

WOMEN and THE HOME

SEVERAL WOMEN ARE NAMED AMONG RETURNING OFFICERS

Act For First Time As Deputies in a Federal Election.

FIVE APPOINTED

This month, for the first time in the history of London, women will act as deputy returning officers at a federal election. Hitherto when the polling booths have opened on the morning of a Dominion election, it has been men who have taken the place of authority in the various subdivisions of the city.

Ten years ago women were granted the franchise in Canada and that they should now begin to assume positions of authority in the conduct of an election is only natural. Already London women have acted as deputy returning officers in municipal elections in the provincial election of six years ago. This month for the first time they act in a federal election.

Gordon Tennent, chief returning officer of the riding, has thought fit to include them in his list of deputies, naming Miss Christine McIntosh, King street; Mrs. Rebecca McNeil, John street; Mrs. Mary Neil, Gray street; Miss Anna McInnis, Adelaide street; and Miss Elizabeth Bird, Dufferin avenue.

Study Instruction Book. Both Miss Bird and Mrs. McNeil have had previous experience as deputy returning officers and have always found the work exceedingly interesting. The other three are spending much time studying the instruction book. Their first experience as returning officers came the other day when they were sworn in at the chief returning officer's office. Both Miss McInnis and Mrs. Neil found it quite thrilling.

"It's the first time I've ever been sworn," says Miss McInnis, and Mrs. Neil admits that she, too, was taking her maiden oath. And now they are earnestly learning how to swear others, if necessary, at the coming election.

Miss McIntosh did not find the taking of an oath a new experience. In her capacity as division clerk following the death of her father, the late J. W. McIntosh, she has administered far more oaths than she has ever sworn, and they have been not a few.

Her chief worry is the possibility that she may have to arrest some would-be impersonator on election day, for as returning officer she will have that power. Although she hopes such a contingency will not arise, she is prepared to put the law in force, should it be necessary.

Able To Carry Ballot Box? Miss McInnis has been told that the ballot boxes will be distributed just before election day and that she must have a man or boy on hand to carry it home for her. Those who know her in her capacity as a successful truck gardener, who is able to do the actual work in her garden, as well as direct, will not wonder that she feels capable of carrying her own ballot box.

Miss McInnis thinks selecting a polling booth is just as much fun as house hunting, and that a woman is a good one to put at the job. She has already secured her own voting place and is proud of her choice.

Mrs. McNeil is quite an old hand at the work of deputy returning officer, having acted in the provincial election of six years ago and frequently at municipal elections.

Her observation has been that women are ever showing an increasing interest in elections; and that at each election they come out in larger numbers to cast their vote.

Indeed, Mrs. McNeil has been interested enough in the question to keep a record of the number of women who have voted in her subdivision.

Women Voters Increase. At the last municipal election, she says, three-quarters of the women on the voting list in her district polled their vote. And at the time there has been a great increase in the number of women exercising the franchise since the provincial election of six years ago.

At the time of the referendum on the O. T. A. there were three women returning officers, one of whom was Mrs. McNeil.

Mrs. McNeil believes that it is the duty of the returning officer to make the voters feel at home. Everything must be businesslike and quiet in the booth of course, but the voters, especially the new voters, must be made to feel at ease so that they will want to come out and vote.

In addition to women returning officers, there will be a number of women among the poll clerks and candidates' agents at the coming election, according to Mr. Tennent, chief returning officer.

Whether it is because they are new at it, or whether it is because of their disposition, women seem to take such positions of authority much more seriously than men. Perhaps they need to take them seriously because they have so much to learn.

OPENS NEGOTIATIONS. Associated Press Despatch. Brussels, Belgium, Oct. 8.—The Belgian government has opened negotiations with the United States for an agreement similar to those concluded by the Washington conference, but the countries, extending the zone of search for contraband liquor to an hour's sailing distance from shore. In return, Belgian ships would be granted permission to carry liquor stores under seal into United States ports.

WEDDINGS

MOFFATT-McKAY.

Embro, Oct. 8.—A very pretty autumn wedding took place at the Knox United church on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Pretty decorations were carried out with flowers in season. It was the occasion of the marriage of Miss Anna McKay, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Graham McKay, to Mr. Robert L. Moffatt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Moffatt, of Ingersoll. Rev. W. P. Lane officiated.

To the strains of the wedding march, played by Mrs. R. M. Ross, the bride entered the church on the arm of her brother, Mr. E. C. McKay, and took her place beside the groom. Her smart gown was of black silk georgette, with velvet hat to match and also gloves, shoes and hose. She wore a lovely cocoa colored coat with opossom fur trimmings, and carried a beautiful bouquet of Ophelia roses. Her bridesmaid was a little flower girl, Miss Jean Sutherland of London, niece of the bride, who was prettily frocked in jade-green georgette.

After the ceremony the young couple left amid showers of confetti and good wishes for a motor trip to Toronto and points east. On their return they will reside in Ingersoll. They received many handsome and costly presents.

