OPEN UP THE GAP LARRYITES WIN TWO

Leafs Now Have a Lead of Two Full Games Over Birds.

The weather man brightened up the atmosphere a little for the homecoming of the Leafs yesterday, and a warm feeling was put into the hearts of the loyal fans that crossed the bay to cheer on Larry and his merry band. That warm feeling will stay for some time. Larry's boys never faltered in the final drive for the rag, and opened up the gap by taking Dan Howley's crew into camp in both ends of the double-header. It was a good day's work and made our footing on the top rung of the ladder more secure.

The Montreal outfit made it lively in the opening clash, the Leafs getting the decision 10 to 6. The final set-to was better, the locals putting over three runs early. Montreal squeezed over a tally in the final inning, and this was the lot for the fixture.

To make matters much better the Baltimore Birds and the Providence Grays again did that splitting act, and the Leafs now have a lead of two full games, or nearly twelve and a half points. They should be able to hold this margin, and the piece of bunting looks as if it is coming this way.

Larry's Larrupers had a hard row to hoe in the opening clash. The Royals had one big inning, and it took us some time to get back on even terms again. We won out, 10 to 6, and all was well.

A dumb play started our trouble and finally ended in a change of pitchers and a few bad moments for the fans. Good club work made it right again, and the march to the pennant went merrily on.

Justin started for the Leafs, and it looked right when the locals put over a run in the first inning. Jacobson was walked and Whiteman's single landed him on third. Larry raised a sacrifice fly to count him.

The third was the bad round. Howley opened the fireworks with a hit. Gerner filed out, but McAuley dropped a safe one in centre. Moran rolled to Murray, who fell asleep with a play at three corners, and wound up by failing to get anybody. Zimmerman came thru with a hit to score two, and another counted on Smith's bad bounder. Larry thought that they were getting too free with Justin and substituted Warhop. Jack was greeted with a base smash by Holden for another counter. This ended the scoring here.

The Leafs went right back for more and came along with two runs in their half, leaving them one down. With Truesdale out of the way Jacobson singled and Whiteman drove a hit to short. Lajoie supplied the whit to score Jacobson. Schultz raised a long fly to let Whiteman over.

It was the sixth before we could get the tying run. Larry opened fire with a single. The next two died, but Murray came thru with a hit for the run. We made it sure in the 7th with three runs. With Warhop out, Truesdale walked, and the bases were filled when Jacobson singled and Whiteman got a free ticket. Larry's long fly scored one, and Schultz's mammoth triple accounted for the other two. Joe was thrown out tryin gto stretch it into a home run.

Smith doubled in the 8th, and Holden dropped one into the bleachers for two runs. We tacked on three more in our half. The bases were filled in the first time Blackburne walked, Murray beat out one, and Lalonge was hit by the pitcher. Warhop hit into a double play, but Truesdale's single scored two, and Jacobson's poke accounted for the other one. This ended the scoring for the game.

Bases on balls—Off Warhop 1, off Gerner 4. Struck out—By Gerner 2. Hit batsmen—By Justin 1 (McAuley), by Gerner 1 (Lalonge). Left on bases—Montreal 6, Toronto 5. Umpires—Carpenter and McBride.

Herche and Thompson had a great pitching argument in the second game. Each pitcher allowed five hits, but the Toronto man gave only one run, and the Leafs gathered in three tallies. The Royals took a notion to mess things up in the second round, and three errors had a lot to do with the Leafs' scoring here.

Thompson kept the Royals scoreless until the ninth, and a single and a triple gave Montreal their only run. The Royals went hitless for the first four innings, and only one man reached first base in this time, the result of a base on balls.

Our three runs all came in that second inning. Schultz walked and Blackburne got a life when Moran dropped his fly. Murray popped out trying to bunt. Lalonge poked out a single and Schultz romped home when McAuley threw badly to second. A return to the plate got away from Madden, and the runners moved up a base. Blackburne came in on Thompson's infield out, and Truesdale's one-corner rap scored Lalonge.

Thompson had the Royals at his mercy for eight innings. They got three widely scattered hits in this time and never looked like scoring. A single and a triple gave them their only run in the ninth. Herche pitched excellent ball, and that comedy of errors in the second put him in a bad way.

TWO MORE WITH ROYALS TODAY.

With the double-header today and a single game tomorrow, the Leafs and Royals will wind up the season at the Island Stadium, and, in view of the fact that the Torontos are now leading by a fair margin, large crowds should attend the farewell performances. Gould and Hearne, for the Leafs, and Hoyt and Duffey, for Montreal, will probably do the pitching today. On Monday the Leafs will play an exhibition game with the Cleveland champs of the American League at the island. This contest will be in the nature of a testimonial to Larry and his Leafs, and the fans should turn out in force.

JUST LIKE OUR LEAGUE.

Chicago, Sept. 11.—Three clubs, Indianapolis, St. Paul and Louisville, are fighting it out for first place in the American Association, as a result of today's games. Indianapolis, altho beaten by Minneapolis, retained a lead of one game over St. Paul and Louisville, which tied for second place. The season closes a week from tomorrow.

PLAY JUNIOR RUGBY AGAIN THIS AUTUMN

Little Big Four, O.R.F.U. and Games in City Leagues.

The cold weather of the past few days is a reminder that the rugby season is at hand. World conditions further indicate that the senior leagues will lapse again, the same as in the autumn of 1916. There will be no Big Four or Intercollegiate. However, the Little Big Four and the Junior O. R. F. U. clubs that include boys under military age, will be working again as they should do at the same old stand. The city collegiate will form a section of the Junior Ontario Rugby Football Union as last season.

The local gridiron gladiators are commencing to get busy lining up their fourteens in preparation for the local rugby season. Whether or not the City Rugby League will operate this season will have to be decided by the clubs interested. If sufficient of them are anxious to continue those behind the league will lend their efforts, otherwise it will automatically drop. Secretary Jim Garrick's absence from the city will mean that the brunt of the league's affairs will fall upon the shoulders of the already overworked president, but he is anxious to keep the league active if the wishes of the clubs. The various secretaries are being written to asking in what series they intend entering teams, the number of clubs to comprise the league, etc., and upon receipt of this data definite arrangements will be proceeded with. It is suggested that the age in the senior series be eliminated, also that the junior age limit be raised by one year.

The teams who have thus far intimated their intention of playing in the City Rugby League this season are Capitals and Beaches, in both senior and junior; Excelsiors in the junior or intermediate, and North Toronto in the juvenile or 115-pound class.

East-West Entries Close on Thursday

Entries close Thursday for the big annual lawn bowling match, East v. West. In 1915, the record year for entries, there were 206 rinks in the game. The Queen City Club had the largest entry with 15 rinks. This year the Lawrence Park Club already have 16 rinks entered and expect to head the list. This is the twenty-second year of the competition, and the East has won eleven matches of the twenty-one played. The new Rosedale Club has entered four rinks, and Brampton, Markham and Long Branch have doubled their 1915 entry in the effort to make this a record year. The draw will be made at the Granite Club on Thursday at 3 p.m. Entries should be sent to R. T. McLean, 28 Lombard street. Phone M. 991 and M. 637.
