

- 699, 723, 727, 730, 732; relations with Cabinet, 766—see also House of Commons; Senate
- Parliament (UK), information for Dominions on conduct of war, 89 (see also Dominions, status, political); Shell Committee investigation, 113, 119 (see also Shell Committee); wartime economic co-operation with Dominions, 108; no right to legislate directly for Canada, 158; control of army, 240; transfer of Halifax and Esquimalt dockyards to Canada, 242; British foreign policy, 309; subsidies for Canada-West Indies steamship service, 711—see also House of Commons (UK)
- Pasco, Captain F. C. C., 101, 111-12
- Passamaquoddy Bay, international boundary: appointment of commissioners, 385n; proposals, 385-86; disagreement, 395-97; Pope's review of controversy, 397-400; British Ambassador's analysis and suggestions for settlement, 406-10; Canadian government upholds Dr. King's position, 410, 412; Ambassador lists steps necessary if arbitration desired, 411; conclusion of Passamaquoddy Bay Treaty, 415, 417, 417n, 418
- Paschendale offensive, 201-3
- passports, transfer of responsibility to Department of External Affairs, 5
- Paterson, William, Minister of Customs, 1897-1911, West Indies Royal Commission, 679, 681-83, 693; Canada-US reciprocity, 783, 785, 789, 791, 794-95—see also Customs, Minister of
- Pauncefote, Sir Julian, British Ambassador, Washington, 1893-1902, 384-85, 803—see also Hay-Pauncefote treaty
- Payne-Aldrich Tariff (US), 757, 757n, 798n—see also United States, Tariff Act, 1909
- peace conference, Paris, Canadian representation at, 218; delegation leaving for London, 219-20; conference at The Hague, 1907, 814
- peace terms, advance consultation of Dominions on, 220, 284, 303-5, 314, 334—see also armistice
- pecuniary claims, US, UK, Canada, Newfoundland, negotiation of arbitration agreement, 799-810: procedures previously considered, 799n; proposed convention for settlement by arbitral commission, 514, 799, 799n, 800-1; substitution of draft agreement for summary arbitration under 1907 Hague Convention, 801, 801n, advantages of new form of agreement, 802-6; and of new form of claims schedules, 802-5, 811, 813, 815; debate on draft agreement, 806-10; signing, 810
- negotiation of first schedule of claims and terms of submission to arbitration, 810-16; special position of Newfoundland, 813 (see also Newfoundland, fisheries, damage claims); list of claims of interest to Canada in first schedule, 813-14; organization of arbitral commission, 814-18, 818n—see also treaties, UK-US, Feb. 8, 1853, Aug. 18, 1910, July 6, 1911
- Peking, commercial intelligence, 16; talks on restriction of emigration to Canada, 591-92, 594, 597-607—main entry under immigration, Chinese
- pelagic sealing, 1, 507-90; 1893-94, Paris award and act, 402, 508, 518, 552, 560, 563, 574; 1897, Washington agreement (US-Japan-Russia) for negotiation of convention to protect seal herds, 510-13; 1904, London conference on seizure of Canadian sealing vessels by Russians, 550-51, 554
- Feb. 7, 1911, bilateral treaty (UK-US), negotiation and provisions, 507-41: Canadian claim for compensation for discontinuance of pelagic sealing vs. US offer of share of seal skins taken on land, 507-8, 513-17, 522-27; US treatment of Canadian sealers to be considered separately, 514, 529, 535, 537; machinery for settlement of disputes, 525, 527; bilateral agreement necessary before convening 4-power conference, 516, 521-22, 524-25, 529-30, 538, 540; Canada maintains basic right to hunt seals on high seas, though prepared to suspend sealing for fixed period, 528-32, 534; draft treaty presented by US, 527: Articles I and VI (VII), duration, 527-31, 534, 536, 546; Article II, Canada's share of skins from US rookeries, and seizure of ships, 529, 533-37; interpretation of article, "compensation" and "partnership" theories discussed 553, 555-56, 560; Article III, determination of value of skins, 529, 534-35, 537;