as the home of her father, James Eitch.

The writer made a call recently on C. B. Hogan, at Belleisle, who with F. W. Harris, two lucky fishermen, catch quite a variety of fish in their net on the river. Their haul one morning was a salmon, a sturgeon weighing one hundred pounds, one bass, one shad and a sucker. They have taken quite a large number of salmon this season.

Charles McWhinnie had a nice pollock catch last Saturday.

Eta Haynes enjoyed a nice visit recently with relatives and friends at Bloomington and Bridgetown.

Mrs. B. Ellis, our school teacher, held a very successful examination exactly solved: "Suppose that in a family of five there were only four potatoes at dinner, and the mother wants to give each of the children an equal share—how is she going to do it?" For a few minutes there was re-lence in the room while everybody calculated hard. Finally, one of the little boys rose to his feet and, after attracting the attention of the school master, gave this unexpected answer:
"Mash the potatoes, sir."

THE TEST.

(From Everybody's Magazine.)

While waiting for the speaker at a public meeting a pale little man in the audience seemed very nervous. He glanced over his shoulder from time to time, and squirmed and shifted about in his seat. At last, unable to stand it any longer, he arose and demanded, in a high, penetrating voice, "Is there a Christian Scientist in this room?"

A woman at the other side of the hall got up and said: "I am a Christian Scientist."

"Well, then, madam," requested the little man, "would you mind changing seats with me? I'm sitting in a draught."

Joker's Column

TOO LITERAL.

A New York business man, while in Chicago recently, was expecting a money-order letter in a day or two.
In order to avoid any difficulty in identification, he went to a clerk in the post office and said:
"I am expecting a money order to the amount of one hundred dollars, and my name is Thomas Blank. Here are a lot of letters addressed to me from various places. You will observe the post marks. So, you see, if I am not the man I claim to be, I must have murdered that man and possessed myself of his letters, and am now personating him. As that is not likely, you must admit that I am the man."

The New Yorker having delivered himself of the foregoing, left the post office. In a few days the money order came, and the man from New York repaired to the office to get his order cashed. He expected to find the clerk ready for him, but at first the clerk did not recollect him. Presently the New Yorker succeeded in recalling himself to the man's memory.
"Oh, yes," said the clerk, quite seriously, "you're the chap that murdered the other man!"

HOW THEY FOUGHT.

A bloodless duel has just been fought between a newspaper editor and a politician. The latter, regarding himself insulted by an article published by the former, addressed to him the following letter:
"Sir: A man who respects himself refrains from sending a challenge to an individual such as you. He satisfies himself by slapping your face.
Herewith consider your face slapped twice, one on each side."

"Dear Sir: I am in receipt of the two smacks which you sent me, and for which I am obliged. Kindly accept a bullet through your head. With kind regards to your corpse, yours truly."

And all honor was satisfied—Pele Melo.

AFTER THE ENTERTAINMENT.

"She has a magnificent flat," said one, "but it is badly arranged. The parlor is too far from the dining-room."

"The wall paper is beautiful," remarked another, "but the pictures are abominable. It is a pity to ruin beautiful walls."

"She has a lot of elegantly bound books," said still another, "but I don't like to waver a five that none of the leaves are cut."

"In other words," said the man who looks on, "she has been awfully good to us. She has taken pains to entertain us. Let us roast her."

AN EYE TO BUSINESS.

An undertaker, living in a thriving Nebraska town, took his little boy to the theatre the other day. The play was rampant melodrama, and the little fellow watched with breathless interest the villain kill his victim and impressively go through all the forms necessary to assure himself of perfect success. Incidentally satisfying the younger that death had actually taken place.

When the curtain descended upon the thrilling scene the undertaker arose to seek refreshment, whereupon his offspring, in a loud whisper, demanded:
"Pa, are you going around to get the body?"

HE KNEW.

It was at a class in arithmetic that the following household problem was exactly solved: "Suppose that in a family of five there were only four
wants to give each of the children an
equal share—how is she going to do it?" For a few minutes there was re-
attracting the attention of the school
master, gave this unexpected answer:
"Mash the potatoes, sir."

SUNSHINE FURNACE

BURNS COAL OR WOOD

The Sunshine is a good, "all round" furnace. Burns, with equal facility, either coal or wood. Coke, too, if you prefer it.
And so perfect is the combustion of the Sunshine that it extracts every unit of heat from the fuel.
What's left in the ash-pan is not worth sifting.
Sunshine consumes less fuel, too.
Because its perfect system of dampers prevent the escape of the hot air up the chimney—compels it to come out through the registers.
You pay for heating the inside—not the outside—of your house when you buy the Sunshine.
If your local dealer does not handle this most economical furnace write direct to us for FREE BOOKLET.
