WATFORD, NOV. 16, 1906.

Food For Beasts.

No where on earth is there such a terrible tribute in human life demanded by the beasts and reptiles of the jungle as in India. The figures are appalling.

Every year in that unhappy country about 24,000 persons fall victims to wild animals or deadly snake bites. In 1904—the last year for which statistics have been completed—the number was 24,034.

Of this enormous total, 21,800 were bitten by the cobra or some other of the five species of deadly serpents; 796 were pounced upon and carried away by the dreaded man-eating tiger; 399 were killed by leopards and the remainder fell victims to wild animals of other kinds—perhaps to packs of prowling wolves, to attacks of hungry panthers, or the infuriated rush of the mad elephant.

In all the world serpents claim 30,000 victims a year. Of these it will be seen, then, that India contributes three-fourths as her dreadful toll.

The ordinary mortality from snakes and wild animals and the heavy loss of property—nearly 100,000 cattle are killed each year—has long been of concern to England, as well as to the Indian Government. Rewards are offered for the destruction of pests and careful experiments have been made in the way of providing antitoxins for snake bites. Still, the death roll is increasing, instead of diminishing, with the years.

If Farmers Were Business Men.

There is no telling of what tremendous heights of prosperity Canadian farmers might rise if they would more generally apply the careful business economy that is required to make a marked success in other lines of industry.

The head of a manufacturing concern keeps his eyes open to prevent waste. There must be no extravagance in labor, in time, in fuel, in machinery. He looks for the minimum cost and the maximum profit. It is a matter of business and he manages it strictly along business principles! Too few hereabouts. And yet farming is as much the farmers business as manufacturing is the business of the other. If the manufacturer trusted to luck, allowed his machinery to lie out of doors and rust, worked only when he felt like it, failed to keep books and figure everything on a dollar-and-cents basis he would soon find himself a bankrupt.

The owner of the average farm is so secure in his living that there is not that keen incentive for vigilant care regarding the matter of eliminating waste of time and materials in his business that is required in other occupations. But the application of better business methods on the farm, the keeping of accounts to know the comparative value of various crops, and the cost of labor for production would be a means of considerably increasing the revenues of every farmer.—Exchange.

Success.

A Kansas woman, Bessie A. Stanley, of Lincoln, won a $2.50 prize by writing the following definition of "What Constitutes Success." It is worthy of the distinction given it "He has achieved success who has lived well, laughed often and loved much; who has gained the trust of pure women and the love of little children; who has filled his niche and accomplished his task; who has left the world, better than he found it, whether by an improved poppy, a perfect poem or a rescued soul; who has never lacked appreciation of earth's beauty, or failed to express it; who has always looked for the best in others and given the best he had; whose life was an inspiration; whose memory a benediction."

The Big Head.

The "big head" is a popular way of expressing a common and very frequent ailment. It arises from various sources, but the real foundation is the lack of sense. A little money develops it in some people; a few good clothes gives it to others; a little office where a chance is given to exercise a little authority, is often the cause of it, while others get it having a little better job than their associates. The truth is no sensible person gets the "big head." The ones who become stuck up and stiff-necked from sources of any kind are weak in the intellectual caliber.

MOTHERS MUST HAVE ABUNDANT STRENGTH.

No Mother Can Bear A Healthy Child Unless She Is Strong Herself.

A woman's anxieties multiply ten-fold about the time the new baby is expected. If her strength is exhausted and her blood weak, it goes hard in the hour of trial.

Ferrozone should be used, because it makes the blood nutritious and rich. By instilling new strength into every part of the body, it uplifts your spirits at once. Childbirth is certainly made easier by Ferrozone. The following statement expresses the earnest gratitude of Mrs. M. E. Duckworth, of Durham. It is a woman's story,—of her own case—told that other women may profit by her experience:

"Before baby was born I was in a weak, miserable, nervous state. I had no reserve strength. I tried to build up, but nothing helped me. I looked upon the coming day with dread, knowing I was unequal to the occasion.

"Ferrozone braced me up at once. It gave me strength and spirits, brought back my nerve and cheerfulness. From my experience with Ferrozone I recommend it to all expectant mothers."

There is more concentrated nourishment in Ferrozone than you can get from anything else. It supplies what weak systems need. Simply take one tablet at meals and you'll feel benefited in a thousand ways. Ferrozone makes healthy, virile, vigorous women; try it. 50c. per box of fifty tablets, or six for $2.50, at all dealers.

Deported a Lunatic.

London, Ont., Nov. 8.—The first deportation of an indigent immigrant under the new ruling of the government has just taken place at the London Asylum for the Insane. The case is that of a young Englishman who, shortly after arriving here, developed symptoms of insanity, and was placed in the institution. An examination of the records showed that he had been a resident of Canada but a very short time—much less than the required term of two years. The young man has consequently been sent back to England.

