The First English Glass Makers.

The recent announcement of the laying of the foundation stone of Messrs. James Powell and Sons, Ltd., new glass works at Walsby, Harrow, reminds us that before the year 1857 all the glass used in England for windows and the great majority of glass utensils, was imported into the country from Lorraine and the Low Countries, but on September 4, 1857, Cecil, with Queen Elizabeth's full approval, granted a licence to two Dutchmen for twenty-one years, giving them power to erect furnaces, houses, etc., and manufacture glass. John Care, the senior partner, appears to have sent two deputies over to England, and they decided to erect the glass houses in Sussex. Among the State papers and correspondence of the time we find a letter to Cecil, complaining bitterly that others were allowed the same privileges as the first patentees, John Care wrote: "I have erected two glass houses at Tarnel and one in London, also I have brought over workmen at my own great cost, and to the benefit of this kingdom, yet I hear that another is likely to have the privilege of making glass, which will ruin me, and moreover prevent me from paying my men what I owe you." For the two Dutchmen had agreed to pay duty on every case of glass that they produced, and also to take so many English apprentices every year, in order that they might learn the trade. When Elizabeth heard of this letter she prohibited both the manufacture of glass by any other person, and also the importation of it into England. Some years later the people began to assemble at the monopoly held by these foreigners and a Bill was drafted, prohibiting any glass worker from carrying on the trade, unless he employed one Englishman to every two foreigners; but this Bill was never passed. The art of glass making became familiar to many Englishmen, and a year after the patent granted to Anthony Beer and John Care had expired, there were fifteen glass factories in the southern counties.

USE YOUR HEAD.

A woodpecker pecks out a great many specks of savidist. When building a hut. He works like a nigger. To make the hole bigger. He's sore if. His cutter won't cut. He don't bother with plans Of cheap artisans. But there's one thing Can rightly be said: The whole excavation Has this explanation: He builds it. By using his head.

So use your head when you require a good tonic and nerve builder by taking Bick's Tasteless Cod Liver Oil. Price $1.50 bottles. Postage 25c. extra.

Training for Athletic Meet.

St. George's Field has been placed at the service of the team of local athletes who will attend the Halifax meet, and they are now undergoing a strict course of training. They are being directed by Messrs. S. C. Culkin and E. J. Goodland. The local men will be in competition with some of Canada's best amateur athletes, and it is confidently expected, judging by the time made at various Canadian sporting meets, that our sprinters will easily hold their own and carry off the trophies. J. Bell, our local 10 mile champion, is also undergoing a special course of training, and will likely be leaving here with his trainer on the 11th in order to get in some practice on the Nova Scotia track. In the meantime, Bell will take a week's rest before going up. A manager and trainer will be selected shortly to accompany the team. Whilst engaged at stride work last evening with Messrs. Skirving, Butler and Phelan, Mr. E. Culkin injured his leg, as a result of which he will be unable to help in sprinting practices, but will not be handicapped in his training exercises.

Here and There.

The newest in Knitting and Crochet Instruction Books are now ready for sale at BISHOP'S.

Don't forget Caplin Bay Garden Party, Sept. 4th. Everybody welcome. Good time assured.

FOOTBALL.—St. George's Field, this Saturday evening at 8.45 sharp, St. John's West vs. St. John's East. General admission 10c. Ladies free. Grand Stand 10c. extra.—Sept. 11.

TRAIN DERAILLED.—Last night's local train did not arrive in the city until 11 o'clock, the delay being caused by several cars of a freight train, which left here at 7 p.m. being derailed near Tuleville siding. A gag of men, after a few hours' hard work replaced the cars on the track.

C. C. C. Band Dance (by permission O.C.), C. C. C. Hall, Tuesday next, Sept. 6th (eve whole holiday). Music by full Band. All latest hits. Tickets Ladies, 50c; Gent's, $1.20; Double, $1.50.—Sept. 11.

SALVING THE HUNTLEY.—Divers under the direction of Mr. H. J. Taylor, commenced the work of salvaging the wrecked schooner Huntley today. Last week her topmasts, masts, gaffs, booms, etc., were removed by a gang of men under Mr. Fred H. Ellis, assisted by the tug Hero. Now it comes to the divers' end of the salvage operations.

There was quite a commotion in BISHOP'S Showroom this morning, where there was a sale of Manufacturer's Samples in Ladies' Neckwear. Three and four dollar Lace Collars and Sets were sold for only ninety-eight cents each, and some of the Neckwear was as low as twenty-nine and forty-nine cents. It looks as if the whole line will be cleared out today.

Down With the Prices.

The Longshoremans have done their share towards the work of reducing the cost of living. Now it is up to the Truckmen, the Coal and Flour Dealers and the Hard Bread Makers. Let the truckmen reduce their cartage from the war time charges and we shall get cheaper meat.

The Farmers, especially those who supply milk, should reduce their war prices for this commodity and not have milk as dear as Port Wine. Feeds are now nearly 100 per cent. lower than a year ago. There is no argument in favor of keeping up prices of milk and vegetables.

The Longshoremans have away to help get the cost of living down for the poor people and the truckmen and farmers should follow. Flour is down 25 per cent. below the quotations of a year ago, therefore, it is only reasonable to expect that Messrs. Harvey & Co., and G. Brownie & Sons will reduce the price of their bread accordingly, and other dealers should follow more closely the four declines in Canada.

"Down with the prices" should be the slogan for the fall. The whole population was glad when the Longshoremans agreed to accept reduced wages. The best way to appreciate their action is to follow their example, especially in the case of cartage charges, flour and coal prices, ships inward freights and the price of hard bread. Flour was reduced six to seven cents this week and other commodities will have to follow.—Trade Review.

This Saturday night will see the biggest values given in Men's Shirts since Newfoundland has been Newfoundland. BISHOP'S have just received a part forced sale stock of one of New York's best makers, the balance going to a large Boston department store. They are selling here for one dollar seventy to two dollars and eighty each.
