The Emerald Beneficial Association gave a grand concert in the Massey Music hall last night. It was given under the patronage of His Grace, the Archbishop of Toronto, His Honor, the Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Sir Oliver Mowat and His Worship the Mayor. The concert was attended by a representative audience of over two thousand people, including many of the elergy and prominent laymen, among whom was noticed Sir Frank Smith. Four boxes were occupied—one by His Grace the Archbishop and another by the representative of the Mayor. The concert from an artistic point of view, was a decided success, and the programme did not include an inferior selection. The proceeds are to be devoted to the Industrial School recently erected by Archbishop Walsh. The entertainment reflected great credit on the committee, who had it in charge.—Empire.

The members of Sacred Heart, No. 201, Catholic Order of Foresters, Toronto, held their regular meeting Thursday last. The Chief Ranger, J. J. Moran, occupied the chair during the regular business of the court. A large number of the members was present. We would urge upon those who were not present at this meeting to make it a point to be present at our next meeting, that preparations may be made for holding our annual concert at an early date. We would also urge upon officers to remember that part of their duty is regular attendance at the meetings; vacant chairs should never be found amongst those who should be occupied by officers. A number of applications for membership will be read at our next meeting, which will be held Thursday, Dec. 6, at 8 p. m. Andrew Kerr, Rec. Sec.

ARCHDIOCESE OF KINGSTON Father Murtagh, the New Pastor of North Hastings Review, Nov. 15.

After the evening devotins in the Roman Catholic church on Sunday last, a number of delegates from the parish of Madoc and Queensboro' met at the presbytery, where they presented addresses and souvenirs of regard to the Rev. Father Murtagh, formerly curate to the Rev. Father Murtagh, formerly curate to the Rev. Father Davis, but now pastor of the new parish of Marmora. Father Murtagh much appreciated the honors done to him and expressed his thanks in eloquent terms, dwelling feelingly and affectionately on the many happy days he had spent in the presbytery, which, as he said, "had ever been his happy home since his first day in the parish" In concluding his reply, which was throughout complete with the genuine Irish pathos and humor, he assured his assembled friends "he would carry with him to his new home warmest recollections of Madoc, to whose pastor and people of all denominations, he owed, a lasting debt of gratitude for the many kindnesses shown to him." It is seldom any clergyman attains, in so short a time, to the measure of popularity as Father Murtagh, and this speaks volumes for his possession of those ennobling qualities which go to make the good man and vicinity, but we know how to value and appreciate trne worth in whomsoever we find it. We only echo the universal verdict of our people whan we say,—our Catholic fellowcitizens lose, in Father Murtagh, a priest and a gentleman whose daily life amongst us gave practical illustration of what the Catholic priest should be, and practical application of the peculiar tenets of his Church, for which she is so justly renowned. His genial presence will be much missed from our town, but it must be no small consolation to him to know he bears with him, to Marmora, the respect and best wishes of us all for his future success and happiness.

The addresses and souvenirs were presented to him not so much for their intrinsic North Hastings Review, Nov. 15.

to him to know he bears with him, to Marmora, the respect and best wishes of us all for his future success and happiness.

The addresses and souvenirs were presented to him not so much for their intrinsic values, as for a public recognition from a grateful people of his unselfish and zealous fulfillment of priestly duty. From Madoc he received the accompanying address, read by A. A. McDonald, barrister, and an elegant and costly easy chair. From Queensboro—address read by Mr. Lawrence Burkett—a very handsome complete bed room set, in maple, finished in the latest design. From the Catechism class of 1894—address read by Miss McCarthy, teacher—a magnificent marble eight day clock. After this part of the interesting ceremony was concluded the Rev. Father Davis, as a mark of his own personal love and esteem for his late curate, invited him and the gentlemen present to partake of a sumptuous supper given specially for the occasion. The invited guests were: Tweed, Rev. Father Fleming, Mr. Thomas McCann. Marmora, Capt. John O'Neil, Mr. Chas. Clairmont, Daniel Dunley, John Dempsey, Loughlin Crawford, John Cook, James A. McDonell, M. Sullivan, M. Gillen, John Murray, Queensboro' L. Burkett, Jas. Murphy, Wm. J. McIlroy, M. Bruyierre, Martin James. Madoc, A. A. McDonald, Arch. Harvey, Peter Murphy, Pat. Gillen, John Stewart, D. Gillen, Pat. Marrin, Edward McIlroy, M. McIlroy, Tobias Forrestal, Robert O'Riordan, Ample justice was duly done to the good things provided, and after the usual interchange of compliaments, Father Murtagh, and his friends left at an early hour for Marmora carrying with them fondest memories of Madoc's pactor and people.

