The work of such men as Martyn, Schwartz, Selwyn, McKenzie, Gray, Patterson, Medley, Caldwell and Field inspires us, as does that of one who, although he did not belong to our own fold was yet among the foremost of missionaries. His work he could never forget any more than he could the emotions which swayed him as he stood in Westminster Abbey by the stone that marked the last resting place of David Livingstone [Appervaded the human sorl everywhere they will all be swallowed up, and the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the Lord as the waters cover the deep. [Applause.] THE VENERABLE ARCHDEACON NEALES was the next speaker and his address was devoted to the subject of Home Missions. Before entering upon it, however, he said he never before realised, as he had done in the last few days and now, the truth of the legend respecting Rip Van Winkle, the lazy young man who fell seleep and so remained for 20 years, to revisit again the home of his youth. The Archdeacon traced the analogy between the supposed sensations of Washington Irving's famous and good natured tchman and himself in connection with the changes which he now observed i Chatham, from things as they existed 30 and he dwelt especially on the magnificent had been effected in St. Mary's Chapel and its beautiful service, and he had to ask himself if these scenes and this Church were form of a nugget in quartz and was found really those he formerly knew, so much imby Mr. Robert Aylward in "a white granite proved and bettered were they.

Coming to the subject of Home Missions he referred to the formation of the Dioceean Synod which took place while he was here, 30 years ago, when the late esteemed Rev. Samuel Bacon, was rector. A letter came from the revered Bishop Medley for the promotion of the scheme to Mr. Bacon and there was, of course, a division of opinion in reference to the proposition, for while some saw that it would lead to the uniting of the church in the province for self-government, others saw in it only a device to give addiespoused the Synod side of the question which was carried in the parish by only a majority of one and it was a satisfaction now for him to look back upon the active part he had taken with those who worked after, therefore, the stores will be open after the results of the establishing of the Synod at that time and proceeded to d. cuas the minion, quoting figures to show in t 30 years ago there were only 7 dozers in Shore who have been shut out from the eastern Canada while there were now ton in the coclesiastical province of Canada; in business north and south of them are much 1849 there were only two dioc ses in the west, Rupert's Land and British Co.umina, while to-day we have, with Algon , 8 110ceses west of the Rocky Mountains include in the ecclesiastical province of Rup.r.' [We regret that we have been obliged to out down our report of Archdeac in Neales' interesting presentation of facts connected with the growth and neces of this grea mission field, and his recital of the selfdeuying labors of the missionaries who have opened to the church the possibility of accomplishing a great work in maintaining her doctrines and services amongst the han drede of thousands who are in that boundless western and northern country and the milions who will yet be there. Being thus familiar with the work of the church's missions and an easy and graceful speaker, the attracted and held the undivided attention of the audience as he dwelt upon the priversal brotherhood of christianity, referring to the great Baptist, William Carey, who in England of missionary work among the hit-the nail-on the head paper, cut to fit the heathen and who when he proposed it at a wide-awake farmer and villager.
