most anywhere, where we could be out of doors most of the time. We dearly love the country. Perhaps some of your readers might be able to advise me; would be pleased to hear from them, as I am anxious to learn as much about the west as possible. Do not know if it is necessary to describe myself, but most everyone does, so think I will do the same. I am 5 feet 3 inches tall, weigh about 130 pounds, have dark hair and gray eyes, and a good figure. Hoping you will kindly print my letter this time, I will anxiously look for it in your letter column. Wishing your paper every success, I am sincerely, An Admirer.

A Few Good Hints.

Ont., Jan. 17, 1912.

Dear Editor,—I am as yet only a new reader of the Western Home Monthly, but already enjoy it very much, as it is the best magazine I have yet seen from that Western land, which is bound to become so great. I notice that a number of readers complain of monotony in the correspondence page, in which I take a great interest, and I wish to voice my complaint along with the rest. So many of the letters run somewhat as follows:
"Dear Editor,—I enjoy reading the correspondence columns. As it is customary to describe oneself, I will do the same, so here goes—" Then follows a personal description of the writer, which would have done honor to an auction-sale bill of the early part of the last century, when slave dealers vied with one another in the disposal of their human merchandise. To give it a suitable ending, the lofty message often closes with a giddy little "confab" on love at first sight, or some equally sublime and dignified theme. In short, the gist of the average letter of this sort, to use plain words, is that the writer is in a very bad way to get married, and to this end is willing to exchange photos with each and everyone between the ages of 7 and 70. The writer has no bad habits, is very beautiful, and, taken altogether, is as near perfection as human beings can well be in this world. Of course, I do not find any fault with our editor in this regard. He is conducting a section of the magazine which all subscribers have an equal right to patronize, and if the letters are not obnoxious, must, in the spirit of fairness, give as much consideration to one correspondent as another. It is the correspondents who are to blame. But if they are really anxious to have them inserted in this particular magazine, they should be charged advertising rates, and have them inserted in the advertising section of the paper. Those who write these honey, honey, love sick epistles will likely object to my calling them advertisements, and some even have the "cheek" to say that they do not write them with a view to matrimony. What, then, is their aim?
It cannot simply and solely be their object to cultivate a correspondence of mutual pleasure and benefit, else of what value is all "that truck" about pearly teeth, laughing blue eyes, curly hair, rosy cheeks, rosybud mouth, sweet seventeen, etc.? Then, apart from the fact that their letters, properly speaking, are not correspondence, common modesty ought to prevent these modern lags from praising their "own address" with such unblushing enthusiasm. They remind me of a story I read recently, of a negro who was listening to a political campaign lecturer. On being asked who the speaker was, the negro replied, "Well I doan' know jis' 'zackly who he am, but he suttently do recommen' hisself mos' highly." What a contrast to these little ad. letters were the ones written by Constance and Josephus in the January magazine. If all the contributions were like those, how this little page might increase the power for good, which it already enjoys among its many thousands of readers in that vast land of which you westerners are so justly proud. I heartily agree with Josephus in his opinion concerning dancing, and think it would form a good subject for debate, if those who sanction the amusement can find plausible points in its favor.
What are the correspondents' ideas with regard to the card table? Is it not vastly injurious also? Now, dear readers, don't consider me an old crank. I am not old enough to vote, and as for being a crank,

An Encouraging Message

I have a message of hope and good cheer, of encouragement and inspiration to every suffering woman. I have endured the torture due to female troubles and the consequent despondency and mental agony almost to the point of despair, and I have been restored from this condition to a state of vigorous health, and to the happy, exhilarating frame of mind which accompanies physical well being. This change has been brought about wholly by the use of ORANGE LILY.

In addition I have had the privilege and pleasure of inducing multitudes of other suffering women to give ORANGE LILY a trial, and have received thousands of enthusiastic acknowledgments of the blessings it has brought to them. The following is a sample:

Truro, N. S., April 5, 1909.

Dear Mrs. Currah,—Your very kind letter was received yesterday. In reply to your question about my health, I am thankful to say that I am very well. As I have never given you a statement of my case you may be interested in it.

For several years I have suffered untold agony. This suffering was continuous, but I would have violent attacks every few weeks, each attack lasting several days. The first Sunday in November, I felt the pain increasing and so did not go to prayers. The rest of the family did go, and soon after the forcing down pains seized me and I had to remain on the floor until their return. I was in great pain all night and was very sick for a whole week.

Then Mrs. L. came to see me and told me of your wonderful medicine. I got my husband to send for it right away, as I was too sick to write myself. (My doctor could do nothing for me.) I have used 5 boxes of ORANGE LILY. I have had three months of good rest, and am now well, never better in my life. I have not had the old pains since. I often ask my husband if it is myself that is going around and doing my own work. I can scarcely believe it. It brings tears of joy to my eyes. I could shout it to all the world. I cannot speak enough in its praise.
Your friend, MRS. E. H. F.

Receiving, as I do, dozens of such reports each day, I feel impelled to make known to my suffering sisters the merits of ORANGE LILY. It differs from other so-called remedies in that it is not taken internally. It is a strictly local treatment, and is applied directly to the affected organs. Its curative elements are absorbed into the congested tissues, expelling the stagnant foreign matter which has been irritating the membrane and oppressing the nerves, and a growing feeling of physical and mental relief is noticeable almost from the start. It is a positive, scientific remedy, and even if you use no more than the Free Trial treatment you will be very materially benefited.

FREE TRIAL OFFER

I want every reader of this, who suffers in any way from painful monthly periods, irregularities, leucorrhoea, inflammation or congestion of the womb, pains in the back, etc., to send me their addresses, and I will forward at once, without charge, 10 days' treatment. If your case is not far advanced it may entirely cure you, and in any event it will do you much good. I am so earnest in making this statement, and so positive that it is true, that I trust every sufferer who reads this notice will take advantage of my offer and get cured at home, without a doctor's bill. Address, enclosing 3 stamps, MRS. FRANCES E. CURRAH, Windsor, Ont.