Rev. Dear Father Murtagh—Having been deputed by our congregation, to which you have faithfully and zealously ministered for the past two years as curate to our worthy and beloved pastor. Father Davis, the pleasant duy devolves upon me, to wish you God-speed in their name, and to convey to you our heartfelt congratulations on the recent honor conferred upon you by our revered and illustrious Archebishop in appointing you first pastor of the new parish of Marmora. While we all exceedingly regret your departure, yet, our regret is overshaded by the pleasure it gives us to realize your true worth is known and appreciated by your ecclesiastical superiors as well ast is known and appreciated by us and by our fellow citizens of all denominations. We cannot allow you to leave us without expressing to you publicly what we have all oftenimes expressed to each other privately—our pride and our pleasure at our always and everywhere finding you, the true priest, the true gentleman, and the true triebman. Your daily work and life in our community has ever been uplifting and entitying and an honor and a credit to ourselves, to our minist, and the true gentleman and the true triebman. DIOCESE OF ALEXANDRIA.

A Kindly Tribute.

Father Ronald A. Macdonald, who acted as assistant priest at St. Finnan's Catheiral, A lexandria, for some time, and has been appointed to take charge of the recently-formed parish of Greenfield, was taken greatly by surprise on Thursday evening, the St. inst., when, just as he was about leaving the Bishop's palace for his new home, a number of ladies of Alexandria entered the palace, and, in presence of His Lordship Bishop Macdoneil, presented him with the following address and a handsome purse, well filled: To the Rev. Ronald A. Macdonald:

Rev. and Dear Father—The ladies of St. Finnan's parish take the opportunity of your appointment to the newly-erected parish of Greenfield to express to you their heartiest good will and their appreciation of your services during the comparatively short time that you were associated with the parish.

Ourselyes principally Highland Scotch it affords us great gratification to see ordained to the ranks of the priesthood a member of a family so intimately connected with all that appertains to association with the well loved land of our forefathers, as that highly-respected family to which you belong, and to be thus assured of the fat that we are to have still one more of those whom we fondly and proudly regard as our own, to instruct us and our children in those subline truths which by the grace and mercy of God have been handed down to us from generation to generation, and which constitute our solace on earth, as they form our hope for our salvation hereafter.

During your shortstay annunged to memor of those whom we fondly and proudly regard as our own, to instruct us and our children in those subline truths which by the grace and mercy of God have been handed down to us from generation to generation, and which constitute our solace on earth, as they form our hope for our salvation hereafter.

sacred and holy calling which is given to men to follow. We part from you now with regret, and yet we are at the same time gratified to see that your merit has been so apparent as to justify our greatly respected Bishop in appointing you so soon to that impertant charge to which you have been transferred. Our regret at parting from you is further tempered by the fact that you go to a neighboring and adjacent parish, and we can thus condiently look forward to seeing you frequently amongst us. It occurred to us as frugal housewives that you will necessarily be at some expense in furnishing your house and otherwise, consequent upon your removal; and to assist you to some small extent in so doing, we beg your acceptance of the accompanying purse, which we tender you, with renewed expressions of regret at your departure, respect for your office and exteen for yourself.

Alexandria, November S. 1891.

