

1907SOME THINGS FOR WHICH WE HAVE PLANNED

A new INTERMEDIATE QUARTERLY and INTERMEDIATE LEAFLET. These are expressly for the Boys and Girls, and contain several novel and valuable features.

More room in the HOME STUDY QUARTERLY and HOME STUDY LEAFLET for the special needs of the senior scholars, Bible Classes, and the Home Department.

"Something to Color"—a new feature in the PRIMARY QUARTERLY and PRIMARY LEAFLET.

Increased attention in all the Lesson Helps to the Geography of the Lessons. This is in line with the fresh emphasis now given to geography in the Sunday School.

The further development of the missionary idea in the Lesson Helps. This also is directly in the line of present Sunday School development.

A series of twelve articles in the TEACHERS MONTHLY on the Primary Class and the Home, from the home point of view, and a series of special articles on Sunday School music.

IN EAST AND WEST, amongst many new things, a series of articles by Rev. Dr. R. P. MacKay, Foreign Mission Secretary, to be written during his forthcoming tour round the world, to visit our Foreign mission fields; a series of illustrated articles on Kashmir by Dr. Margaret McKellar; a High School story by Miss Esther Miller (Marian Keith); a new story, in fresh setting, by Miss Marjorie L. C. Pickthall; some new and interesting competitions; special articles on the development of the Eastern provinces, and on our French Canadian neighbors; fresh material from Ontario and the West.

IN THE KING'S OWN, amongst many other things, a bright series on the Boyhood of Living Rulers, including King Edward, the German Emperor, etc.; a series on great paintings—all of these articles richly illustrated.

The Sabbath School Lessons for the year are from the Old Testament; and JEWELS, therefore, will contain a picture and a story each month from the New Testament.

The General Assembly "strongly recommends the use of our own Publications in preference to those from other sources." The constant aim of the Editors is to make and keep them worthy of this recommendation.
