The Crescent Picture Palace.

Commences the Week with a big 3 Reel War Feature,

"A HOUSE DIVIDED,"

A great war drama in 3 Reels, produced by the Bison Biograph Company. This picture is pronounced one of the best war pictures of the year.

"AN UP-TO-DATE MEDICAL DOCTOR"—A clever comedy reel. Two burglars, knowing the doctor is called away, play the doctor themselves. How they victimize the patients is very laughable.
"GOING FOR FATHER"—An Eclair comedy. Father is enjoying himself in a cabaret. All the family go for him in turn, and when grandma hears the music she makes the hit of her life.
FREDERICK KNIGHTS, Baritone, sings a popular song—something different from his previous selections.

India's Loyal Princes.

NO LACK OF MEN, AND MANY LACS OF RUPEES.

The Kaiser, it is said, counted upon an uprising of India's forces when he declared war against Great Britain, for had his spies not told him that the natives were seething with discontent against British rule? Never was a monarch more woefully misled and mistaken, for with one accord the rulers of the native States in India, his sixteen-year-old grandson, Sir Pertab is one of the most popular rulers in India, and for many years was an intimate friend of Queen Victoria, to whom he wrote constantly, giving her his views upon current Indian affairs of importance.

The Maharajah of Baroda, who has placed his troops and resources at the disposal of the British Government, is one of the most powerful of Indian rulers, as well as one of the wealthiest. His forefathers fought against us in the Indian Mutiny, but the Maharajah is proud and eager to be on our side to-day. He rules over a State larger than Wales, and has an income which is said to be more than £2,000,000 a year.

Another familiar Prince is the Maharajah of Mysore, who has placed fifty lacs of rupees (about £30,000) at the disposal of the Indian Government for expenditure in connection with an Expeditionary Force. His State contains nearly 6,000,000 Hindus, who contribute the flower of our Indian Army, and he is one of those Indian rulers entitled to the imperial salute of twenty-one guns.

The Maharajah of Gwalior, in addition to sharing the expenses of the hospital ship, the idea of which originated with himself and the Begum of Bhopal, has offered to place large sums of money at the disposal of the Government of India and to provide horses as remounts.

This Indian Prince, however, has in the past given many evidences of his loyalty and generosity. It was he who gave £2,000 to King George to be distributed among charitable institutions in commemoration of the Coronation. He accompanied the British Expedition to China eleven years ago, and presented on that occasion a hospital ship for the accommodation of the wounded. He is one of the most energetic and enlightened rulers of India.

Mention of the Begum of Bhopal recalls a visit which she paid to this country two or three years ago, when she was presented to King George and Queen Mary. She reigns over a territory of 7,000 square miles, consisting of about 1,000,000 inhabitants. She is an extremely accomplished woman, with an intense admiration for all things English, and is beloved by all her subjects.

Another potent ruler is the Maharajah of Patiala, who is also on his way to the front. Patiala has a splendid record of loyalty behind it, for in 1857, when practically the whole of Hindustan had revolted against the British, and the Sikhs were wavering, the Rajah of that day, with only one attendant, rode into the nearest British station and placed at the disposal of the Government not only his fighting men but the whole of his treasury.—Til Bits.

Have You an Itchy Spot?

Somewhere on your body? If so, attend to it at once. In eczema—and itchy spots, whether dry and scurfy, or moist and inclined to "weep," are generally eczematous—delays are foolish, allowing the disease to spread and affect more of the good skin. Your best chance for a cure is to use Zylex, which will give almost instant relief, and if used in the earlier stages of the trouble will almost certainly bring a cure, and in any event will greatly ameliorate the trouble. Ask your druggist about it. Price 50c. a box. Zylex Soap, 25c. a cake.

The Armies

of England, France, Germany and Russia are not permitted to use a pound of alum baking powder. The efficiency of the soldiers depends too much upon their health and endurance to risk the use of food which the authorities believe would be detrimental. Therefore the manufacture and sale of the alum powder is prohibited.

Royal Baking Powder is extensively used privately and by the military forces throughout the world. Its absolute wholesomeness, imparting as it does, healthful as well as appetizing qualities to the food, and its perfect keeping qualities in every climate and under different conditions, make it particularly desirable for all conditions of use.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

SIR PERCY SCOTT

On Submarines and Battleships.

"The functions of a vessel of war were:

(1) To attack ships that come to bombard our ports.

(2) To attack ships that come to blockade us.

(3) To attack ships conveying a landing party.

(4) To attack the enemy's fleet.

"The submarine renders 1, 2 and 3 impossible, as no man of war will dare to come even within sight of a coast that is adequately protected by submarines; therefore the functions of a battleship as regards 1, 2 and 3 both defensively and offensively, have disappeared.

"The fourth function of a battleship is to attack an enemy's fleet; but there will be no fleet to attack, as it will not be safe for a fleet to put to sea. This has been demonstrated in all recent manoeuvres both at home and abroad, where submarines have been employed, and the demonstration should have made us realize that, now that submarines have come on, battleships are of no use either for offensive or defensive purposes; and, consequently, building any more in 1914 will be a misuse of money subscribed by the citizens for the defence of the Empire.

