

Bed Warmer for Babes and Sick

Cold nights come now—with the furnace not yet in good working order. Then's when a Hot Water Bottle makes Bed a pleasant place to end the day. Women and Men not in the best of health are slow in picking up and are prone to catch colds when their energy gets used up trying to be warm. Tiny tots fare poorly unless helped out by a Hot Water Bottle. It is wise to have one in the house for emergencies.

PRESSURE LOW ON HIGH LEVELS DURING SUNDAY

Water to be Off for Repairs to Phinney's Hill Pipe

Residents of the higher levels of the city will find the water pressure low all day Sunday, it was said this morning by Commissioner Wignam, due to shutting off the water from Lake Latimer to Little River, in order to make repairs to the wood stave pipe. On Tuesday a somewhat serious leak developed in this wood stave pipe at Phinney's Hill and on Sunday a new section will be put in to replace the section which is leaking. Yesterday a leak developed in the 24-inch main near the One-Mile House, and repairs are being made to that today.

The Water and Sewerage Department have a hard job on their hands in Douglas avenue, where the sliding of the street to the south has broken the sewer pipe for a distance of about 30 feet. It was necessary to dig down about 11 feet to reach the sewer, which is in the same trench with the water main. It has been found necessary to brace up the water main to stop any further movement to one side.

SON OF MANAGER OF THE "BEATTY" WEDS

H. A. Peters, Jr., and Miss L. E. Keeler Married in States

From a Jackson Heights, New York, paper is taken the following account of the wedding of H. A. Peters, Jr., son of the manager of the Admiral Beatty Hotel, which took place there on Oct. 12.

"The foremost social event in the community on Columbus Day was the marriage of Miss Louise Eleanor Keeler, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Edwin Paulson of Labrador Court, to Henry Arthur Peters, Jr., of Saint John, New Brunswick, Canada. The wedding took place at 4 o'clock in the afternoon at the St. James Episcopal Church in Elmhurst. Rev. Raymond Leeds Scott, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal church, officiated.

"The bride was attended by Mrs. Frank Hemmings, formerly Miss Marjorie Harcum, as the matron of honor, and Miss Elizabeth Hunter, of Greensburg, Pa., as the maid of honor. The bridesmaids included Miss Olga Lepore, of Manaroneck; Miss Dorothy Algeo, of Manhattan, and Miss Marjorie Gould, of Jackson Heights. The bridegroom was accompanied by Harold A. Lundy, of Boston. The ushers were William Ward, of Boston Heights; Glover Johnson, of Manhattan, and R. S. S. of Manhattan.

"Miss Keeler was a graduate of the Scudder School for Girls, and later was graduated from Drew Seminary at Carmel. On the production of the Jackson Heights Players two years ago she played the leading role. The bridegroom is a graduate of Boston College, and at present is engaged in business in Manhattan.

"Following the wedding, a very beautiful reception was held at the Jackson Heights Club in honor of the bride and bridegroom. The occasion was appropriately decorated for the occasion and a large number of friends of the couple were present.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Peters went from Saint John to the wedding. Mr. Peters also visited New York, Boston and Montreal and has returned to Saint John. Mrs. Peters remained in New York for a visit.

C.P.R. BUYS EMPEROR OF PORT McNICOLL

Was One of Canada-Cuba Line Vessels Operating Out of Saint John

From Montreal comes word that disposal of the S.S. Emperor of Port McNicoll, reports of the sale of which appeared a few days ago, has been made to the Canadian Pacific Railway Company for their British Columbia coastal trading services. Further information, such as the purchase price and the exact nature of the service to which the vessel is to be put, is not yet forthcoming.

The Emperor of Port McNicoll, which was formerly the Canadian Sower, and built to the order of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine at Port Arthur, Ont., in 1913, was bought by the Playfair and George Hall interests last October together with five other ships of the C. G. M. M. fleet, and operated from Saint John to Cuba, under the name of the Canada-Cuba Line, during the winter months.

The Emperor of Havana, ex-Canadian Sailer, which was also built at Port Arthur in 1919 and sold by the government to the Canada-Cuba Line, and disposed of by them recently to Japanese interests, is said to have bought $16,500 ($80,000), delivery to be made in Japan. The S.S. Emperor of Montreal has also been sold to Japanese owners.

The Emperor of Port McNicoll is at present in Montreal undergoing repairs.

