The Gentleman who formerly favoured the Public with Extracts from the History of BARATARIA, having obtained the entire Manuscript, has here communicated the whole of it to the Public.

THE last Assembly of the States, immediately after they had granted government an augmentation of military strength, and supplies of unusual magnitude, were summoned before the awful tribunal of Sancho, where they were reviled, insulted and discharged.—They were discharged, without having been permitted to deliberate on any ordinance of public concern, or exercise one power of legislation, excepting only that of munificence and taxation. It was in vain the voice of the people echoed from every quarter of the kingdom, complaining that the reward of their liberality had been a privation of their rights, and that parliament had been discontinued, because government had been satisfied. The deputies of the people have been beyond all example bountiful—but their crime was, that their resolutions were construed to imply an opinion, that these bounties being the bounties of the people, their
