PRACTICAL QUEENS.

Most of Europe's Crowned Women Could Earn a Livelihood.

If a queen lost her job could she earn a living?

If her castles and wealth vanished with her title could she work like you or I?

Would she be cleverer than our Canadian daughters of riches, who rarely know how to mend a tear, to wash a dish, and who, by no chance, could cook a meal?

It has long been a matter of common remark that among the royalty of talents—a talents which would bring them in good, hard coin if they wished to turn them to that end. The kings and queens are no longer mere names and puppets. They are unwilling to sit quietly by while others manufacture interests and pleasures for them. They want to be masters of some one trade, some one talent, themselves.

How often we hear of a Canadian girl, whose every wish has been law, to whom no luxury has been denied, who must go out and earn a living when her father's wealth has been wiped out! And how seldom can she do it!

But if Queen Elizabeth of Belgium was dethroned to-morrow and left absolutely penniless she would have a profession at which she could easily support herself and her children. The first thing she would do would be to go to a hospital in Belgium and become a staff physician, or, if that place were not open to her, take a position as a nurse until she could afford to open an office as a physician.

For she has had a thorough medical training, and only a few years before her marriage to King Albert she took her degree as doctor of medicine at the University of Leipzig. She is the daughter of Duke Charles Theodore of Bavaria, a renowned oculist, and before her marriage assisted him in his work and had active practice and nursing in a hospital at Kreuth.

She still continues her interest in the art and has recently built the Albert-Elizabeth dispensary, where she conducts classes for the young nurses and illustrates her talk by practical application of bandages. Many a charitable patient has come from this hospital happy in the acquaintance of the queen and proudly displaying a bandaged arm with the gratified words:

"Her majesty herself dressed my arm. No wonder it is healing so quickly."

She is chief physician to her husband and her children, and King Albert wrote at one time to his sister:

"It is of no use pretending to have a headache to escape from some stupid function, for Elise always doctors me up and sends me along."

Medicine is not her only interest, however. She is an enthusiastic motorist and knows every trick of driving, as well as of repairing. On the last visit of the king and queen to France they were driving unattended through the country near Tours, when one of the tires burst. The king frankly admitted that he knew nothing about repairing it, but Queen Elizabeth tucked up her lace skirt and went to work with a will. The result was that they were only an hour late to their engagement, and the queen had added another to the list of her achievements.

She is an eager student of literature and has published books and essays on a variety of subjects—mainly scientific.

The Prim Dutch Girl.
The etiquette of Holland is exceedingly strict in all classes. The young girl is most carefully chaperoned, and she never goes anywhere, even to church, unless accompanied by her parents, some male relative or other equally trusted attendant. At a dance the parents sit round the walls sipping their coffee or wine, and the young men must make the best of their chances in the opportunities afforded by the dance, for when it pleases the guardians to depart there

A MESSAGE TO WOMEN

Who are "Just Ready to Drop."

When you are "just ready to drop," when you feel so weak that you can hardly drag yourself about—and because you have not slept well, you get up as tired-out next morning as when you went to bed, then you need help right away.

Miss Lea Dumas writes from Malone, N. Y., saying: "I was in a badly run-down condition for several weeks, but two bottles of Vinol put me on my feet again and made me strong and well. Vinol has done me more good than all the other medicine I ever took."

If the careworn, haggard men and women, the pale, sickly children and feeble old folks around here would follow Miss Dumas' example, they, too, would soon be able to say that Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron remedy, had built them up and made them strong.

It is a wonderfully strengthening and invigorating body-builder, and we sell it under an ironclad guarantee of satisfaction. You get your money back if Vinol does not help you.

Microbes in Your Scalp

Authorities say that a microbe causes baldness. If you are losing hair try our remedy at our risk.

Professor Unna, of Germany, and Dr. Sabouraud, the great French Dermatologist, claim that a microbe causes baldness, and their theory has been verified by eminent scientists. This microbe destroys the hair follicles, in time causing the scalp pores to close and the scalp to become shiny. Then, it is believed nothing will revive the growth. If treated before this occurs, baldness may be overcome.

We know of nothing that has given such universal satisfaction in treating the scalp and hair as Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. It has been designed after long study to overcome the cause of falling hair as discovered by Prof. Unna, Dr. Sabouraud and other scalp and hair specialists, and we believe it will do more than anything else can to remove dandruff and stop falling hair; and if any human agency can promote a new growth of hair it will do that, too.

We want you to make us prove it. We will pay for a month's treatment of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic used during a trial, if you will use it according to directions, and are not thoroughly satisfied. When we will do this, you surely should not hesitate to at least try it.

Start the treatment today. Your mere request will get your money back if you want it. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00.

You can buy Rexall "93" Hair Tonic in this community only at our store:

is no help for it, the girls must go too. An unmarried girl always takes the right arm of her escort, while the matron takes the left, perhaps because it is nearer the heart.

No Smuggling!

Diligence in the pursuit of duty is commendable even in a customs officer, but it would seem that even the logical Gallic mind might have found a reason to suspend the rules in the following circumstances:

An English steamer was wrecked on the French coast, and the survivors were coming ashore, some in tow of powerful swimmers, others clinging to planks and barrels. Those nearest land were at last heartened by the sight of an approaching small boat.

As it bore down on the head swimmers a figure in uniform rose in the bow.

"Have you anything to declare?" demanded a stern voice.

Remarkable Bible Verses.

The eighth verse of the third chapter of Zechariah contains every letter, including the finals, of the Hebrew language, while one will find in the twenty-first verse of the seventh chapter of Ezra every letter of the English alphabet except j. The verse reads as follows: "And I, even I, Artaxerxes the king, do make a decree to all the treasurers which are beyond the river, that whatsoever Ezra the priest, the scribe of the law of the God of heaven, shall require of you, it be done speedily."

The Real Need.

"This article telling 'how to trim a hat for the price of the frame' is all well enough," remarked Mrs. Smallmeans. "But what I would really like to know is 'how to trim a husband for the price of a hat'."

The Crucial Point.

Weeks—I understand your baby has been very sick. Is the worst over?
Weeks—I'm afraid not. His health is all right now, but my wife hasn't yet settled on his name.

The Enemy Within the Gates.

Nearly every European capital has seen the enemy within its gates during the last 610 years. Berlin was penetrated by the Austrians in 1757 and the Russians in 1760 and was occupied by the French in 1808 and 1849. Vienna was occupied by the French in 1805 and 1809, and Moscow in 1812, Lisbon in 1807 and Madrid in 1808. Paris was entered by the allies in 1814 and 1815 and by the Germans in 1871. Copenhagen was bombarded by the British in 1807. Athens was occupied by the Turks in 1826. Belgrade was captured by the Servians from the Turks in 1807, Sofia was taken by the Russians in 1829 and 1878, while Bukharest was occupied by the Russians in 1828 and 1853 and by the Austrians in 1854.

"Comin' Through the Rye."

(Kentville, N.S., Chronicle.)

Probably very few persons understand the expression "Comin' Through the Rye." There is in Scotland a small stream called the Rye. The girls formed it going to church, school and to market, and as the water was a foot or two deep they had to hold their skirts up. The boys would meet them in mid-stream and kiss them without any difficulty, as the girls couldn't drop their skirts to make any resistance. That's what the poet meant when he wrote "Comin' Through the Rye," but most people think he meant a field of rye.
