NICKEL'S WEEK-END SHOW

The Nickel Theatre has another interesting programme for the week-end. The latest feature will be a pretty little drama of New England life entitled "The Deacon's Daughter." A first class production by the Kalam people of New York, and brim-full of humorous scenes and perfectly natural situations such as are seen in our farces of today. Another feature in the picture programme will be a child drama labelled "Wrestles," and a very funny comedy, "The Italian quality." The floor men by special request. The show, although it has been seen in this city before, will be a new feature in the beautiful rendering of the Scotch ballad "Loch Lomond," and "Master Packer" will enter upon his last two nights in a jingling illustrated number. On Saturday afternoon the Nickel's special matinee will have several attractive specialties.

VALUE OF U. S. HORSES GROWS $302,000 IN YEAR

More Than Holding Their Own Throughout Country, Dealers Say

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Though automobiles are coming into common use, the price of horses, according to a statement today by the Department of Agriculture, rose from an average of $85.64 apiece in 1908, to $108.19 a head in 1909. In numbers, the horses of the United States increased from 2,640,000 to 2,104,000.

Incidentally, the report, which gives the number and value of farm animals in the United States on January 1, 1910, discloses the fact that the high price of beef cattle is due to an equal decrease in the number of range cattle. Only a slight falling off in range cattle is shown from the figures of the previous year.

The number of horses was $1,040,000, at $108.19 a head, with a total value of $2,104,000, as compared with the previous year, when the number was 2,040,000, the average price $85.64 a head, and the total value $1,744,000. Compared with January 1, 1909, the following changes are indicated:

Horses have increased 400,000, mules increased 70,000, milch cows increased 81,000, other cattle decreased 210,000, sheep increased 1,132,000, swine decreased 6,350,000.

The total value of all animals enumerated on January 1, 1910, was $6,138,488.00, as compared with $4,535,550.00 on January 1, 1909, an increase of $1,602,938.00, or 35.35 per cent.

Chief of Police Riddett of Montreal was in the city yesterday to look up some witnesses who testified in the African Hotel case, which is to be appealed shortly. He also made some inquiries as to some of Montreal's runaway wives.

KEPT HIS FEET DRY

Extraordinary conduct on the part of two men upon seeing the body of a woman in the water was disclosed at an inquest held at the Victoria Inn, on the Hogs Back, Surrey. A farm labourer named Sidney Smith missed his mother one morning and on searching found her lying face upward in a roadside pond. He ran off, and another labourer named Matthews, who passed the pond, also ran away, neither making any effort to pull her out. Matthews told the coroner he did not do so, as he did not know if he would be doing right.

The coroner—"The poor creature might have not been dead at that time. You could easily have got her out, I suppose?"

"I should have had to go up to my knees in the water," London Mail.

CHATHAM SHOCKED BY MISS SINCLAIR'S DEATH

CHATHAM, N. B., Jan. 27.—Chatham was shocked today when the spread of the news of the death of Miss Lillian N. Sinclair, one of the best known and popular young ladies of the town. Miss Sinclair had always enjoyed excellent health and on Tuesday evening she was one of a party of young people who spent a delightful evening in skating on the river, then a glare of ice. During the night an attack of bronchitis developed and within a period of hardly twenty-four hours she fell a victim, death taking place about one o'clock this afternoon. The news evoked widespread sympathy and sorrow. Miss Sinclair had a large circle of friends, and was held in the highest esteem by all.

DR. ABBOTT PROPOSES NEW TRIPLE ALLIANCE

Wants England, Japan and America to Come Together.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—A defensive and co-operative alliance between England, Japan and America was proposed today by Dr. Lyman Abbott at the dinner given by Baron Kichik at the Waldorf-Astoria.

"The great idea of the century," said Dr. Abbott, "is world peace. It is only a question of time when the common conscience will take the place of great guns. Why should the nations waste their strength in the progress of universal peace and against all their enemies?"

Prolonged applause interrupted Dr. Abbott. When he had subsided he resumed:

Japan leads in the east, America in the west and England is the greatest power in Europe. These countries represent the three great sections of the globe.

