FOUNDRY WORK OF WOMEN IS PRAISED

Employers of Oregon Pleased With Results While Women Like New Occupation

(Christian Science Monitor.) Whether or not shop work in box factories, foundries and other related industries is proper employment for women to engage in permanently is a question which the Oregon industrial welfare commission has set out to investigate and decide. A series of hearings on the subject has been inaugurated. At the initial hearing held here, employers who testified credited their women employes in box factories and foundries with doing better work and giving better attention than had the men and boys the women replaced as a war-time necessity. And women employees who testified all said that they liked their work and that they found their present duties less trying and the pay better than in other lines of employment that they had previously followed.
William F. Prior of the Oregon Brass Foundry told the commission that in a shop which he established last June all employees are women except three men who attend the furnace and do the pouring. The foundry, he said, was established with the idea of opening the trade to women permanently. Women employees earn from $2 to $4 a day, and it is his expectation that they will complete in a year and a half the apprenticeship term which with an all-male force was four years. All of the employers declared that women workers had more than fulfilled expectations as workers in their respective plants.

THE DEMAND FOR A PUBLIC DEFENDER

The appointment of a public defender for Great Britain, on lines similar to that office in the United States, was advocated recently at a luncheon at the Imperial Restaurant, London. J. A.
Seddon former president of the Trades Union Congress, president, supported, amongst others, by Sir E. Marshall Hall, G. R. Sims and a number of trade union leaders.
If it was desirable to have a public prosecutor, Mr. Seddon said, it was equally desirable to have a public defender, so that no man might be decided guilty until his guilt had been thoroughly proved.
G. R. Sims declared that there was a crying need for such an official. The police, he said, did their duty admirably, but there must always be a temptation for them to give evidence for the prosecution, and temporarily to forget evidence that might be useful to the defense.
Sir E. Marshall Hall stated that he had come to the conclusion that a great deal of injustice was perpetrated in the name of strict law. He was convinced that the office of public defender would be a very good thing. While he did not believe that many innocent people were convicted now, still the few that were ought not to be. His criticism against the Poor Prisoners' Defense Act was that the Director of Public Prosecutions had the opportunity and means of getting information that were entirely denied to laymen, even lawyers, and, instead of the accused person being placed at an advantage at his trial the system had the effect of placing him at a disadvantage. If they could establish the office of public defender he considered a great step would be taken toward the perfection of justice in Great Britain.

ORGANIZATION MEETING.

A social gathering was held last evening in the rooms of the Victoria street Baptist church, W. H. Jones, secretary of the men's brotherhood and the ladies' progressive class. A splendid supper was served. The chief aim of the meeting was the re-organization of the classes. The officers elected were as follows: for the men's brotherhood, W. H. Jones, secretary; Harold Shanklin, secretary; Will Barnes, treasurer. For the ladies' progressive class, Mrs. Stanley Williams, president; Mrs. Fred Brooks, secretary, and Mrs. Gilbert Ducey, treasurer.
Full committees were also appointed to carry on the membership, social and visiting work of the classes. The class decided to organize a home department under a joint committee. There were about one hundred members present at the meeting which was considered the best of the kind ever held in the church.

RESUME TOMORROW.

Hon. W. P. Jones, of Woodstock came to the city yesterday in connection with a Valley Railway arbitration matter and will remain until Saturday when the Fleming and Tennant cases will be come up again before Chief Justice Mc-Keown.

Was Troubled With BOILS For Six Months

From the days of Job to the present time, boils have been one of the greatest afflictions of the human race.
Very few people escape from having them at some time.
All the poulticing and lancing you may do won't cure them and stop more coming.
Boils are caused by bad blood bursting out, and the bad blood must be made pure before the boils will disappear.
Burdock Blood Bitters is the greatest blood purifier known. It cleanses the system, and purifies the blood by removing every particle of foul material from the system, and when this is done, never another boil comes and health and strength are permanently restored.
Mr. C. H. Bridges, 470 Barton Hamilton, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with boils for about six months and tried several remedies without any relief until I tried Burdock Blood Bitters. The effect has been wonderful. After using two bottles, I was rid of them all. I feel like a new man; my appetite is better, and I sleep better than I have for years.
I can highly recommend B. B. to all who are troubled as I was."
Burdock Blood Bitters has been on the market for the past 40 years, and manufactured only by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.
