On Monday evening of last week Mrs. Montgomers Moore gave a dinner and a small dance, the last before Lent. It was one of the pleasantest of the series, rather larger than the last one and with more married people smong the guests. There will be no dances now till Esser week, so that people will have time to invest in new gowns during the dull time

Mrs. Blackadar gave a large at home on the sam.

Mrs. Blackadar gave a large at home on the sm evening, from eight to eleven, in her c. ming house on Pleasant street. The ro ms were filled with guess, and there was no set hour for supper, but a running one throughout the evening, which is very handsome toilettes were worn, and the woo e very handsome tollettes were worn, and the who e affair most enjoyable.

On Tuesday atternoon Mrs. Fuller had quite a large tes, to which most people went after the rink. The tea table looked particularly pretty, and the rooms were not crowdedbut comfortably full. On Thursday afternoon there were no less than three teas, given for some of the large contingent who left on Saturday for England.

Miss Turton, who has been spending some month at Government house, lett latt Saturday for England, and will be much missed in society, where has spent the last year in Halifax.

Major Hamilton Smythe also left last week for England, on leave, and General Montgomery Moore has gone away again, after a short visit. Mrs. Montgomery Moore remains here, but I have both she and toe goneral are going to England later.

Now that Lent has commenced, progressive suchre and card parties will be few and far between, and the "light rantastic" wil also be allowed to have a rest. "At Homs," however, will no doubt be as numerous as at any other season, as they are looked upon as merely making a call.

The ladies of Halitax will be delighted to learn, that Miss Shaw and Miss Samuel, from the Decorative Art Rooms, Montreal, are going to continue giving lessons at the Lorne House next week and invite all to aspect the artistic work. Hours from 10 to 12, and 2 to 4. Lessons free.

Mrs. John Lyall, Pleasant street, gave a very pleasant "At Home" en Thur sday afternoon, and a card party in the evening.

One great surprise that the concert had was the umber of capable singers brought before the public. It is some years since we heard Mrs. Cameron sing in public, and a positive treat was enjoyed by those who had the pleasure of hearing her. The charm of voice of past years has not diminished the voices. Mrs. Gregory and Mrs. McGillivary; but the voices in the concert an absolute success.

Miss S. O'Brien's solo was admirably rendered, The dust by Mrs. Brough and Miss Newcombe was highly appreciated, also that of Mrs. McGillivary; and Mrs. McPherson. The quartette composed of Prof. Horrigan, Dr Cameron, Stevenson and Boeners ang "Annie Laurie" in a particularly acceptable style. Prof. Horrigan has more than once charmed an Antigonish audience with his musical soliity. His voice is of remarkable range and depth and in his singing of the "Hely City" brought out his musical talent to perfection. Mr. E. Gregory attr.cted considerable attention as a concert sit ger. Mr. Stevenson possesses a cultivated and sympathetic voice. Dr. Cameron and Benner's sollity. The bachelors had long been anticipating to give "the poor old maidens" a return, and it was no doubt an event that was looked forward to with much eagerness by the fair ones. The prominent patronesses were Mrs. Hale, Mrs. Mcbillivray, acd Mrs. Grav. The ball was under the able man agement of Mesars. W. McPhee, L. Gerroir, J.
Turnbull and Dr. Agnew, with such a committee the ball could not help being a delightful one and a great success.

Feb. 16th, being the Rev. Bishop Cameron's anniversary, the pupils of St. Bernard's convent held a reception in his honor. The decorations by the sisters were very artistic, and were much ad-mired. All acquitted themselves in a manner that was very pleasing.

The grand social event of the season was the C. M. B. A. ball and was the most brilliant affair that we had for a long time. The decorations were very prettily arranged by the committee, ably assisted by their 1-dy friends, and consisted of drapings of bine white and red buntings, and on the stage were a profusion of palms, beautiful lamps, Chinese I neterns, and blooming plants and formed a most charming retreat. The attendance was large considering the state of the weather. The society has reason to seel proud of the decided success of their first ball.
