

Are the same observations you made with regard to the saving to individuals in emigration to Canada, by the assistance of government in the expense of emigration, also applicable to emigration, to the Cape!—I do not think that the same advantages would exist with respect to emigration to the Cape, as that would entirely depend upon the expenses of passage; it would require no arrangement but their reception in the families of those settlers who were willing to take them as articulated servants.