That Sunday Feeling.

By RUTH CAMERON.

RUTH CAMERON.

We were sitting on the verandah in the twilight one Sunday evening not long ago. Inside the house some one was softly touching the keys of the piano.

The music paused for a moment and one of the group, a young woman who had recently been married, said thoughtfully, "Now, I know I am really happily married."

"Why?" we asked.

"Because I can sit here in the twilight listening to music and not feel sad, and on Sunday, too. Why, there used to be a time when just that Sunday feeling itself made me depressed and unhappy."

"That Sunday feeling!" Doesn't the phrase arouse an echo of understanding in your heart?

Those Long, Tedious Afternoons Of Childhood.

It brings back to me long, tedious Sunday afternoons in my childhood, when toys were put away, and too much time and too little to do made a deadly and wearisome combination.

It brings me pictures of streets with people in their Sunday best parading up and down them, and myself obsessed by a strange distaste for my kind.

There is a saying that we Americans keep Sunday, while the Continentals spend it. There is some meat in that.

I Would Not For Worlds Advocate Laziness.

I know the good people who think our observance of Sunday is altogether too lax already will lift up their hands in horror at this.

One moment: I would not think that these things are incompatible with happiness and normal living.

My ideal Sunday is this—attendance in any church where you can best get the feeling of peace and worship; after that outdoors and sunshine (especially if you are shut up in an office on week-days), and communion with congenial friends and music.

Music Gives Us The Want-To-Be Good Feeling.

Beautiful music is the essence of the true Sunday spirit.

One Sunday afternoon stands out from all the rest in my childhood. I spent it with a family who had advanced ideas. For the first few hours, children and grown-ups joined in a wonderful game of hide and seek all over the big yard and in the barn. Then, the whole family gathered in the big living room and we had an hour of music. We listened to classical music, sang hymns and some of the best of the old folk songs.

I went home, tired, sleepy and happy, and full of that longing for something better and more beautiful in my life that music always gives.

Was that a well-spent Sunday, or not?

What Are You Doing for that Eczema?

"Nothing; I've about given up trying to cure it."

"That is not wise. Do as I did and you will probably be cured in a short time. I used Zylex and Zylex Soap with it and my Eczema began to improve at once. A couple of boxes cured. You can get Zylex at your druggists."
