday, the public accounts committee took up the case of the Fredericton and St. Marys Bridge Co., which was ventilated a couple of weeks ago in the House. J. M. Courtney, deputy minister of finance, was the first witness. He testified that the interest due the government now amounted to $96,000, the only interest paid the Dominion government was the $15,000 held back by the government out of the $30,000 subsidy. The only means taken by the department to collect the interest was to write a great many letters to the secretary-treasurer of the bridge company. Mr. Courtney thought he called the attention of the Minister of Finance to the case. Mr. Temple, M. P., was put through a lengthy cross-examination by Sir Richard Cartwright. He proved a little bit difficult to handle. His evidence in effect was that the subscribed stock of the company was $200,000. The cost of the bridge was $419,000. The first call on the subscribers was 10 per cent. Mr. Temple paid $5,000 on the stock he held. Mr. McMullen gave Mr. Temple a rather hard question. According to Mr. Temple's admissions the Bridge Co. got $315,000 from the government; got $20,000 in paid-up stock, $50,000 on bonds issued and had $19,000 in floating debts. A total of $404,000. Mr. Temple claimed the company had sunk $105,000 of their own money in the bridge. This would bring the total receipts of the company up to $509,000. As the bridge cost only $419,000, Mr. McMullen wanted to know where the rest of the money went. Mr. Temple's reply was that the money went into the bridge. Edward Jack, of Fredericton, was called by Mr. Foster to testify to the value of the bridge as an asset of the Dominion. He pointed out that the bridge opened up a short route to the United States for the forest districts of the Miramichi. It was decided to summon Mayor Vanwart, the secretary-treasurer of the bridge company, to appear before the committee to give evidence in the case, and Mr. Gibson may also be called.

NOW IT IS SAID.

That the Manitoba School Middle will end in a Compromise.

"There is to be an amicable settlement of the Manitoba School difficulty," said a member of the House of Commons Monday morning to a press reporter. "The preliminary steps toward that end were taken some days ago at Ottawa, where Mr. Langevin, archbishop of St. Boniface, in company with Mr. Duhameau of Ottawa, and others, met at the residence of Sir A. P. Caron. The friendly intervention of Lord Aberdeen has been of great benefit," he added. "The delay of Mr. Langevin in returning to the Northwest, and his long stay in Ottawa, is for the purpose of coming to a settlement, as is also the visit of Premier Greenway and Attorney-General Sifton. At the time of the meeting of the Manitoba legislature on June 12, it is certain that some arrangements will be submitted and amendments to the present school laws will be introduced by the government itself as the result of the coming meeting in Ottawa. The concessions to be made on both sides, may be summarized as follows: The Manitoba government retains control of the inspection of schools, grants diplomas to teachers, and supervises the expenditure. A system of Catholic public schools will be created with the present curriculum of the public schools, with the addition of half an hour of religious instruction at the end of the class every day. Three Roman Catholics to be designated by the ecclesiastical authorities will be appointed to the school board. The Dominion government, on the other hand, will withdraw its Remedial Order. It is stated that this arrangement is equally agreeable to all parties. The Manitoba government succeeds in having the curriculum introduced into the Catholic schools, and obtains control over those schools, while the clergy succeeded in having separate Catholic schools with religious instruction. The admission made by Le Manitoba, the organ of the Manitoba clergy, that they are ready to discuss any proposal tending to arrange details, is taken as a confirmation of the above arrangement.

ST. ALBANS' BIG FIRE.

The Progress of the Flames Could Not be Stayed.

A big fire was started at St. Albans, Vermont, Sunday, by a woman engaged in heating her curling iron over a kerosene lamp, in the home of a French family near Fond's lumber yard. The lamp was exploded and scattered the flames over the carpet, which immediately caught fire. Before the fire was extinguished it had burned over seventy-five acres, sweeping away a heart of the business portion of the town, and destroying property valued at $750,000, and wiping out forty business places and one hundred tenements in three hours' time. Five hundred homeless people are sheltered in the churches and schools of the city. Before the home companies could reach the scene of the conflagration, the lumber sheds and store-houses were a mass of flames. A high wind prevailed at the time, and carried the blazing brands far to the north, setting many buildings half a mile away on fire. The flames spread with great rapidity, and a dozen buildings situated in different parts of the town were on fire at the same time. Many merchants lost their entire stock, and most of the families burned out saved nothing. The flames swept to the northward, crossed Lake street and began the work of destruction on Foundry street, near Kingman. The United States post office and custom house was located on this corner and a little further up Kingman, toward Main street, stood the establishment of Dr. J. A. Messer. The government buildings and the Messer blocks are in ruins. The fire destroyed every building on Kingman street and swept up to Goodman street, where it spread in both directions, destroying property valued at $100,000. Means and business blocks twenty yards distant on North Main street were burning and the east side of Foundry street was a mass of flames. Onward swept the fire, consuming tenement houses like tinder boxes, and driving their occupants out into the street, where they were compelled to stand and witness the destruction of their homes and worldly possessions. From Kingman street the fire crossed to Centre street, destroying every building on both sides of this thoroughfare. Hoyt street suffered a similar fate, and in less than an hour became a desolate waste. Still further to the north the work of destruction went on, burning houses fifty rods away from the blazing business blocks.
