ughly matured : ways fully aged market. Both is mellowed before it reaches get it, as nearly 1G NDON. HTI.

Embalmers Telephone 586.

OUR BOYS AND GIRLS. THE FLOWER OF ROSARIO.

CONTINUED FROM LAST WEEK. The senora bowed. It may be that these time honored sentiments had fallen often before on her ear; she said nothing, however, as she passed on. The mine-boss, going also on his way, felt that although he had borne himself well in this encounter, he was in some way departing with tattered col-ors. He did not admit to himself the truth of the senora's charges; but for the first time in his life he had a dim notion that to a person who was not Letitia's father some of Letitia's traits, although springing from a warm heart and a fine spirit, might be susceptible of various interpretations.

Being, therefore, not sustained by any unconquerable hope of having quite defeated the senora with his logic the mine boss said nothing of the matter to Letitia, who, as days passed, maintained her school life in an attitnde of proud defiance. As she had been proud under Miss Simpson's rule of leading her classes, of being considered "smart," so now by a reactionary impulse she gladly sacrificed her standing to the spirit of revolt. It seemed to her that she could manifest very little intelligence or interest in her studies without showing a service approbation of Senora Villejos' method of instruction.

She feigned, therefore, great obtuseness; she liked to say, "I don't understand what you mean;" and when she achieved at the end of the month a report which nominated her position as lowest in the class to which she belonged, Letitia cherished the document as a testimony of her loyalty to principle. As she came tardily home from school day after day Le-titia's sentiment of martyrdom constantly grew; she hoped that she was becoming pale and thin; she thought of death in the safe, remote way which belongs to bounding pulses. And hav-ing in fancy beheld herself far gone in a romantic decline, she pleasantly reviewed the remorse with which Senora Villejos should finally recognize how fine a quality of soul belonged to the girl whom she had treated exactly like any of her ordinary pupils.

Letitia's superabundant bloom, musings, did finally begin a little to yield; whereupon her observant mother immediately took alarm.

immediately took starm.
"She looks real peaky," said she to her husband, "and hardly eats a thing! And my cousin Laury that went off in a decline, she began just

The mine-boss turned pale at this intelligence. "Is the senora still pickin" on Letty "he demanded. "Hey? She is, hey! All right. I guess I'll see what influence I got with the school trustees. I guess my wishes go for something — the Mayor of the town and all! I'll round 'em up tonight and make my talk!"

The next day as Letitia dwadled ostentatiously over her breakfast her father came up from the slope of the mines and put a triumphant head in at the door.

"I guess you wen't have much more trouble, Letty," he glowed. "I seen em! I just said that Senora Villejos wasn't giving satisfaction. I told om I demanded a change to be made at holiday time. They gave in when they saw how I felt. So she'll be leaving here in a short time, Letty. Cheer up, daughter! I guess you'll come out right as you got a father to see to it !" etitia as she entered the schoolroom that day glanced rather guiltily at the senora to see if her face evinced any knowledge of her impending fate. To the girl's surprise that sad, dark coun-tenance worn an unusual glow; the or twice she put up the lid of her desk for a moment as if to look at something in its shelter, and when she emerged thence her features wore a sunny radiance. Letitia was so puzzled at this as for once to blunder very honestly in her lessons. Being, as usual, "kept in," the girl had further opportunities for witnessing the Mexican teacher's curious air of joyousness, and the sen-ora, finally catching Letitia's eyes fixed on her in open wonder, broke into a little laugh.

"You wonder what is the matter with me?" she smiled.
"Yee'm," admittad Letitia in a sort of gasp and frowning a little in her de-sign of maintaining a chill reserve. The senora still regarded her beaming-

"I shall tell you!" she said. "I have a little girl of six years — my Rosario, a blessed child who has been all these weeks with some of my kinsfolk in Raton. I could not bring her with me from New Mexico-not just at first-because there were many things to settle first. I had debts to pay, debts from — well, from my husband's long illness and death. But now I have rented me a little house, the little 'dobe across the arropo by the bridge, and soon! soon! my little Rosario is to come to me! Only this morning I have a letter from my cousin, who is taking care of her for me, and enclosing a new picture, a little tintype picture of my darling! Think, then, Letitia, if it is any wonder that I am running over with joy! Look! Is she not sweet—my Rosario?"