Father Macdonald was much affected with the address presented him, which was to him a great surprise. He said that language failed him to give a due acknowledgment for their kindness and courtesy in treating him so generously on his brief stay with them. He felt, however, that it must have resulted largely from the high regard and esteem they had for their chief pastor, His Lordship Bishop Macdonnell, and not from any personal merit of his own. He, however, claimed the distinguished honor of being His Lordship's first-born son, as he was the first ecclesiastic ordained by the Reverend Bishop since his elevation to the Episcopacy. He would treasure the address as sentiments coming from the hearts of those he loved, and it would always serve him as An incentive in his labors in other places. He concluded by sincerely thanking one and all who joined in tendering him this expression of sympathy and esteem.

MISTAKES ABOUT NEWSPAPERS.

The Imprint is a small and neatly printed periodical, published in Toronto and Winnipeg in the interests of the printing craft. In number one, of volume two, it contains an article beaded "The Newspapers of Toronto," purporting to be a "condensation of the News' facts, figures and dates about newspaper matters generally in the Queen's City." This condensed article mentions the names of various newspaper published in the Town of York and City of Toronto, but overlooked the fact that there had been other newspapers, not referred to. The News' article is also mistaken as to the "first daily." For many years before the one referred to, there was a daily paper issued in November, 1836, but was short lived. In proof of this we copy from the Albion of Upper Canada, printed by John F. Rogers, dated 17th Sept. 1836, of which Mr. Cull was the editor), in "the south east corner of the Market Building, Toronto," a paragraph in its elitorial column, which reads as tollows:

"The proprietor has also the pleasure to acquaint the subscribers to the Albion, that he has entered into an engagement with the New Daily Paper (which will be published the first week in November next), for obtaining conjointly with them, able and faithful reports of the debates in the coming Parliament, which will enable him to give to his readers proceedings of both Houses, in a way in which they have never been hitherto published."

We are assured that the New Daily Paper was issued about that time, but was short

We are assured that the New Daily Paper was issued about that time, but was short lived for want of sufficient support; but, all the same, it was the first daily newspaper issued in Toronto.

The list of newspapers as given by the extract from the News is as follows, viz:

Dear Sir:—

I have just received Cheque for $1,000 in full satisfaction of my claim under the Policy of life insurance issued by The Provincial Provident, to my late husband. I understand that in some quarters fault has been found with your Company for not having paid this claim before, but to prevent any misunderstanding on that score I may state that the Company has paid the claim as soon as proofs were completed, whereas they need not have paid it for ninety days after completion of proofs. The delay that occurred was in getting proof papers completed, and

Dear Sir:—
Through you I wish to thank The Provincial Provident Institution, of St. Thomas, for their marked cheque, which you have just handed me, in full payment of the insurance under Policy No. 1933, on the life of my late husband, Capt. Thos. Harbottle. The cost of this insurance was always very moderate, and the settlement of claim has been most satisfactory, the Company having paid immediately on completion of proofs, whereas it was not due for ninety days thereafter.

NEW BOOKS.

Benziger Bros., 36 and 38 Barclay street, New York City, have just issued "Hamon's Meditations." This has been a standard work in France for many years, and nearly 100,000 copies have been sold there. The present edition, we are confident, will be welcomed by Catholics in all Englishspeaking countries. These "Meditations"—by Rev. M. Hannon, S.S., pastor of St. Sulpice, Paris, author of "Life of St. Francis de Sales" and "Life of Cardinal Cheverus"—are for the use of priests, religious and the faithful. The work bears the Imprimatur of the Most Rev. Archbishop of New York. It is published in five handy volumes, which can be conveniently carried in the pocket. At the beginning of each volume are Morning and Evening Prayers, and at the end of the last volume is a complete alphabetic index of subjects. Each volume has a steel plate trontispiece. 5 vols. 16mo, cloth, gilt top, $500.

A work of peculiar interest to both religious and laity is now being published by Messrs. Benziger Bros.—"The Means of Grace" It is a complete exposition of the seven sacraments, their institution, meaning, requirements, ceremonies and efficacy; of the sacramentals of the Church—holy water, oils, exorcisms, blessings, consecrations, etc.; and of prayer, with a comprehensive explanation of the Our Father and Hail Mary. It is illustrated by numerous parables, examples and interesting anecdotes, drawn from Holy Scripture, the Lives of the Saints, the Fathers of the Church, and other sources. Adapted from the German of Rev. Herman Rolfus, D. D., and Rev. F. J. Brandle, by Rev. Richard Brennan. This work has a beautiful chromo frontispiece and 180 full-page and other illustrations. "The Means of Grace" is approved by His Excellency Most Rev. Francis Satolii, Apostolate Delegate, His Eminence Cardinal Gibbons and twenty nine other dignitaries of the Church in the United States. A PROMISING ARTIST.

