

SPANISH SAILOR CAUSED TROUBLE ON SWEDISH SHIP

Was taken to lock-up by Police and charged with cutting another sailor.

As the result of trouble on board the Swedish steamship Symra lying at the I. C. R. terminal yesterday afternoon Olaf Larsen, one of the Swedish seamen, was severely cut with a razor and a Spaniard, who gives his name as Falour, was arrested by Patrolman Niles and is charged with doing the cutting.

From what could be learned of the fair it appears that Larsen ordered the Spaniard to clean up the fore-castle. The men had some words and then the Spaniard drew a razor and began using it on Larsen with bad effect. Larsen was cut in two places on the left side of the head. He rushed up on the deck of the steamship only to be followed by the enraged Spaniard who made another dash with the razor at him, this time cutting him on the left arm.

The second officer of the ship hastened to police headquarters and asked for an officer saying that there was a drunken man on board the ship who was taking charge. Officer Niles responded to the call and placed the Spaniard under arrest. When the policeman arrived on board the ship Larsen stated that he was not suffering much from his wounds, that the captain of the ship had fixed up his injuries and the injured man refused to have the services of a doctor. The seaman will be arraigned before the police magistrate this morning.