Dies From Injuries.

Thamesford, Nov. 9.—The death of Robt. Knox, a young retired farmer of the place, occurred this morning under sad circumstances. Yesterday morning the deceased was leading a horse, which bolted, dragging Knox off his feet and through the orchard. When found he was unconscious, having received severe wounds about the head, and only regained consciousness a short time before death.

Conductors Are Agitated.

Conductors on the Grand Trunk are agitated over their dismissal from the company's services and it is said that redress will be sought. No dismissals have been made the past few days. It is said that the conductors already discharged will ask for proof of dishonesty, as claimed by the railway officials.

Detroit Democratic.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 8.—With but one precinct to hear from to-day, Wm. B. Thompson, Democrat, has defeated Mayor George P. Oddy for re-election by the majority of 3,341.

LOCAL OR OTHERWISE.

JOHN J. BELL was elected mayor of Port Huron on Tuesday, defeating C. E. Spencer by 37 majority.

POWL for table use is very scarce and high in price, and if the ruling charges hold on till Christmas, a buyer will have to have a burglar's nerve to look a turkey in the eye.

BETTER a slice of bread, then toast the side not buttered. When nicely brown turn the buttered side to the fire long enough to let the butter soak into the bread. This makes a much nicer toast for invalids and elderly people than the ordinary toast.

A YOUNG English farmer, wishing to have his barns published, went to see the parish clergyman. The reverend gentleman asked him several questions, all of which he was able to answer with the exception of one. "Is your intended a spinster?" the clergyman asked. He paused in thought. Then he replied, "No, Sir; she's a dressmaker."

THE turkey crop has come to be like the peach crop. Stories are circulated as to the scarcity of the fowls and the high prices they will command about Christmas. For some years these stories have simply resulted in some people refusing a fair price for their birds and perhaps have them left on their hands. People will not pay above a certain price for a turkey, because they can get something else.

PEOPLE who write things which they would like to see printed in a newspaper, should bear in mind that what they write as their personal opinion should be fathered by them, and when they write stuff that is not fit for them to attach their names to it should never be printed. Remember the rule of all decent newspapers and you will never have occasion to put on the shoe. This is the rule which we give in all kindness. "Never ask a newspaper to do anything you are ashamed to do yourself."

BILL JONES is a country storekeeper in Kent and last summer he went to Toronto to purchase a stock of goods. The goods were shipped immediately and reached home before he did. When the boxes of goods were delivered at his store by the drayman his wife happened to look at the largest; she uttered a loud cry and called for a hammer. A neighbor, hearing her screams, rushed to her assistance, asking the cause of the trouble. The wife pale and faint, pointed to an inscription on the box, which read as follows: "Bill inside."

THE man who wrestles with the fow and leaves the calves to such, who casts the corn before the swine, is now in great luck; for butter's on the upper grade, veal's higher than a kite, pork is climbing up the scale and beef is out of sight; eggs he gathers every day from his Poland chicken coop are almost worth their weight in gold and we are in the soup. His corn brings him a fancy price, his rising every day, and he takes in all kinds of mon for a half load of hay. The farmer is in the saddle and when he comes to town the rest of us by right should go way back and sit down.

A Case In West Archat.

Mrs. A. P. Ferguson, a well known Cape Bretoner has cured asthma by "Catarrhazone." Her statement is convincing. "Although I was troubled for years it was only recently I tried Catarrhazone. When an attack started I got out my inhaler and invariably got quick relief. Feeling satisfied Catarrhazone would cure, I continued the treatment till one bottle was finished. I didn't use more because I was cured and the asthma has never returned." Catarrhazone is sure death to asthma and Bronchitis. Try it and be convinced. Two sizes, 25c and $1.00 at all dealers.

Dried Apples.

When drying early and fall apples be sure to dip in salt water immediately after peeling and quaterning, then drain and dry quickly on a rack over a stove. By this means nice, bright dried apples can be produced, which will sell readily at higher prices.

It is a very great pity that so many apples are wasted yearly in Ontario which could be turned into good money with a little effort.

The Editor and the Tramp.

Bret Harte's first stories appeared in the San Francisco Overland Monthly. Then he was appointed editor of this magazine. That was in 1869. About this same period two or three weekly newspapers were struggling for existence.

One day the office boy went to the editor of the Soaring Eagle and said: "There is a tramp at the door, and he says he has had nothing to eat for six days."

"Fetch him in," said the editor. "If we can find out how he does it we can run this blamed paper for another week!"

The Prisoner.

An inspector arrived unexpectedly at a Scottish jail. He asked the solitary warder for the governor. "He's away fushin'," was the answer. "Well, I'll see the prisoners," said the inspector.

"Him! He's out, sir." "Out? The prisoner out? Why, has he escaped?" "Ach, no, sir; he's just awa' w' the governor at the fushin', carryin' the bag."