Referring to the opening recital of the Conservatory of Music, at Toronto, held last week the Globe says: "The Conservatory Music hall was crowded beyond the doors last evening, many being unable to gain admittance, on the occasion of the opening recital of the season, which was given by the pupils of Mr. Edward Fisher and of Signor Mme. d'Auria. The programme was well selected and arranged, and in its rendering good musical ability, conscientious work, and careful training was displayed, the audience manifesting its pleasure in hearty applause." Prominent among those who took part in the attractive programme was Miss Alice Forhan, of Owen Sound, who has attained, and now occupies, a leading position in musical circles in that town and vicinity. As soprano soloist she has appeared in Owen Sound, in musical and literary evenings, with such talented artists as Miss Nora Clench, violinist, and Miss Marguerite Dunn, elocutionist. Miss Forhan, during her stay in Toronto attending the Conservatory, is a member of the choir of St. Basil's Church, which, under the able direction of Rev. Father Murray, of St. Michael's College, has attained a well-merited reputation, as one of the best choirs of the Queen City.

Mr. Adams was found at work in his mill. He is a man of about thirty-five, healthy and vigorous—a may be an any adment. When interviewed the cheerfully made the following statement: "About three years ago when at work at my trade I contracted, through over exposure, a severe attack of muscular rheumatism, which confined me to the house for three weeks, during which time I suffered the most excruciating pain, being hardy about the payment of Policy No. 4670 for above amount of the payment of Policy No. 4670 for above amount of the payment of Policy No. 4670 for which confined me to the house for three weeks, during which time I suffered the most excruciating pain, being hardly able to move. I was so bad that I could not lie down, had to just let myself fall into bed. When attempting to rise I had to turn over upon my face and crawl up, there being only one position from which it was possible to rise. I would have given anything at this time in order to secure relief. My first thought was to call in a regular practitioner, so I procured one of the best physicians in the neighborhood, but he did not seem to get courto of the malady. After treating me for some time he left of his own accord saying he could do nothing for me. About this time a friend of mine persuaded me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Finally, I decided to give them a trial. I soon experienced adecided improvement and was mending rapidly, the terrible pain left me, and I had considerable relief and was able to get around with the use of a crutch. After the further use of the Pink Pills I was so far recovered as to be able to resume work, and since that time have been free from the complaint. I do not now feel any of the soreness and stiffness of the joints. I can get right up in the morning and go off to work without any feeling of uneasiness whatever. I have every confidence in Pink Pills, and heartily recommend them. I believe them a good thing to take at any time to get the blood into good condition, and if I felt any illness coming on I would, instead of calling a doctor, send at once for a box of Pink Pills, it is little wonder that their sales reach such enormous proportions, and that they are the favorite remedy with all classes. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. Them Flowers.

JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY.

Take a feller 'at's sick and laid up on the shelf,
All shaky and ga'nted and pore—
Jes all so knocked out he can't handle hisself
With a stiff upper lip any more;
Shet him up all alone in the gloom of a room
As darka as the tomb and as grum.
And then take and send him some roses in bloom

And you can have fun out o' him!

You've ketched him 'fore now-when his liver was sound
And his appetite notched like a saw—
A mockin' you, maybe, for romancin' round
With a big posy bunch in yer paw;
But you ketch him, say, when his health is away
And he's flat on his back in distress,
And then you can trot out your little bokay
And not be insulted, I guess!

You see it's like this what his weakness is—
Them flowers makes him think of the days of his innocent youth, and that mother o' his
And the roses that she used to raise;
So here, all alone with the roses you send,
Bein' sick and all trimbly and faint—
My eyes is—my eyes is—old friend—
Is a leakin'— I m blamed of they ain't.