ican girls in dress or feature, yet having upon the small, pale, rapt face a look which touched the heart curiously

Letitia took the poor little picture from the other's excited hand. She gazed at it in a half-bewildered way, and as she did so a strange feeling stole upon her-a sense of pain, of compassion, of rising tenderness. The pic-ture represented a very little girl not, indeed, so very unlike other little Mex-the unspeakable pathos of shut, un- CHATS WITH YOUNG MEN. glory of our Divine Creator. The conceing eyes. Letitia caught her breath as she Lettila caught her breath as she glanced toward Rosario's mother. The senora nodded slowly.

"Yes," she whispered, "she is blind, my Rosario—but such a happy, happy little child! She is overjoyed at the idea of coming to be with me once more. Here is a little printed letter she has sent me—look how she spells—but I forzet: you do not know Spanbut I forget; you do not know Span-ish, Letitia. She is so pleased to think of the 'dobe house. I have told her there are cottonwoods in the yard. Oh, I have written her about every-thing I shout you to Lattite!" thing ! about you, too, Letitia !"—here the senora laughed gaily—"about the senora laughed gaily—"about what curly hair you have and how you keep me in after school every day of the week! And she is so interested in everything, the little thing, so lightsmail, blind lace which regarded her so gently from the glistening tintype in her hand; and as she did so, she began definitely to feel such a self loath. Kirby becoming general manager, a as one might have who has wilfully position he still retains. Mr. Kirby hurt a lamb or a dove or other helpless, innocent thing. For Lettita realized that it was she who had made impossible the senora's dreams of happines that it was her owe wayward hand which had shut forever against poor little Rosario the door of the adobe house by the bridge.

Letitia was not given to the habit of morbid introspection, but now, sud-denly, as if for the first time, she saw herself; and the sight was hateful. Her pride was merest burt vanity; her fine spirit, bad temper; her loyalty to Miss Simpson's memory, simply the ly.

The Highest Success mask of mean prejudice.

Letitia gave a painful, tearless sob. "Oh," she said, hoarsely. "O, Senora Villejos, if you knew—what I have done! If you knew!"

The other looked with wonder ; before she could speak, a man's tread sounded in the passage, the door was sounded in the passage, the door was roughly opened, and on the threshold the mine-boss appeared, with a red and questioning face. His first glance caught Letitia's agitated countenance, and he instantly surmised persecutions unspeakable. His girl was undoubt edly being "put upon" again! And the mine-boss, thus convinced, recalled with a feeling of self-vindication his things to you! I've borne false wit-ness! Yes, I have. The senora's never done half to me that she'd ought to. equal to his? She'd ought to have beaten me with a His very wo my wax doll—ma's got it laid away—and I know a real quiet little burro she could have had to ride on. He Besides, the outer life is only the Senora Villejos were regarding each the soul of a saint.

Other in sympathetic bewilderment.

It is the cultivation of that inner

"My child," said the teacher, "we do not understand." growing dusk as she lifted it.

made pa go to the school trustees and holding of high office. get you sent away from here. They did what he said."

remonstrated. "I ain't so easily influenced. I'm a very hard man to

"I made you do it !" insisted Leti-You'd never have done anything like that by yourself." And then a sudden light flashed in Letitia's hazel eyes, a sudden conviction flashed from her features. "Pa," she ex-claimed, "you can undo it! You can go and tell them that your daughter eceived you about Senora Villejos-or

"You better leave it to me, Letty, urged the mine-boss. "I'll explain to them that—well, that I made a mistake. They'll be glad enough to have you stay, senora. Letty's a good girl, senora, but she's got a great deal of imagination, and she thought you had something against her, and so—"

But the senora was not listening. She stood looking sadly at Letitia.

"And you really wanted me away, Letitia?" she said. "Because I saw what was spoiling your character and tried to help you choke out the weeds so that the good traits could come up and blossom?" She faltered a little.

