Nicholls, Mr. J. J. Tilt, Mr. W. H. Lamont, Mr. T. R. Robertson, Mr. H. A. Wilson. After the tables had been cleared away from the verandah the dancing commenced. The favorite orchestra, as usual, furnished the music, which, of course, spelled success for the dance. The large ballroom upstairs was exceedingly pretty, the decorations being most artistic. Down the centre of the floor was a miniature canal, filled with real water, with ferns and plants growing in and around it; overhead the celling was draped with colored ribbons and studded with very effective Chinese lanterns, and the view from the door of the lighted bowling green, with a match being played, was lovely; another door showing, the illuminations at Hanlan's Point and the city across the bay. The girls dancing were pretty and their dresses were of the latest and smartest cut, of the most beautiful materials, chiefly taffetas in white and the softest shades. A few of those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Jarvis, the latter in a very handsome embroidered white gown and black hat, with a wreath of crimson roses; the Hon. Mrs. Gideon Murray (St. Lucia, B.W.I.), in a short and früled gown of ashes of roses taffetas and a small turban of violet silk with tiny pink roses surrounding it; Miss Jean Cotton in black with a white fox; Mrs. Fritz Fox, all in white; Mrs. Meredith, who is staying with Mrs. J. B. Hutchins, wore black silk with a smart hat to match and diamond ornaments; her hostess, wearing mauve taffetas and a small bat with wicks. Mr. and Mrs. C. Read, Mr. E. H. Ellis Mr. A. E. Rudd, Mr. S. M. Wickett, Mr Mrs. Fritz Fox, all in white; Mrs. Meredith, who is staying with Mrs. J. B. Hutchins, wore black silk with a smarthat to match and diamond ornaments; her hostess, wearing mauve taffetas and a small hat with violet bows; Miss Hutchins wore pale blue taffetas with deep border of horizontal stripes at the bottom of the skirt of black and white satin, and a hat with black paradise; Mr. and Mrs. Castell Hopkins, the latter in black; Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Ross, Miss McArthur, white taffetas with white hat handed with primnose; Mr. George H. Gooderham; Mrs. Charles Read, looking very handsome in Belgian blue taffetas and a hat of white and black; Mrs. Frasser Macdonald; Col. Stinson, Mr. Larry Hargraft, Mr. Heber Smith, Mr. Framk Brentnall; Mrs. John Wright in purple and a hat with violets and roses; Mrs. Ernest Wright, white, with a large and becoming hat of black and white; Miss Meldrum, New York, wore a beautiful white gown with girdle and sash of rose satin, and a white hat wreathed with roses; Mr. and Mrs. Clee, Mr. and Mrs. Lowndes, Mr. and Mrs. Worts Smart, Mr. Lowndes, Mr. and Mrs. Worts Smart, Mr. and Mrs. Dickson, the latter very smart in white crepe de chine and a white hat; Mrs. Lamont also wore white silk with a flowered border and a leghorn hat; Mrs. Rough was in pearl gray silk and a black hat.

Score One Goal in First Half-Saturday's Soccer.

MONTREAL, Aug. 7 .- The second game of the home-and-home series for the Connaught Cup finals was played Connaught Cup finals was played on Saturday at Alexandra Park before a record attendance. Grand Trunks scored one in the first half and the visitors the only other goal in the second, and thus the result was a tie and Lancashires stay in the cup competition by their Toronto margin, 3 to 0.

The Grand Trunks made one change in the team which played at Toronto. Whitehead taking Orr's place, while, for some unknown reason, Conway of the Lancashires was unable to make the trip; which brought in Abram at right

First Half.

Grand Trunk won the toss and Lieut.—Col. Dansereau kicked off. It was even up with close chances on both sides. The Trunks soon had a breakaway, and Laycock, coming out of his goal to clear, did not get the ball away and Stott, taking advantage of an open goal, had no difficulty in scoring. This success put new life into the Trunks, and for a time they harassed the Red Rose defence. Rooney forced a corner, which proved abortive. The Trunks were now having the best of matters, but could not again pierce the defence. The Trunks' forwards at this stage were superior to the Red Rose, but could not add to their score, the latter sadly missing Conway's services. The whistle blew shortly afterwards for the interval, with the Trunks leading 1-0.

Second Haif.
On restarting, Lancashires pressed and after some versity work.