STEWART-RUSSELL. Stratford, Oct. 8.—A very pretty autumn wedding was solemnized at Trinity United church yesterday, with only the immediate relatives present, when Hazel Kathleen Russell, College street, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Joseph Stewart, Dufferin street.

The wedding march was played by Miss Reg. Swanson, as the bride entered the church on the arm of her father. The bridesmaid was Miss Isabel McKinnis. The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Mr. Hubert Stewart. Rev. S. J. Kelly, a former pastor, now of Vineland, officiated. They will reside in Stratford.

MODELAND-SILLING. Seaford, Oct. 8.—Northside United parsonage was the scene of a pretty wedding on Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 8, at 2 o'clock, when Sarah Ellen, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Silling, became the bride of Mr. John W. Modeland, only son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Modeland, Edmondville. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. R. Fulton, Irwin.

The bride, who was unattended, looked charming in an ensemble suit of sand tulle and tulle, accented with white and blue. Her shoes and hose and crabsaple shade hat and scarf. Her flowers were a corsage bouquet of Ophelia roses and lilies of the valley.

After the wedding, the bridal couple left on the afternoon train for Buffalo and points east. On their return they will reside in Edmondville.

SUMNER-NICOL. A quiet marriage was solemnized at St. Andrew's United church on Monday at 11:30 o'clock this morning, when Miss Mary Helen Nicol, daughter of Mr. John Nicol, became the bride of Mr. Reginald E. Sumner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Sumner. Rev. Dr. D. C. MacGregor performed the ceremony.

The bride was smartly attired in a coat dress of brown satin back crepe trimmed with fur, and at the throat was a rose carnation. An Isabel fox fur, small velvet and silk hat, shoes and hose to match completed the costume. Her flowers were a corsage of roses.

Miss Margaret Nicol attended her sister. She wore a pretty brown crepe gown and hat to match. Mr. Frank Sumner attended his brother.

Following the ceremony the bride and groom left immediately for the noon train for Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal, for the former carrying a Hudson seal coat for travelling. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Sumner will reside in the city.

GIRLS' CANADIAN CLUB WILL HAVE BUSY SEASON. Membership Limited to 40 — Program of Lectures Is Mapped Out.

The original constitution of the Girls' Canadian club was amended at an interesting supper meeting of the organization at Lennoxville last evening, over which Miss Sophie Porter presided. The decision arose over the necessity to make several alterations in the plans of the club to bring it more up to date.

The membership of the club is to be limited to 40, and that number has almost been reached for this year. The program was mapped out for lectures from the extension department of the University of Western Ontario to be given on the third Wednesday each month, and the third Wednesday Mrs. Freida Stephens will take the meeting, reviewing books by Canadian authors.

It has been agreed that two social evenings will be held during the club season, but as yet the dates have not been set. Further arrangements were also made for the rummage sale to be held on Oct. 23, the sums to be used for the benefit of the club.

Miss Helen Nicol, one of today's brides, entertained at a small trolley tea at her home on William street, on Tuesday evening. Miss Helen Hodgins attended the door. Miss Madeline Watson poured out tea at a table covered with a Honiton lace and cutwork cloth and centered with pink roses, and she was assisted in the dining-room by Miss Mabel Siddall and Miss Margaret Nicol. The bride's pretty trousseau and gifts were shown by Miss Beth Bailey, Mrs. Ira Sumner and Mrs. Frank Sumner.

Mrs. W. Courtis was the hostess of this month's meeting of the London Alma Daughters, entertaining the members at her home on Worley road. Many of the members were present to enjoy the evening, and Mrs. A. A. Affleck presided over a short business session, when it was planned to have a bridge to aid the funds of the organization at the home of Mrs. Walters, Regent street, on the evening of Thursday, October 15.

Mrs. Leslie Hawk and Mrs. George Wendall are the conveners. Mrs. Courtis arranged a charming program for her guests, inviting a number of outsiders to contribute to it. Miss Dicks, accompanied by Miss Merlyn Pococke contributed vocal solos; Mrs. Jane Elson, reading, and Mr. Hancock, singing and Billy Young, orchestral numbers.

The Tip Top Twenty club spent a most enjoyable evening recently moving to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brown, Glendale. The evening was spent happily in progressive euchre, Miss Gladys Brown and Mr. Gordon Southcott winning first prizes. Covers were laid for twenty-eight, winning for lone hands, and Mr. Jack Eggett and Mrs. Gordon Southcott being awarded the consolation prizes.

The assembly hall at the University of Western Ontario was the rendezvous for a motley but interesting group when the senior year of the arts faculty entertained at a hard-times party. Students, men and women, all arrived in time to witness a number of which were cleverly conceived. It was an auspicious moment indeed when prizes for best costumes were awarded, the "best" costumes being those of the "best" costumes. Penalties were similarly awarded those who refused to dress up. An interesting evening of games and stunts followed, and a marshall-feeding stung, exact details of which might well be left to the imagination. The evening was a success, and featured winners, rolls, coffee and doughnuts, typical hard times refreshments. Dr. and Mrs. Ira O. Wade, the honorary president of the year, and his wife, acted as chapter men, while the life of the party was found in the energetic committee, including the president, Miss Louise Durand, vice-president, Miss Mildred Keenleyside, secretary, and Mr. Cecil Sharpe, treasurer. Miss Helen Nicol and Miss Kathleen Richardson, vice-president, were also conspicuous figures at the party.