"There's nothing in me but weeds!" cried Letitia, sinking down beside the senora and hiding her face in the senora's limp, black frock. Nothing but ugly weeds!"
The senora smiled gently as she

"But yes, my child!" she said.
"There is, anyway, one pretty, modest flower of generous feeling—and

The career of John Henry Kirby, of Houston, Texas, is burning proof that in this country achievement is limited only by the continuity of effort and volume of industry. Mr. Kirby

To the above maxims of Mr. McDononly by the continuity of effort and volume of industry. Mr. Kirby learned to read at nineteen years of age, married at twenty-three, was admitted to the bar at twenty five, be-came a railroad builder and owner at thirty and a millionaire at thirty-five. He was born on a farm in Tyler He was born on a farm in Tyler county, Texas, November 16, 1860, the youngest of seven children. His father having lost all his property by the war, young Kirby was without the advantages of a school. He earned enough money to send himself to school, and as soon as he had mastered the rudiments of an education he began to sindy law heing admitted to the hearted, though she never sees even a ray of the sun! You will love her, Letitia!! The senora turned quickly, with a sudden break in her voice.

Letitia, listening to all this, was aware of a numb sense of anguish. She kent starting mechanically at the fundiments of an education he behavior thought away being admitted to the gan to study law, being admitted to the Letitia, listening to all this, was after some litigation in Tyler county. This engagement set to larger things She kept staring mechanically at the small, blind face which regarded her so gently from the glistening tintype in her hand; and as she did as the staring terms and Louisiana Land and Lumber Company and the staring terms and Louisiana Land and Lumber Company and the staring terms and Louisiana Land and Lumber Company and the staring terms and Louisiana Land and Lumber Company and the staring terms and Louisiana Land and Lumber Company and the staring terms and Louisiana Land and Lumber Company and the staring terms and Lumber Company and the staring terms and Lumber Company and the staring terms are the staring terms and the staring terms and the staring terms are the staring terms are the staring terms and the staring terms are the sta position he still retains. Mr. Kirby moved to Houston in 1890. Then followed to houseon in 1890. Then for lowed enterprise after enterprise, until he is to day the active head of more corporations and business concerns than probably any other man in the State. Seven years ago he started to build the Gulf, Beaumont and Kansas City railroad, which penetrates the heart of the uncut pine forests of East Texas. The latest successful deal of Mr. Kirby in this connection was the sale of this road to the Gulf, Colorado

The Highest Success.

The fundamental principle of this department is that the highest success is achieved by living well the life allotted to us by God's Providence.

This success is within the reach of all—the poor, the laborer, the ignorant, and the sick, as well as the learned and the conspicuous. It is a success greater than that of riches, of rank, of social prestige, of political position. It does not exclude a reasonable ambition, but it does drive away envy, covetousness, and vain strivings for those things that the world considers essential to success.

According to it a man may be successful, even if he is only a toiler in a mill, or a field hand on a farm, or a mill, or a factory, or a clerk in a factory. The condition of that achieve tried. The condition of that achieve tried. with a feeling of self-vindication his interference with the official consciences of the school board.

"Letitia," he thundered, "you come right home! This thing's gone on long enough! Senora Villejos, I never expected to see any person treat my girl like this—the best and brightest girl ever—"

"Father," cried Letitia, in an agony of shame, "don't, oh, don't say another word! I'm a wicked, hateful thing—that's what I am! I've misrepresented things to you! I've borne false wit. rendering certain his passage into Heaven. He is useful here and he is bound to be happy hereafter for eter-nity. What other sort of success is

His very work, being done in sub-mission to God's will, is a prayer. So She'd ought to have beaten me with a stick—yes, beaten me—for the way listok—yes, beaten me—for the way mission to God's will, is a prayer. So lines and the titles of nobility he bears, done, it has a spiritual merit. It is view house! And I could have given her than the supernaturalized by the motive with never know me or the little 'dobe which it is done. It may be humble, the supernaturalized by the motive with never know me or the little 'dobe which it is done. It may be humble, the supernaturalized by the motive with supernaturalized by the supernaturalized by the supernaturalized by the motive be!—oh! oh!"

squalor, even at rude labor, a man wedding. Nothing that his parents or may have the heart of a knight and his friends could do for him could heal

"My child," said the teacher, "we do not understand."

Letitia's streaming face shone in the growing dusk as she lifted it.

"I did it," she said, solemnly. "I mingling in "swell" society and the music ceased and a venerable preacher.

