

Poetry.

THE LITTLE SISTER.

BY MARY IRVING.
Of such is the kingdom of heaven.
Golden haired and heaven-eyed,
Sits a wee one by my side,

Never dream of poet-heart—
Never miracle of art Won a fairer treasure!

'Tis a budding woman soul
Baptized in the beautiful—Best of angels, best her!

All the day-time she has played,
Where the bees her humours made
With her glad self only;

Making sweet companionship
With the clover-flowers they sip—Scorning to be lonely!

Often on her upturned face,
For a moment's golden space,
Falls the light of dreaming;

Quietly she sits and sings Quaint and wild imaginings,
To the wind-harp's humming.

Often—daring that she is,
Comes she for a smile or kiss,
With her words of wonder;

What has whispered in her ear Fantasies we start to hear—Smile—and sigh—to ponder?

Speaks a cherub from the sky,
When she lifts her loving eye,
Winning him with gladness?

Almost think we've had given To her hand a harp of heaven
Never tuned to sadness!

For she sings her happy dreams
Not to any human hymns, Fraught with human fever!

Likest to a summer brook
Singing in a noisier nook—Singing on forever!

When the hours grow holy, she Leans her head upon my knee, Thus—in twilight's glimmer—

While she breathes her evening prayer Softly on the solemn air, Eyes of light grow dimmer.

Then the dream—hung eyelids close,
Like the leaflets of a rose,
While the lips are keeping

All the day-time's smile of love For the ones who watch above,
When the world is sleeping.

O, that she might wander so Through a world of pain and woe, Where no heart can hide her!

I, who earliest have told her Trials' path to womanhood, Grieve that I must guide her!

Were it not how well I know
Who will never let her go Guidelines, I could even

Sigh—From childhood's thorniest sod Take her up to heaven, O God!
Take her back to heaven!

The Sunbeam, Dew-drop, and Rose.

A dew-drop hung trembling like a timid thing Upon the soft velvet leaf of a rose. It sparkled And flashed, each time the breeze wooed the rose Buds with myriads of brilliant hues, till it seemed As if a rainbow had been imprisoned within its Crystal home, and was struggling to escape. Now
The rose beheld its beauty, and thought she had Never seen so lovely a creature; so she spoke to
It gently, in a voice that seemed like the essence
Of a summer wind.

"Beautiful dew-drop!" said the rose, "I love you. You are like the stars that are looking down from heaven on me when the winds waken me at night; but I love you more than I do them, for you are near me, and they are far away. Come dwell with me ever, studying to escape. Now
the rose beheld its beauty, and thought she had Never seen so lovely a creature; so she spoke to
It gently, in a voice that seemed like the essence
Of a summer wind."

The rose as she spoke, unfolded her delicate leaves, until the dew-drop beheld the crimson depths of her heart, glowing with love and passion.
Just then a sly sunbeam peeped out from behind an embroidered cloud, and saw the dew-drop, which was quivering with emotion at the declaration of the rose.

"Heed not that foolish flower, sweet dew-drop!"
cried the sunbeam; "she would never love you as I can. Be mine and I will bear thee up amongst the highest stars of heaven, and when I look at thee thou shalt outshine them all."

The dew-drop was bewildered, and knew not what to say. It would gladly have resigned the golden heavens, and been the queen of the stars; but it feared the fierce ardor of the sunbeam; and then the rose kept whispering such sweet things to it with its mossy lips, that it could not help loving its gentle voice. So it thought a little, and then replied to the sunbeam thus:

"O, golden sunbeam! who gazest at me with these eyes of splendour; thou art far too great for me to love thee. What would I, a poor, timid dew-drop, do, were I to shed such magnificence as thine? At thy first entrance, I should melt away and vanish like the morning mist upon the hills.
But the sweet rose I love dearly. Her kisses are laden with perfume, and from her bosom steals forth all the fragrance of love. O fond and beautiful flower! in thy rosy chalice I will dwell forever and be happy!"

So saying, the dew-drop slid gently down into the glowing bosom of the rose, and nestled among her velvet leaves.

Most important.
Vienna, Oct. 3rd.—(By Submarine Telegraph.)
The Divan at the Grand Court this day has resolved upon a declaration of War against Russia, against the advice of the four powers, and the Sultan has signed the declaration.

The above despatch, telegraphed to an extra of the Chronicle, was known in Liverpool on Tuesday, but not fully credited. The mails to hand on Wednesday morning partly confirmed it. The London Standard publishes the dispatch without guaranty. The Globe says: "In publishing the foregoing important intelligence, we would merely state that, although our information does not authorize us to corroborate the main fact of a declaration of war, it is of a nature to warrant us in placing every credit in the statement."

That the Sultan had, on the 27th, convoked a Grand Council, consisting of 120 of the principal Ministers, Councillors, Pachas, and others—that the question of peace and war was submitted to them by him and that they had decided in favor of the latter alternative. All this is beyond a doubt. Such being the case, our readers will see that all the probabilities are in favor of the correctness of the main feature of the intelligence.

