

not succeeded in procuring one. They also regret that no missionary has yet been provided for the church at Kildare. The collections received this year, amount to about £90.

CHARLOTTETOWN.

The Rev. Mr. FITZ GERALD reports, that during the past year he has officiated at 66 baptisms, 17 marriages, and 47 funerals; that he has held 233 religious services, and preached or lectured three and four, and sometimes five and six times a week; and has paid upwards of 580 pastoral and other visits.

The congregations, both on Sundays and Week days, have increased, and the services are generally well attended. A weekly prayer meeting has been established for upwards of nine months, and has been found a valuable means of grace, and a season of spiritual edification and improvement. The number of communicants has increased.

The Sunday School continues to maintain its numbers, and the lessons are better and more carefully learned, and rewards have been given to the most diligent and attentive of the children.

The Sacramental and other collections have increased, and the contributions to the Diocesan Society are above those of last year.

The Library numbers 990 volumes, being an addition of 107 last year.

The Rev. gentleman states, that though the duties of the parish are very onerous, and a severe tax on his health, the accustomed weekly services have not been interrupted; and, though unable to present much that is new to the people, the congregations and the communicants have both increased, and he trusts that the desire manifested by many to attend the valuable services