"There are two ways of maintaining peace," concluded Dr. Abbott, "one is to be so weak as to be unable to fight and the other is to be too strong to be afraid. We in America believe in strength."

TO FIND LOVER; NOW SUES FOR DAMAGES

Mr. Arthur Laurendeau Defendant in $10,000 Action Brought by Mile. Gabrielle Vajo.

MONTREAL, Jan. 27.—Pleading broken vows, Mile. Gabrielle Vajo, suing Mr. Arthur Laurendeau for ten thousand dollars damages and has entered an action in the Superior Court.

Mr. Laurendeau, a singer who resided in Westmount, according to declarations of the plaintiff, had for about two years stayed in Paris; and there it was that he made the acquaintance in his acquaintance ripened into love and the plaintiff claims that Mr. Laurendeau returned her his hand in marriage.

But Laurendeau returned to Westmount and Mile. Vajo remained in Paris. That was in February 1909.

A couple of months ago, Mademoiselle Vajo decided to appeal to the search of her loved one. She came to Canada and again met Mr. Laurendeau, but she noticed, she states, that Mr. Laurendeau's affections had somewhat cooled. So far from being inclined to enter with her into the bonds of matrimony, he even told her, she adds, that he was to marry another.

Mile. Vajo decided to appeal to the courts. A promise to marry had been given, she declared. Mr. Laurendeau had failed to keep his word. Hence she sues for ten thousand, through Messrs. Archambault, Julien and Bernard.

SIR EDWARD GREY ON GERMAN WAR SCARE

England Must be Prepared, He Asserts—Defeat Would Mean the End of the British Empire.

OTTAWA, Jan. 27.—In an editorial on the naval issue in the Evening Journal, Mr. P. D. Ross, a delegate to the Imperial Press Conference last summer, makes the following disclosure of a significant statement made privately by Sir Edward Grey apropos of the German war scare:

"When the Imperial press conference was in England last summer a member of the Canadian delegation found himself seated next to Sir Edward Grey, the Great Britain's minister of foreign affairs, at one of the occasions of the conference. During the evening Sir Edward Grey was silent for a few moments, then spoke slowly and carefully, in effect as follows:

"I cannot think that there is a likelihood of war. I cannot bring myself to believe that a great and intelligent Christian nation like Germany could attack us without provocation—without grave fault on our own side. But I am compelled to admit that the historical fact is that in the course of her imperial expansion, Germany has in our time gone more than half way to meet war with Denmark, with Austria and with France, and has within a few weeks practically presented an ultimatum to Russia, giving the option of war or silence regarding the annexation by Austria of Bosnia and Herzegovina. We must face the possibility that our turn might come. It is possible, though I cannot think it probable, that if Germany were strong enough on the sea to risk an encounter with our navy the encounter might ensue in spite of ourselves."

"If war were to come and our navy were worsted, it would spell the ruin of the British Empire. Germany would not need to land a soldier in England. Our food comes across the sea. We could be starved into absolute submission in a month."

"No other power has to face such a consequence of defeat."

"We have two courses open: One, to allow Germany to easily catch up with us in sea power, and take the chance of a quarrel. The other, to try to keep so far ahead of her in naval force that no quarrel will occur."

The latter course seems the necessary one. The possibilities of the other are too grave to risk so long as our resources enable us to keep ahead."

It would hardly contradict any one who would say that it is a hundred to one chance against our having war with Germany even when Germany has arrived in a position to risk it. And yet I am compelled to feel that even though it be a hundred to one shot against war, we must not, if we can help it, take even the single chance when the single chance includes the possibility of the ruin of England—the possibility of the end of our thousand years of English story."

Suffered Terrible Pains From His Kidneys.

Perhaps no other organs work harder than the kidneys to preserve the general health of the body, and most people are troubled with some kind of kidney complaint, but as yet Premier Hazen has not seen fit to accede to their demand. Other important questions will also be discussed, and reports will be received from the affiliated societies and standing committee. The annual election of officers will also take place. The meeting which will be open to the public will be held in Orange Hall at 2:30 o'clock.
