a skul race on the bay, two miles, deteating five competitors easily.

In 1874 he won the amateur modal in a single scull race, two miles, from three competitors. He also wou a champion medal, two miles, three competitors, on Barlington bay, and at the same regutta, was one of the winning double-scullers in a race of two miles, three boats entered.

In 1875 he defented Loudon of Toronto, in a single scull race in Toronto harbor, two miles. He also won the Governor-General's medal in a single scall race, three competitors, two miles, and repeated the operation this year.

On the 12th August last, he won the Champion Belt of Ontario, offered by the Toronto Rowing Club, single sculls, two miles; and on the same day was one of the winning crow in the fishermen's race.

Although Haulon won all these sculling races with the utmost ease, his great powers as an oarsman were not fully shown until his recent exploits at Philadelphia lifted him at once to the top of the tree. He is a very modest and unassuming young fellow, and when it was proposed to send him to the Schuylkill, he merely remarked that " he would try and not be the last man in."

To Philadelphia he went, and his performances there complete his record. On the first day of the single scull heats (4th Septembers he pulled against Harry Coulter, of Pittsburg, and H. Thomas, of London, beating them with the greatest ease. Next day he rowed against Pat Luther, of Pittsburg, (who had beaten Higgins, of London, and Morris of Pittsburg, the day before), and Fred Plaisted, of New York, who had de-feated McKeerl, of New York, and came in as he liked. On the sixth he rowed the final heat for the championship against Brayley, of St. John, N. B., who had beaten Greene, of London, and Ellis Ward in a previous heat, and defeated him very easily

The boat in which Haulon rowed at Philadelphia was built by Jowett, of England. She is built of Spanish codar; width, 12 in; length, 30 ft. The oars were made by Ayling.

Hanlon is a well built young fellow, broad in the shoulders, a small head set on a powerfal neck, with a long reach, but one would faucy rather light in the loins and legs for the enormous work that is required from the lower limbs of an oarsman, especially in these days of sliding seats. His time at Philadelphia was the best ever made on this continent.