Saint John Had First Snow Today

This city had its first snow fall of the season about 2 o'clock this morning, it was said by D. L. Hutchinson, director here of the Dominion Meteorological Observatory. It whitened the streets for a few minutes and was followed by rain. The first snow fall last year was on October 11. The wind was from the southeast this morning and the heaviest it had blown during the night was 22 miles an hour. Indications were for increased wind and probably a shift to the northwest.

Local News

STILL CRITICAL

Mrs. George Lawson of Main street, has received word that Daniel McCafferty, who met with an accident in Boston is still in a very critical condition. His brother, Charles McCafferty of this city is with the injured man.

WILL SEE BIG GAME

F. W. Twitchell, inspector at the U. S. Immigration office here, left on the Boston boat on Wednesday on a two weeks' vacation. While away he will attend the Harvard-Yale football game.

PROPERTY SOLD

A property at 69 Dufferin avenue, owned by E. E. Brown, was sold this morning by public auction at Chubb's Corner by Auctioneer John Burgyn. It was sold subject to a mortgage of $5,000 and bid in by C. F. Inches, K. C., for $5,100.

RED CROSS SESSION

A meeting of the executive of the New Brunswick Division of the Red Cross will be held here tomorrow morning when the adoption of a new constitution will be considered, as well as other business. It was expected that some members outside Saint John would be present.

ANNIVERSARY REUNION

The annual congregational reunion of the Carmarthen street church will be held in the schoolroom tonight. W. T. Tyner is the convener of the program committee. There will be vocal and musical selections by the choir, under the leadership of Major Roy Ring, choir leader, and Miss Charlotte Heffer, organist. Refreshments will be served by the Ladies' Aid.

AT FERNHILL

The lot committee of the directors of the Fernhill Cemetery Co. visited the cemetery yesterday and made final inspection. Satisfaction was expressed on the condition of the grounds in general. Arrangements were made for drilling out of the rock along Central avenue which has long been an eyesore to the owners of lots in that vicinity. Further plans were made to have the exit along Dell avenue straightened here at the point where it crosses the section of the road less dangerous for cars leaving the cemetery.

NAMES COMMITTEE

Miss Frances Barnes, who is convener for the book stall at the Y. W. C. A. Halloween festival which will be held at the end of this month, has chosen as the members of her committee, Miss Dorothy Stewart, Miss Margaret Henderson, Miss Greta Fowler and Miss Margaret MacKinnon. There are scores of workers busily preparing for the big event and yesterday members of the committees for decorations assembled at the Y. W. C. A. recreation hall and were busily engaged in cutting out and shaping some of the trimmings.

IN HONOR OF VISITOR

Mrs. Ernest Whelpley entertained at two tables of bridge at her rooms in the Hotel Apartments, Rockland road, last evening in honor of Mrs. Cyril Bedford, of Boston. Halloween was the theme of the evening and the tables were decorated with a beautiful display of yellow chrysanthemums made an effective decoration in the drawing room. The prize winners were Ruby Morrison and Miss Margaret Barker. The hostess was assisted in serving dainty refreshments by Mrs. Cyril Bedford, of Boston; Mrs. Mary Louise Hogg and Miss Ruby Morrison. Those present were: Mrs. Cyril Bedford, of Boston; Mrs. Mary Louise Hogg, of Boston; Mrs. Sydney Wailman, Mrs. Gerald Hoyt, Miss Edith Thompson, Miss Margaret Barker, Miss Ruby Morrison and Miss Myrtle Thompson.

PLEASANT EVENING

A pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Hall, 42 Durham street, when about 50 young ladies of the N. B. Telephone Co. staff attended a novelty shower in honor of Mrs. Allen Estabrook, formerly Miss Estabrook, of Saint John. The house was prettily decorated with white crepe paper and during the evening an attractive carriage decorated with white crepe paper was wheeled into the room and found to contain many beautiful gifts of silver, cut glass and linen. Games and music were enjoyed and dainty refreshments were served. The hostess assisted by Mrs. W. Hall, Miss Yelma Bushey, Miss Lottie MacKenzie and Miss Gladys Shortis.

As Hiram Sees It

"That's a good-sized craft," says I to the town feller, 'pintin' to a schooner crosin' the water 'neath the moonlight on Long Reach.

