King Edward and the Kaiser

(Montreal Herald) An astounding story of King Edward knocking the Kaiser down is related in a book just published in England by Edward Legge, entitled "King Edward, the Kaiser and the War." Here is Mr. Legge's account of the incident as described by him: "During one of his visits to Windsor Castle the Kaiser and King Edward had an altercation, resulting from something said by the former.

King Edward had an altercation, resulting from something said by the former. So exasperated was the king by his nephew's grossly insulting words that, losing all control over himself, he sprang to his feet and knocked the Kaiser down!" Whether this story is true or not, it is a well-known fact that King Edward was never deceived by his nephew's frequent professions of friendship for Great Britain, and was not afraid either of the German empire or its ruler. He saw through the sham peace protestations of Germany, and fathered the Entente cordiale, which has since become a league of nations for the protection of civilization.

Theatre Thronged on Saturday Night — Excellent Vaudeville and Good Picture.

The new policy adopted by the St.
John Opera House in conjunction with J. H. Franklin's Strand theatre in Halifax was inaugurated on Saturday night.
If one is to judge from the number of people who gained admittance to the house, and those who could not, the new metropolitan vaudeville policy is going to be a hit in St. John. The eagerness with which the theatre lovers gathered at the Opera House on Saturday night, fully repaid Messrs. J. H. Franklin and W. C. McKay for their efforts.
