DREADFUL DISASTER.

Great Loss of Life and Property.

WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 8.—Several startling explosions in quick succession at 3:30 p.m. announced a disaster at the Dupont Powder Works, on the Brandywine, seven miles from here. One of the magazines went off first, and the rolling and drying mills were immediately afterward destroyed. There were at least seven successive explosions. Every dwelling in the neighborheod is reported wrecked or unroofed and buildings within a radius of half a mile are damaged. Following is a partial list of fire. It was a matter of life and death to the whole population that this fire should be extinguished before it communicated with the powder the building contained. Taking their lives in their hands, the Dupont fire brigade fought the flames, which had caught the roof. It was touch and go between success and destruction, but the firemen won. Had the roof failen it, it is doubtful if any man, woman or child in the vicinity would have escaped death or serious injury. About 59 families are rendered homeless by the disaster.

THE DAMAGE.

The Dupont Powder Mills extend along the Brandywine, chiefly on the west bank and close to the water for about two miles. There are some 50 buildings clustered around what is known locally as the "upper yard." These were inhabited by the employes of the powder mills clustered here, and they are all wrecked. The damage to property cannot now be thoroughly estimated. The force of the concussion broke windows in some parts of Wilmington four or five miles away. The office of the Dupont company is a complete wreck, and six mills are in ruins. Several members of the Dupont firm were injured, but none seriously.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. S.—The news telegraphed from Salt Lake City to the effect that the Mormon Church has officially announced that it has abandoned polygamy is received with some credulity, especially in view of the fact that the Government has just been officially informed that 200 proselytes of the Mormon Church, including a large number of young women in the charge of Mormon elders have recently arrived in New York and started for Salt Lake City with the avowed purpose of entering into polygamous marriages with members of the church.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., Oct. S.—During Monday's storm, the schooner Mary Jane, halling from this port, was wrecked off North Beach, Jourmain Island, near Cape Tormentine. Men from the Cape tried to reach the ill-fated schooner, but failed in every effort to rescue the poor sailors whom they could see clinging to the vessel's rigging. Yesterday morning they succeeded in boarding the schooner, but found that all were drowned. A man's body was found on the beach near by, and on him a card addressed "Franklin, seaman, Wallace, N. S." Four more bodies have been recovered.

Aimed at England and Canada.

London, Oct. 8.—Right Hon. Stanhope, Secretary of War, referring to the new United States tariff, said he believed it was directed largely against England and Canada and that it would do Canada serious injury. The working classes in England would suffer to a large extent, but the greater injury would be done to the Americans themselves. It behooved the Government to find fresh outlets for British capital.

The Rothschilds as Landowners. The Rothschilds as Landowners.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The notion that the Jews are unpopular because they are never landowners is exploded in Buckinghamshire, where the Rothschilds own a large portion of the land in the county, where they have all built or are building very magnificent residences. At one of these residences Leopold de Rothchilds is just unveiling a superb renaissance fountain in many colored marbles, the finest of the kind in England, which he has set up in the center of his garden. An Envoy of Peace and Hope.
London, Oct. 8.—John Morley delivered an address at Swindon last night. Replying to criticisms on his recent speech at St. Helens, he ridiculed the idea that because he had been a Cabinet Minister he should blindfol himself to affairs in Ireland. He said what pleased him more than being a Minister was being an envoy of peace and hope from the democracy of England to the democracy of Ireland. Every word he had told Englishmen about happenings in Ireland was true, and he was glad to have helped in the expose of the magisterial authorities. Whether rightly or wrongly, the government of Ireland was a personal government. The Ministers responsible ought to be in constant touch with the agents. He blamed the Ministers for the condition of the estimes court in Tipperary. After describing the distress in the congested districts of Ireland, Mr. Morley suggested that a remedy was available by renewing the proposals as to the Irish Land Bill made in 1886, and inviting the co-operation of the Irish landlords.

London, Oct. 8.—Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, president of the Board of Trade, speaking at Gloucester yesterday, described Mr. Morley's statements regarding his experience in Ireland as "a traveler's tale." The Government had taken measures to prevent any extended suffering on account of the Iallure of crops, and was willing to accept any suggestion made in good faith from all quarters for the promotion of comfort and peace among the poor in the land. In his opinion the problem must be solved by helping the seeple to save themselves. Right Hon. Stanhope, Secretary for War, made a speech at Horneastle in a similar strain. He declared the alleged famine in Ireland only existed in the imagination of the Parnellite leaders and American anglers for the Irish vote.

Goderich, Oct. 6.—The assizes opened, here this afternoon, Hon. Mr. Justice MacMahom presiding. The civil docket contains fifteen cases, but the criminal calendar is very light. Mr. Colter, of Cayuga, will conduct the Crown business.

Hodgins vs. Tierney was postponed until next Assizes. Coleman vs. Johnston, settled out of court. Dancey vs. G. T. R., was an action brought by the harbor master at Goderich, against the G. T. R. to recover damages for ejecting him from one of their trains on the 6th inst. Plaintiff purchased a return ticket, Goderich to Sarnia, on the day in question, and traveled from Goderich to Sarnia on his tract, and on Sept. 6 started on his return trip. The conductor took ap his ticket, and in return gave him a check for it. Before reaching Lucan the condetion told the plaintiff that the next statis was the one he would require to get off at and change cars, but plaintiff says the cars did not stop at Lucan Crossing, where he should take the train for Goderich, and consequently he remained on the train, intending to return to Goderich, and consequently he remained on the train, intending to return to Goderich, and consequently he remained on the train, intending to return to Goderich, and consequently he remained on the train, intending to return to Goderich by Stratford. After the train left Lucan, which is two miles east of Lucan crossing, the conductor came round and told plaintiff he should have got off at Lucan. Plaintiff said he was going home by Stratford. The conductor then told plaintiff he would have to pay the fare from Lucan to Stratford, 85 cents or get off the train. Plaintiff refused to get off, and he alleges he was forcibly ejected from the train, that more force was used than was necessary, and says that his left shoulder was severely injured when he was thrown off the steps of the car.