"That," says the town feller, "is the ghost of Louis de Amours' vessel that took part in destroyin' Fort William Henry, down the Maine coast. Villabona's brother, d'Heriville, was in charge. He hed Injuns from the Saint John river, an' from Cape Breton—an' some from Maine—an' two French war-ships. They captured a small British war-ship in Saint John harbor, but another got away. Then they crossed the bay to Port Royal to try to ketch John Alden of Boston that was tradin' with the Injuns—but he hed jist left. He was a son of John Alden of the Mayflower an' Priscilla hed doled the French an' done a lot o' tradin' in the Bay o' Fundy in them times. D'Heriville hed a hundred an' fifty Injuns from Port Royal to jine his party an' they come back over the bay an' went down to Penobscot an' got more'n a hundred Injuns from there. They was two priests with the party. They went on to Penobscot an' Chubb give up shot. William Henry without firin' a shot. He hed a yellor streak—fer it cost twenty thousand pounds an' was the strongest English fort in Ameriky up to that time. Him an' his garrison was took prisoners an' Louis d'Amours took owned all the land at Jimsag that was in the moonlight on the river. That raid took place in 1696."

"Well," says I, "the old Reach has seen a lot—haint it?"

CIVIC SURVEY BEGUN TODAY BY DR. BRITTAIN

Month for Work and Another One for Study of Data

Dr. Horace L. Brittain, director of the Bureau of Municipal Research of Canada, this morning began the survey of the civic administration ordered by the Common Council, starting in the office of the Chamberlain.

Dr. Brittain said this morning that he expected would take about a month to secure the necessary information and about another month to study it and prepare the report. Four men will be engaged in the survey. Dr. Brittain's assistant and the accountant will join him tomorrow, and McGaffigan the Mayor's engineer will come a little later. Asked as to the probable cost of the survey, he said this was a matter for the Mayor to make public. He would say that the cost to the city would be the actual cost to the research bureau. The bureau was a citizens' organization and was not in business to make a profit, but it had to collect sufficient money to pay the running expenses from clients calling on it for service.

MOOSE PLENTIFUL IN CAMP VICINITY

J. J. McGaffigan of Saint John, and Guest, Get Nice One

The following is from the Chatham World of Wednesday: "J. J. McGaffigan of Saint John, and his friend, Henry C. Friel of Moncton, returned here at noon on Saturday with a large moose, with splendid head. These gentlemen report that moose and deer are plentiful in the neighborhood of Mr. McGaffigan's camp, 'the Caravan,' situated at the upper end of the Tilley road some distance from Tracadie.

"There are no places in the Province of New Brunswick where the moose have such excellent feeding. There are many miles of excellent hardwood forests of land, and it is noted by guides and hunters that the moose are constantly within walking distance of the villages on the Tilley road.

"Joseph G. Dugay, one of the best known guides in Gloucester, accompanied the hunters. Mr. McGaffigan spends much of his time at the Tracadie camp, where, after many years of experience as a hunter and sportsman, he has provided himself with an ideal woodland retreat. He is a most generous host, and his friends come and spend a week with him, (and they are not few), and a royal entertainment is given them when they visit him. Mr. McGaffigan is a much traveled man, learned and entertaining in his conversation, and an all-round good fellow."

IS MAKING APPEAL FROM ASSESSMENT

Wm. J. Dean of Musquash Takes Matter to County Court

An appeal by William J. Dean from the assessment fixed on his property in Musquash by the board of assessors of that parish was set for hearing before County Court Judge J. A. Barry this morning, but was postponed until Oct. 29, when several witnesses will be examined.

This is the first case of its kind which has been brought under the act of 1923, which has particular reference to assessment appeals in this country.

GOES ON BEACH
Auxiliary Schooner Levuksa's Anchor Chain Breaks

The auxiliary schooner Levuksa, of Annapolis Royal, which put into port here for shelter last night, broke her anchor chain while anchored off No. 16 shed, Sand Point, this morning, and drifted on the beach back of the shed. Efforts will be made to tow her free this evening at high tide. She sustained damage to her keel and rudder and the latter was unshipped.

The vessel is owned by Captain E. Eliza Neves of Annapolis Royal, and besides the captain, had on board C. R. Spoor and Audrey Neves. She is of 80 tons, 23 feet overall, and 23 feet beam, and was en route from Beaver Harbor to Annapolis Royal.
