PINDER ON PALMER.

J. K. Pinder, M. P. F., the nestor of the legislature, spent several days in this week, meeting old friends and giving expression to his views in political matters. Asked if there was any truth in the report that he contemplated resigning his seat to give Leader Palmer a chance to get into the House, Mr. Pinder frowned and said "no" very emphatically. He went on to say that the appointment of Leader Palmer was a costly blunder, as instead of making the local opposition an attacking force it put it on the defensive. DETROIT STUDENT KILLED BY POLICE

Shot by Patrolman Engaged in Investigating Hold-up.

Detroit, Mich., July 7.—Charles D. Hixon, a dentistry student at the University of Michigan, was shot and killed in Philadelphia avenue west by Patrolman Storch. Storch was exonerated by the prosecution's officers.

Storch was with a party of uniformed officers who were investigating after a hold-up in Dexter Boulevard. In a statement Storch said that Hixon was seen, was ordered to halt and threw up his hands, but kept walking away and reached for his hip pocket.

Storch said he repeated the command twice and then fired, thinking Hixon was reaching for a revolver. Hixon died almost instantly. In his hip pocket was found a broken bottle from which liquor had spilled. The police believe Hixon was reaching for the bottle when Storch fired.

With Hixon was Earl Brotherton, also a University of Michigan student. The two young men, according to Brotherton's story, were on their way home after escorting two girls from a dancing party. Hixon was twenty-eight years old. His mother lives in Washington, D. C., and the police today were trying to get in touch with her.

Hixon lived in Detroit three summers, working to earn money with which to put himself through the university. Brotherton, the police say, did not permit himself to be searched until covered with a revolver. Brotherton denied that Hixon had been drinking and said he was taking the bottle to his room.

CATCH WOMAN HOBO BEATING WAY ON TRAIN

Florida Authorities Hold a Seattle Widow With Hair Cut and Dressed in Overalls.

Jacksonville, Fla., July 7.—With her hair cut and attired in a suit of overalls, Mrs. Mary McGrew, aged forty, of Washington, D. C., who claims to be the widow of a Seattle real estate operator and landowner, is held in the Duval county jail here, charged with having beaten her way on a freight train.

Mrs. McGrew was arrested by railroad special agents, who found her in the company of two male hobos in a gondola car loaded with rock on a train arriving from Atlanta.

Mrs. McGrew said that after the death of her husband in Augusta, Ga., four and a half years ago, she went to Washington and obtained employment in the Government Printing Office. She later went in training in a hospital, she said, but, becoming dissatisfied, decided to come to Florida.

Accompanied by a girl named Catherine Austin, she started afoot from Washington two months ago. Miss Austin gave up the trip a few days later, but Mrs. McGrew made her way to Atlanta, walking and obtaining lifts here and there in automobiles and wagons.

Spent one night in the Salvation Army Home at Atlanta, and then decided to "hobo" her way to Jacksonville. She had met a man in Atlanta, she said, who intended to beat his way to Florida, and who volunteered to accompany her. She cut her hair, obtained a suit of overalls, and they boarded the freight train in the outskirts of the city.

The second man arrested here they met on the train. The usual sentence here for beating one's way on a train is sixty days at the county prison farm.

RETURN OF HOTEL BAR NOT DESIRED

Ontario Legislative Committee Discussed Situation with Brantford Hotelmen.

Brantford, July 7.—The legislative committee on hotels and tourist traffic met with the mayor of Brantford, the local inspector, the president of the Chamber of Commerce, and a large number of the local hotel keepers. Frank discussion was invited regarding the hotel situation. The general demand of the hotel keepers was for a bonus in the form of certain exemption. They complained their trade is limited to practically four and a half days a week, one landlord stating that over the week-end his help cost more to keep than his guests.

The hotel keepers admitted that the class of men keeping hotel in the past had not been high. Mr. Littlefield, proprietor of the Kirby House, the chief hotel here, complained that hotels were practically places of unrequited public convenience and thought some advantage should be given them in return. He said his hotel was paying at present without the bar. Grievous complaints were made as to the difficulty of securing help.

W. S. Dingman of the board of license commissioners assured the hotel keepers of the desire of the board to deal fairly. He spoke of the possibility of remitting the business tax, and ten to thirty per cent. reduction of general tax. While only tentative, this met with general favor.

The hotel keepers present were asked to give their views with regard to the bar, in terms of the old conditions, of sale of light wines and beers, and of exclusive right to sell the two and a half per cent. beer. On these, opinions differed. Some favored the beer and light wines. Others wanted the exclusive right mentioned. Not one expressed himself as in favor of the old-time bar, but that he would not on any account, even if offered the privilege, handle light wines and beer, or have anything to do with "the stuff" in any shape or form.