The fact cultivation of that inner had been reared an agnostic one day passed the Prague cathedral, whence came the sweet melodies of the organ and the choir. Involuntarily his footeries, the wearing of good clothes, the music ceased and a venerable preacher.

If this department could stimulate did what he said."

The mine boss moved uneasily.

''You didn't make me do it, Letty," he remonstrated. ''I ain't so easily in-

When our young men set before themselves as the basic principle of their career that they will strive for the highest success by living their life on God's plan for it, these Chats will have accomplished, the best part of their mission.

Rules of a Millionare

Mr. John McDonough, a millionaire of New Orleans in the 50's, had engraved upon his tomb a series of max-I'll go myself! I'll go and kneel to ims, which he had prescribed as the them, senora! I'll kneel at their rules for his guidance through life, and to which his success in business was mainly attributable. These rules would undoubtedly secure riches and honor; and, as a whole, are worthy of being accepted :

"Remember always that labor is one of the conditions of our existence. Time is gold; throw not one minute away, but place each one to account. Do unto all men as you would be done by. Never put off till to morrow what you can do to day. Never bid another to do what you can do yourself. Never covet what is not your own. Never think any matter so trifling as not to deserve notice. Never give out that which does not first come in. Never spend but to produce. Let the greatest order regulate the transactions of your life. Study in your course of life to do the greatest amount of good. De-prive yourself of nothing necessary to your comfort, but live in an honorable simplicity and frugality. Labor, then, to the last moment of your exist-my Rosario's little, groping hand found it."—Youth's Companion.

A single lie destroys that absolute confidence which for certain souls is the foundation of love.—Balzac.

"Pursue strictly the above rules, and the divine blessing and riches of when suffering from a cut. ebrasion, or sore, derives as much benefit as its master in a like predicament, from the healing soothing action of Dr. Thomas' Eclebrate OIL.

Lameness, swelling of the neck, stiffness of the foundation of love.—Balzac. "Pursue strictly the above rules, that, without temperance, there is no health; without virtue, no order;

ough we would add one more. It is a rule of rules-the complement of all the rest—the keystone of the arch of mer-cantile character. For what most men lack is not rules, but the energy to apply them at the right moment; not moral principles, but moral presence of mind—and this is self possession, self-reliance. "Woe unto him that is faint hearted," says the son of Sirach.
"We have just received the following letter," says a leading journal, "from one of Philadelphia's best and noblest merchants." The letter is as follows :

" I send you the extract about which I spoke a few days since. It contains more real truth of what my long exmore real truth of what my long ex-perience has been in the great battle of life (having commenced at the first round of the ladder), than any article I have ever seen in print, and I do hope that every newspaper in our coun try will republish it, for the benefit of all young men who are about commencing business, and who are now in business, for it will do much good, if they will be governed by its precepts."

The extract referred to appeared originally in the Richmond Post, and is as follows:

emergency requires moral courage and noble manhood to meet it, be equal to the requirements of the moment, and rise superior to the obstacles in your path. The universal testimony of men whose experience exactly coincides with yours furnishes the consoling re-flection that difficulties may be ended by opposition. There is no blessing equal to the possession of a stout heart. The magnitude of the danger needs nothing more than a greater effort than ever at your hands. If you prove re-creant in the hour of trial, you are the worst of recreants, and deserve no com-passion. Be not dismayed or un-manned, when you should be bold and daring, unflinching and resolute. The cloud whose threatening murmurs you hear with blessings and the frown nant with blessings, and the frown whose sternness now makes you shudder and tremble, will ere long be succeeded by a smile of bewitching sweetness and benignity. Then be strong and manly, oppose equal forces to open difficulties, keep a stiff upper lip, and

THE YOUNGEST OF THE RECENT CARDINALS IS A CONVERT.

Cardinal Prince Archbishop Baron Von Skebensky is the name of the youngest Cardinal recently appointed by the Pope. If all that is said about this young prelate—he is but forty years old — be true, then he fully deserves the honors bestowed on him by his Hol-

In his very early days Cardinal Von Skebausky is said to have been betrothed to one of the most beautiful young girls of the Austrian nobility. t was a love match par excellence. she could have had to ride on. He never bucks when you hold his nose, and I would have been glad to hold his nose by the hour! But it can't be!—oh! oh!"

