

XII. DECEMBER, hath XXXI Days, 1805.

D E C E M B E R.

From stormy heav'ns, the mantling clouds unroll'd,
The sky is bright, the air serenely cold :
Man braves his blast ; his gelid breath inhales ;
And swells more vig'rous as the frost prevails.

Full Moon, 6:h Day, 8h. 53m. Morning.
Left Quarter, 13:h Day, oh. 22m. Morning.
New Moon, 20:h Day, 7h. 54m. Afternoon.
First Quarter, 29:h Day, oh. 3m. Morning.
