Mercantile Summary.

THE NOVA SCOTIA telegraph lines are now the property of the Western Union Telegraph Company of the United States. Their value to the latter consist in the fact that messages per Atlantic Cable have to pass over them.

SENDING a message over the same wire both ways at the same time is the latest and one of the most marvellous discoveries in telegraphy. Messages are being sent in this way between Montreal and Toronto constantly on the lines of the Montreal Telegraph Company. This will greatly add to the working capacity of the lines and between large cities where a great many messages are going both ways, the sending of them will be greatly expedited.

THE DOMINION of Canada Oils Refining Company, one of those fancy projects that have been floated in the English market, seems likely to get its promoters into trouble. Three of the parties connected with the management in Canada, namely: Messrs. Houghton, Howell, and Stovin, are charged with "combining, conspiring and concerting together for the purpose of defrauding the Company out of certain sums of money." The case had not yet been tried at the time of this writing.
