THE WEATHER.
Toronto, Ont., April 27—11 p.m.—Since last night the storm center has moved northward from Nebraska to the northward of Lake Superior. The area of high pressure has moved from the lake region to the Atlantic, and another high area has set in over the Northwest Territories. A northwest blizzard has prevailed in Alberta since yesterday, and now extends as far east as Manitoba. The weather has been cloudy, with light local rains in Ontario and fine east.

Minimum and maximum temperatures: Toronto, 36°—52°; Montreal, 30°—54°; Quebec, 30°—54°; Halifax, 34°—50°.

TO-DAY'S PROBABILITIES.
Toronto, April 28—1 a.m.—The indications for the next 24 hours for the lower lakes region (covering the peninsula and as far east as Belleville) are: Strong winds and gales southwest to northwest; partly fair and warm, with local showers of thunder storms, turning cooler to-night and to-morrow.

Dr. Burgess' Good Work.
With good buildings, a medical superintendent like Dr. Burgess, of high reputation, whose skill has already been shown in the record of the hospital, and the drag of the existing debt removed, there is every reason to expect that the hospital for the insane will enter upon a career of enlarged success and will receive the support of a generous public, of which past liberality has been the promise.

(Montreal Gazette). The doctor was formerly on the staff of the London Asylum for the Insane. His many friends here will rejoice in his success.

A Prince of Prestidigitateurs.
Herrmann has been drawing big houses in Toronto this week. Says Tuesday's Globe: "Many prestidigitateurs of inconspicuous ability have appeared before Toronto audiences, and their tricks, always drawn a big house, made up of the best of the city can offer. And this was just the sort and condition of the large audience that greeted him at the Grand Opera House last evening. A great many of them had no doubt seen Herrmann before, but they appreciated him none the less for that. They were going through and seen through so often that it is now difficult to muster a corporal's guard when they make their appearance. But with the fascinating Herrmann it is all very different. This prince of prestidigitateurs, in his inimitable, inconceivable, forlornly brave, always draws a big house, made up of the best of the city can offer. A great many of them had no doubt seen Herrmann before, but they appreciated him none the less for that. They were going through and seen through so often that it is now difficult to muster a corporal's guard when they make their appearance. But with the fascinating Herrmann it is all very different. This prince of prestidigitateurs, in his inimitable, inconceivable, forlornly brave, always draws a big house, made up of the best of the city can offer. And this was just the sort and condition of the large audience that greeted him at the Grand Opera House last evening.