Mr. and Mrs. George McCormick and their daughter, Mrs. Arthur Brickenden, are at their summer home, Oakay, on the river St. Clair, until Friday.

An interesting marriage took place in Hamilton recently, when Miss Adela White, daughter of Mrs. E. Victor White of that city, became the bride of Mr. Herman Magill of this city.

The girls of the London Life annex met recently at Dufferin hall and showered one of their associates, Miss Helen Nicol, a bride of today, with a complete set of bonny blue granite-ware.

Mr. David Wilson of this city was a guest in Hamilton last Saturday, going to that city to give his sister, Miss Christine Wilson, in marriage to Capt. Arthur Yeates, M.C., of Delora.

Wm. Mason, Hyatt avenue, has returned home after spending several weeks visiting his mother and sister at Victoria, B. C. He also paid his brother a visit at Portland, Ore., and relatives at Seattle, Wash.

Mrs. S. L. Taylor and Miss Winnie Taylor, Princess avenue, are entertaining very informally on Friday evening in honor of Mrs. Fred Matthews of Old London, who is a guest with her mother, Mrs. N. S. Williams, Chesapeake street.

Mr. Douglas Wad, whose marriage to Miss Helen Baker takes place in St. Paul's cathedral on Saturday, will be the guest of honor at a dinner party to be given at the Highland golf club on Thursday night by a number of his men friends.

Mrs. Freida Stephens and Miss Letta Deher were the hostesses of a charmingly arranged miscellaneous shower recently, when they entertained at the former's home on Waterloo street for Miss Helen Nicol, one of today's brides.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Pearson, Blackfriars street, recently arranged a pleasant gathering in honor of the late mother, Mrs. G. Croucher of Sarnia. Among the guests were Mr. R. Millett, Mr. and Mrs. J. Millett, Miss V. Millett, A. Gunn, T. Gunn, P. Gunn, Mrs. J. Dasset, William P. F. Brown, H. Brown, Miss N. Brown, A. Green, A. J. Pierce, Mrs. Watson and Mrs. E. Jones.

Miss Lucy P. Mason, 723 Queen's avenue, and Miss Harriet M. Carson, 187 Ontario street, active members of the Adelaide street Baptist church, recently entered the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago to prepare for special Christian work. Like all institute students, Miss Mason and Miss Carson will be assigned to various fields of practical work in the city churches, hospitals, prisons, missions, factories and other institutions. Canada is represented in the institute by sixty-two young men and women.

Mrs. Joseph Brewer, Broughdale avenue, entertained at a pretty arranged trolley tea on Tuesday night, in honor of her daughter, Miss Vera Brewer, bride-elect of this month. Mr. Albert Atkins, sister of the bride-to-be, poured tea at a beautifully appointed table, assisted by Miss Forbes and Miss Dumaresq. At 9 o'clock in the evening a deputation of the lady members of the Robinson Memorial choir called at the house, bringing an attractive shower of miscellaneous gifts for the bride-elect. Miss Carmen Brewer showed the pretty trousseau.

Ontario Hospital Nurses Are Addressed by Dr. G. H. Stevenson.

An interesting meeting last night was that of the Ontario Hospital alumnae, which met at the nurses' residence to hear an address by Dr. G. H. Stevenson and to make plans for the season.

Dr. Stevenson spoke interestingly to the members on "The History of Medicine," telling of its development up to the present time. During his clever talk he brought in the subject of surgery and ably told of its advancement. His remarks were greatly appreciated by the members.

With Miss Florence Ball, the president, in the chair, plans were made for a bridge and a sewing meeting, to be held very soon. Mrs. (Dr.) Chalk was appointed as convener.

Plans to sew for the Victorian orphans were also made and it was decided to hold a sewing meeting on Wednesday of next week that the work might be got under way. A list of appreciation from Miss Duffield for a bale of infants' garments donated by the alumnae was also read.

At the conclusion of the evening a social hour was enjoyed, during which refreshments were served under the conviership of Miss McKendrick.

ORENDAGA CAMPERS TO RALLY NEXT MONTH. November 6 Is Date of Annual Reunion—Will Probably Give Play.

Plans for probably the best rally in connection with the Orendaga campers were made at the meeting of the executive of the Orendaga Campers' association, which was held at Lennox, with Miss Thelma Tummonds presiding. This annual event is to take place at the King street Y. W. C. A. on the evening of Friday, Nov. 6.

The campers will give another play this winter, if present schemes materialize. This will be a benefit for the general fund of the Orendaga Y. W. C. A. on the evening of Friday, Nov. 6.
