Dear Sir:-

For many years I have been Conservative in Politics. It is frequently asserted around here that it was the Conservative Senators who killed the Branch Lines Construction Bill.

You are doubtless aware that there is an uncompleted portion of railroad remaining between St. Walburg and St. Paul Demetis, although we do not regard this as a branch line but what become a trunk line - quite as important as the Hudson Bay Line.

An association of farmers residing along both sides of the North Saskatchewan River has recently been formed under the Title St. Paul Demetis - Battleford Railway Association for the purpose of urging the Government to complete the gap between St. Paul and the Jack Fish Branch.

If completed from St. Walburg it is going to leave a well settled farming country as bad off as ever for transportation, moreover it will then go through a bush and swamp country which never can be made into a farming district. Our
