When Clark came to Canada in 1873 was 52 years of age. What his precous record was is unknown to the anadian officers, but almost immeately on his arrival in Ottawa, he as convicted of larceny and sent to e Central Prison for six months. His mehant for stealing from the corriers of hotels and hallways of private sidences has kept him in prison albst ever since. After his liberation on the Central he was unable to ar the city before his mania got in into trouble again, and he was at back to Warden Massie's care for additional five months. At the exation of this sentence he was again nyicted, and this time was sent to ngston for two years. His term expired in 1881, and in the arse of a few days he was found lity of larceny, committed almost thin the shadow of the prison walls. This conviction he was sent to the his conv

this conviction he was sent to the ntrai for 23 months. His preyious perience with the Toronto police and agistrate evidently did not impress m favorably, and the next place he pears is in Hamilton in 1884. It was e same old crime of larceny, and he ent back to Kingston for another rm of three years.

He enjoyed a few days of liberty, wing which he found his way to this ty again, stole an overcoat from the illway of the house of James Steele, and was senneed to Kingston for five years. Ifer the expiration of this sentence, lark had a greater spell of liberty han he had known since landing on anadian soil. He spent nearly three ears outside the prison walls, and ow at the age of 69 goes back to the ells for a term of ten years. for a term of ten years.

been reported. On Sept. 21 the officer at North Gosfield, Essex, reported 30 cases in ten families. These cases were spread over several adjoining townships. In 18 cases anti-toxin was used and out of these only one death occurred. The disease is now rapidly disappearing.

A number of typhoid cases and diptheria were reported from Brudenell, in Renfrew County, on Sept. 10. Samples of water used in the vicinity were forwarded to the Medical Health Officer for analysis, and one of them was found to be contaminated.

In addition a few isolated cases of diphtheria have occurred at widely separted points in the province. No case of smallpox has been reported to the department for the past month.

eptember's Weather Record. During the latter days of September a remark was frequently made that "this is the hottest September ever known." The observatory records show, however, that in British Columbia and the Northwest the temperature was 2 to 6 below the average, while in Ontario it, was only from 1 to 4 above. In Nova Scotia-it also went below the average. The lowest temperature of the month is reported at Brandon, where 12 degrees of frost were experienced. In Ontario Renfrew was the warmest point, with Brantford, Peterboro and Toronto close up. The rainfall for the month the Dominion over was below the average. ng the latter days of Septemb