Other accounts inform us that at the Grand Council dispatches from Omar Pacha were read urgently counselling war before the winter should set in.

Letters from Bucharest state that the Prince

From Newcastle, 3rd inst., we learn there had been 132 deaths from Cholera up to that date—32 days in all.

From Ireland the reports in relation to the potato crop are much more favourable, and it would appear that the potato disease had made but little further progress.

Arrival of the Asia.
The Steamship Asia, arrived at New York on Wednesday evening, with dates to the 8th inst.
The Paris correspondent of the London Times of Friday evening, says the confirmation of the declaration of War by Turkey had reached Paris.

The Paris correspondent of the London Post, of same evening, says the Porte has fixed 2 weeks as the furthest time in which the evacuation of the Principality must take place.

The English and French governments have notified Russia that it is too late to make any modifications, and that England and France will support the integrity of Turkey.

A Wild Man.—A man named Williams was stopping at the United States Hotel yesterday, who might justly be styled a "wild man." He eats nothing that is cooked, nor drinks anything but water. His meats, potatoes, and all his vegetables, cabbages, turnips, &c., are all raw. He alleges that he has not eaten any cooked food for several years, and that any deviation from his present mode of living would probably cause his death. He resides in Iowa, and is on his way to London to make a purchase of some United States land.—Cincinnati Gazette, Oct. 5.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.
The Atlantic from Liverpool, 5th Oct. arrived yesterday on land. The Asia arrived out at 10 A. M., on the 2nd.

Breadstuffs during the last three days had revived with considerable business. It had declined 3d. to 6d per bush, on flour and 3d. to 5d. on wheat, but afterwards in consequence of the rumours of the East advanced.

EASTERN QUESTION.
The Eastern Question had taken another turn.
The Olmutz meeting of Emperors is over, and a new proposition is to be offered to the Porte.
Austria again puts herself in accord with the English French and Prussian Conference at Vienna.
Negotiations are resumed giving more confidence of a more speedy and agreeable settlement.

A Telegraph despatch from Constantinople 26th, says that the Grand Court of the Ottoman Empire had recommended the Sultan to declare War against Russia, and that this caused much apprehension among the Public. The Sultan's decision is not yet known. The Courier is hourly expected at Marseilles. Constantinople and Turkey generally tranquil.

The Russians were officially ordered by the Holloway's PILLS.

CURE OF A DISORDERED LIVER AND BAD DIGESTION.
Copy of a Letter from Mr. R. W. KIRKUS, 1861, Present Street, Liverpool, dated 6th June, 1861.

Sir,—Your Pills and Ointment have stood the highest test on our sale list of Proprietary Medicines, and I am glad to let you know the particulars of my case. I have been troubled for years with a disordered liver, and had given up all hope of recovery, until I was induced to try your Pills, and the information sent me in respect to the cure of the same, and the severity of the disease, that doubts were entertained whether it was worth the attempt. Fortunately, she was induced to try your Pills, and the information sent me in respect to the cure of the same, and the severity of the disease, that doubts were entertained whether it was worth the attempt.

An EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF RHEUMATIC FEVER, IN VAN DIEMEN'S LAND.
Copy of a Letter from Major J. Walsh, of the 1st March, 1851, by Major J. Walsh.

Margaret M. Conigan, sixteen years of age, residing at New Town, had been suffering from a violent rheumatic fever for upwards of two months, which had entirely deprived her of the use of her limbs during this period she was under the care of the most eminent medical men in Hobart Town, and by their care was considered hopeless. A friend prevailed upon her to try Holloway's Pills, and she immediately commenced to do so, and in an unbelievable short space of time they effected a perfect cure.

CURE OF A PAIN AND TIGHTNESS IN THE OESOPHAGUS AND STOMACH OF A PERSON 61 YEARS OF AGE.
From Messrs. Thom & Co., Proprietors of the Lynn Advertiser, who can vouch for the following statement.—
August 2nd, 1861.

Sir,—I desire to bear testimony to the good effects of Holloway's Pills. For some years I feel several attacks from a violent rheumatism, which was also accompanied by a stiffness of the limbs, that prevented me from walking about. I am 61 years of age, and notwithstanding my advanced years, I have never felt so well as I do now.
I am now able to do all my usual duties, and I feel that I am indebted to your Pills for my recovery.

An EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF THE GRAVEL, AND A MOST PAINFUL FEVER COMPLAINT.
Copy of a Letter addressed to J. K. Hagen, Esq., Esq.
New South Wales, dated Feb. 25th, 1861.

Sir,—I desire to bear testimony to the good effects of Holloway's Pills. For some years I feel several attacks
from a violent rheumatism, which was also accompanied by a stiffness of the limbs, that prevented me from walking about. I am 61 years of age, and notwithstanding my advanced years, I have never felt so well as I do now.
I am now able to do all my usual duties, and I feel
that I am indebted to your Pills for my recovery.
