the Queen-street. There the accused admitted the charge and thought his absence more for the benefit of the church than his presence and ministrations. In the latest instance the accused denies the charge in toto and stands his ground, attends piously the Sabbath services and is now awaiting the verdet of the court of inquiry which was opened yesterday, in accordance with the provisions of the Rules and Practice of Methodism. The one under which the proceedings of yesterday lie is:

If any minister, probationer or member of the church has a knowledge or reliable information of an offence by a minister, probationer or member against the law of God or the rules or discipline of the church, it shall be his duty to lay a charge before the proper authority.

In this case the accuser is James Sturdy, a member of the Euchd-avenue church, who charges W. F. Joinston, superintendent of the Massey Manufacturing Company, and a brother-member of the above named fold of Ofriest, with "an offence against the rule and discipline of the church," in having and discipline of the church," in having and discipline of the church, in having and some of the church, in having and some of the church, in having and provided and was amused to see how often the door of the star chamber was opened and a head proposed out to see if any one were listening of approaching the inner sactum.