Besides, the outer life is only the devoted to his pretty fiance. Then came a dread disease, which suddenly robbed him of his bride just before the squalor, even at rude labor, a man wedding. Nothing that his parents or the wound. Then the young man, who had been reared an agnostic one day began to deliver a sermon on the text: "Come to me, all ye that are weary and heavy laden, and I will give you seemed as if heaven itself opened his soul, and then and there he came converted and determined to devote his life to the Church. Society his energies were concentrated to the task of bringing to his fellow men that peace and consolation which he himself Father Skebensky was to be met enceforth wherever misery and sorrow dwelt. Thousands of poor were aided through his instrumentality. His own fortune was given away in a very few years. Drunkards and rouges reformed under his instructions. prison, the hospitals, the abodes of crime-all felt the beneficience of his gentle ministrations. No wonder, then, that after his appointment by the Vatican to the Cardinate—a distinction he, of all men, least expected -he re-ceived such a brilliant ovation in The streets were packed with multitudes of devout admirers, many of whom he knew by name and whose secret sins he had healed. He was received at the station by the burgermaster, De Seele, and a municipal deputation and driven in the city gala coach, drawn by six horses and esc by a detachment of cavalry to the archiepiscopal residence on the Heads chin. Here was gathered the nobility of the land, headed by Prince Auers berg, who delivered a hearty congratulatory address. Among those present were Prince Alfred Windischgraetz, Count Franz Thun, Prince Carl Schwarzenberg and Count Erwein Nostiz. The festivities in celebration of the Cardinal's appointment lasted two days.

WEAK FROM INFANCY.

Unfortunate Condition of Miss Ernestine Cloutier

AS SHE GREW OLDER HER TROUBLES BECAME MORE PRONOUNCED -DOCTORS SAID HER CASE WAS ONE OF GENERAL DEBILITY, AND HELD OUT SMALL HOPE OF RECOVERY-SHE IS NOW WELL AND STRONG - A LESSON FOR PARENTS

From the Telegraph, Quebec,

No discovery in medicine in modern times has done so much to bring back the rich glow of health and the natural activity of healthy young womanhood to weak and ailing girls as has Dr. Wil-liams Pink Pills. Girls delicate from childhood have used these pills with remarkably beneficial effects, and the cherished daughter of many a house-bold has been transformed from a pale and sickly girl into a happy and robust condition by their use.

Among the many who have regained health and strength through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is Miss Ernestine Cloutier, the fifteen year old daughter of Mr. G. A. Cloutier, residing at No. 8 Lallemand street, Que-bec city. Mr. Cloutier in an interview with a representative of the Telegraph gave the following account of his daughter's illness and recovery: "Almost from infancy my daughter had not enjoyed good health, her constitu-tion being of a frail character. We s follows:

When a crisis befalls you, and the weakness as we thought that she would weakness as we thought that she would outgrow it. Unfortunately this was not the case, and as she grew older she became so weak that I got alarmed at her condition. For days at a time she was unable to take out of doors exercise ; she became listless, her appetite failed her, and as time went on she could not stand without supporting herself against something and at times she would fall in a faint. I called in a doctor, but his medicine did not help her and she was growing weaker than ever. Another physician was then consulted who pronounced her case one of general debility, and gave me very little hope for her recovery. Some months ago while reading one of the daily papers I came across the case of a young woman cured by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pilis, so I determined to give them a trial. After she had used about three boxes the color began to come back to her cheeks and she began to grow stronger. Greatly encouraged by this, she continued to use the pills for several months and now she is as well as any girl of her age. Her appetite is good and she has gained thirty five pounds in weight. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have built up her system and have made her healthy and active after doctors failed to benefit her. I believe that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the greatest known medicine for grow ing girls and I would advise their use in all cases similar to that of my daughter's."