"In war time the scouting aeroplanes will always be high above on the lookout, and the submarines in constant readiness as are the engines of a fire station. If an enemy is sighted the siren sounds, and the launch of a flotilla of submarines will be slipped. Whether it be night or day, fine or rough, they must go out to search for their quarry—if they find her she is doomed, and they give no quarter; they cannot board her and take her as a prize, as in the olden days; they only wait until she sinks, then return home without even knowing the number of human beings that they have sent to the bottom of the ocean. Will any battleship expose herself to such a dread certainty of destruction? I say, No."

When serving any kind of hard fruit, pour over a little boiling water instead of cold; the fruit will cook in half the time, and so save gas. If the sugar is added when the fruit is cold, much less sugar will be required.

Mention should also be made of the Maharajah of Patiala, who is also on his way to the front. Patiala has a splendid record of loyalty behind it, for in 1857, when practically the whole of Hindustan had revolted against the British, and the Sikhs were wavering, the Rajah of that day, with only one attendant, rode into the nearest British station and placed at the disposal of the Government not only his fighting men but the whole of his treasury.—Til Bits.

Somebody in your family has an obstinate cough or a bad throat or chest cold that has been hanging on and refuses to yield to treatment, get from any drug store 2½ ounces of Pinex and make it into 16 ounces of cough syrup, and watch that cough vanish.

Pour the 2½ ounces Pinex (50 cents worth) into a 16-ounce bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. The total cost is about 64 cents, and gives you 16 ounces—a family supply—if it is used as directed. A splendid remedy for bronchitis, winter coughs, bronchial catarrh and whooping cough.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, rich in gualacol, which is so healing to the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for 2½ ounces of Pinex, and do not accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction goes with this extract, or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

Redmond Asks Reconciliation Over Home Rule.

London, Oct. 5.—John E. Redmond, the Irish leader, in making recruiting speeches at Westford yesterday, eloquently appealed for a reconciliation on the Home Rule question. He said:

"I will meet Andrew Bonar Law (the Opposition leader in Parliament) by gentleness and by reason. I pray with all my heart and soul that out of this terrible war one blessed result will come for Ireland and that is that as Irishmen go on fighting side by side, Catholics by Protestants and north of Ireland Irish by south of Ireland Irishmen, it may prove to be a sign of the future unity of our Irish nation.

"German domination would mean the loss of all the liberties we have won. I will put it quite plainly, as General Botha (the South African Premier) did in his speech. Are you for Britain and her colonies or are you on the side of Germany?"

"Believe me, we cannot remain aloof. The war has come upon us and we must make our choice. The only choice of honor, of safety, and of statesmanship is to defend the Empire's liberties against their declared enemy."

Whipping Austria. By GEORGE FITCH, Author of "At Good Old Slwash."

Whipping Austria has been the pastime of European nations for one thousand years. No country stands so low in the International Cannonball League, France, Italy, Sardinia, Prussia, Spain, Turkey and the Netherlands have all beaten it in the last two centuries. It has been the hoodoo of nations. Whenever it has allied itself with its neighbours, the war has failed. When it has stood on the side lines the allies have won and have divided the spoils.

Napoleon took delight in fighting Austria. It rested and refreshed him after his severer battles. He changed the map of Austria so often that the map makers issued extras like yellow journals and he helped himself to 90,000,000 florins and a new queen at one swoop. France and Sardinia beat it in 1859. Prussia whipped it in a practice war in 1866 before tackling France. From the Dark Ages to the middle of the last century the sound of pain and anger in the European concert meant that someone was taking something away from Austria.

And yet Austria is larger than ever. This is partly because whenever a slice of territory was carved off by one nation several other jealous nations made it give up another slice in exchange. No nation could afford to let any other nation grab too much. And so Austria throughout history has been a depository for territory which no one else wanted at the time. It has owned Italy, Holland, Alsace, Servia, Bavaria and Switzerland at one time or another—until someone else needed them.

If Austria loses again it will go on the operating table once more, while Italy, Servia and Russia stand over it and mark out upon the unhappy patient the parts they desire to slice off. If Austria wins, she may get back Servia, Montenegro and Venice. But win or lose, her map will be changed. It always is. An unbroken precedent requires that a treaty of peace in Europe must be accomplished by a revision of Austria to make the balance of power hang true.

To make potato soup take a dry, clean goblet, and put into it 1½ ounces salt butter. When it melts a little add two Spanish onions, pared and cut down. Stir onions and butter, but do not allow onions to brown. When they have stewed in this way for ten minutes, add boiling water, sufficient for soup. Have, then, a dozen potatoes pared and cut very thin, and put these in also. Boil for two or three hours.

The Unhappy Warrior.

I'm not a Happy Warrior; I don't find scrapping pleasant, and no one could be sorer when I find trouble present. I do not think it glorious or sporting to ride, and rant around, demanding someone's hide. I'm fond of peace and quiet, I hope to spend my life, afar from mixups, riots, afar from foolish strife. I'd do my stunt laborious, and draw my humble wage, and those who think war glorious may grind their swords and rage. I'd spend my lifetime happily, good friends with men and kings; alas, some neighbors, scurrilously insist on mixing things. Because I treat them smilingly they think I have no spunk; I greet them so beguilingly they climb upon my trunk. They'd fain assault and batter me, because it's safe, they say, they'd punch my head and scatter me to make a holiday. And then I sweat them mightily, and lacerate their hair, and black their eyes so vitally they wish they were not there. (War's garments are not wearable, while peace remains in sight; but, gee wha, I am terrible, if folks must have a fight! Some countries are like me, I guess, they seem so meek and mild, until you prod them—then, I guess you'll see them running wild.)