Miss Cloutier's story should bring hope to many thousands of other young girls who suffer as she did. Those who are pale, lack appetite, suffer from headaches and palpitation of the heart, dizziness, or a feeling of con-stant weariness, will find renewed bealth and strength in the use of a few boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Sold by all dealers or sent by mail, post paid. at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2 50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville,

How a Sprain Does Hurt. How a Sprain Does Hart.
But it isn't the pain alone that is dreaded, just think of the loss of time and wages. Sprains without number have been cured by rubbing Poleon's Nerviline well into the pores of the skin surrounding the joint. No matter whether it is a sprained wrist, ankle, knee or back, just try Nerviline on it, and see how quickly it will cure. There is only one liniment that can be depended upon to cure sprains, strains and swellings, and that is Polson's Nerviline. Large bottle 25 cents. cure sprains, strains and swellings, and that is Polson's Nerviline. Large bottle $\frac{1}{2}$ cents.

You need not cough all night and disturb your friends; there is no occasion for you running the risk of contracting inflammation of the lungs or consumption, while you can get Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. This medicine cures coughs, colds, inflammation of the lungs and sll throat and chest troubles. It promotes a free and easy expectoration, which immediately relieves the throat and lungs from viscid phlegm.

In his Vegetable Pills, Dr. Parmelee has given to the world the fruits of long scientific research in the whole realm of medical science, combined with new and valuable discoveries never before known to man. For DELIGATE AND DEBILITATED CONSTITUTIONS Parmelee's Pills act like a charm. Taken in small doses, the effect is both a tonic and a stimulant, mildly exciting the secretions of the body, giving tone and vigor.

We have no hesitation in saying that Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial is without doubt the best medicine ever introduced for dysentery, diarrhoca, cholera and all summer complaints, sea sickness, etc. It promptly gives relief and never fails to effect a positive cure. Mothers should never be without a bottle when their children are teething.

If your children moan and are restless dur-Ing.

If your children moan and are restless during sleep, coupled when awake with a loss of appetite, pale countenance, picking of the nose, etc., you may depend upon it that the primary cause of the trouble is worms. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator effectually removes these pests, at once relieving the little sufferers.

Nothing looks more ugly than to see a person whose hands are covered over with warts. Why have these disfigurements on your person, when a sure remover of all warts, corns, etc., can be found in Holloway's Corn Cure.

There is no escaping the germs of consumption; kill them with health. Health is your only means of killing them.

Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil will give you that health, if any-

SEND FOR FREE SAMPLE AND TRY IT.

SCOTT & BOWNE, CHEMISTS, TORONTO,
50C. and $1.00; all druggists.

thing will.

You Can

Make Child's Play

of your Wash Day if you follow the directions on the Surprise Soap wrapper. It makes an easy day of It makes an easy day or Washday. Does away with boiling or scalding and hard rubbing—giving the whitest cleanest clothes. Intirely harmless to the hands.

Surprise is a pure hard soap, which means economy. St. Croix Soap Mig. Co. ST. STEPHEN, N. B.

Use the genuine

MURRAY & LANMAN'S FLORIDA WATER PR

"The Universal Perfume."
For the Handkerchief, Toilet and Bath. Refuse all substitutes. ************

MUTUAL LIFE OF CANADA

Formerly The Ontario Mutual Life. Head Office, WATERIOO, ONT.

Assurance in force $29,500,000 Assets exceed...... $5,000,000 Reserve neld on 4 and 31 per cent. Tables.

Every desirable kind of policy issued. A Company of Policy-holders, A POLICY IN IT By Policy-holders, PAYS For Policy-holders. ****

GEO. WEGENAST, W. H. RIDDELL, Secretary. After Work or Exercise

Don't take the weak, watery witch hazel preparations represented to be "the same as" Pond's Extract, which easily sour and generally contain "wood alcohol," a deadl

Windows an work LONDONTARIO 7 COMP Church Church MF'G

O'KEEFE'S Liquid Extract of Malt

Canadian House. from Canadian Barley Malt, for Canadians. It is the best Liquid Extract of Malt made, and all Leading Doctors in Canada will tell you so.

Is made by a

W. LLOYD WOOD, Wholesale Druggist, General Agent, TORONTO.

PLUMBING WORK IN OPERATION Oan be Seen at our Warerooms
DUNDAS STREET.

SMITH BROTHERS
Sanitary Plumbers and Heating
LONDON Engineers,
LONDON Engineers,
Sole Agents for Peerless Water Heaters
Felephone 588.