

Boy Knight Notes

Work is going on very well in connection with all departments. On Friday the summer school had a picnic at Mohawk Park. A large number of the mothers attended likewise and took a great interest in the proceedings. They also superintended the arrangements for lunch for the children. A happy time was spent in games and other amusements.

Hammock making is being carried on with great vigor. Of those there are a great number and variety, from the two dollar hammock to the full regulation size. A great improvement is noticeable in this branch in every way.

The buildings and grounds are thronged morning, afternoon and evening with children enjoying themselves, and at the same time learning to do something of a useful nature. The baseball team under Manager A. Reynolds, is holding their own in gallant style.

Several more of our boys are going to the front where they will, without doubt, give a good account of themselves.

Several letters have been received from Rev. Mr. Buckingham at Ottawa and 3 new schools have been opened up in Ottawa, all of which are giving a good account of themselves.

A mothers' meeting will be held on Wednesday at 4 o'clock.

A full meeting of junior B. K. is requested on Monday evening, and the senior B. K. on Friday, so as to get ready for fall work.

FOR YOUR HOME-LAND. The year you and your Home-land. And she calls into them. For her sake to make a stand. If you would keep her free.

The land you love, your Home-land. Australia, fair and free. Who gives with hounding hand. And shelters each of these.

No place in this, thy Home-land. For those who will be free. Such recruits shame will brand. 'Een 'neath an alien sky.

Sons of our land, your Home-land. Calls now to each of these. Hark, Australia, her command. Go forth and keep me free.

Damage estimated at about $20,000 was caused at Slough by a fire at Messrs Lidstone & Co's premises.

Lieut.-Col. A. R. Gordon returned from England on sick leave to Toronto.

ADD TO TENSION. The Sun says: "The Leelanaw incident naturally adds to the existing tension, but need not add to the existing heat. We counsel moderation of comment and reserve of opinion until the status of the case is known. After the positive warning contained in our state department's last note to Berlin, there can be no loss of dignity, as there certainly is no evidence of weakness, in postponing violent expressions concerning the sinking of the Leelanaw."

VIOLATES TREATY. The Press says: "So far as we have the record, the German submarine did exactly what President Wilson declared in his note that every submarine taking a prize was obligated to do—to stay within the laws of nations. There may be a question—under our special treaty contract with Germany, evidently there is—about the damages that may be due for the destruction of an American ship which, with no path on the surface of seas open to German navigation, could not possibly be taken into a home prize court. But, as we have the facts, there is no chance that the case of the Leelanaw falls within the bounds which President Wilson has informed the Berlin foreign office must be regarded as 'deliberately unfriendly.'"

AN APPEAL. Come and enlist, boys, come, don't delay. Your King and country need you so. Come now to-day. If we will want the freedom where The Union Jack does fly. We must fight the murderous Germans. We will conquer them or die. Then come to-day, comrades, don't tarry on the way. Put on a suit of khaki and help us win the day. Yes, girl on your armor, to the trenches we will go. And help one another to subdue the treacherous foe. And be not afraid when the shrapnel shrieks on high. For the British of old were not afraid to die. They shirked not their duty done their precious lives did lay. To gain the liberty and freedom that we enjoy to-day. GEO. HAUN.

Music and Drama. BRANT THEATRE. Manager Moule has certainly secured a fine half-weekly bill for his cool theatre. It is a real all-star program, and any part alone is well worth the price of admission. Felsman and Arthur, in their burlesque magic act, are excellent. The performers are very clever artists, and so smooth in their tricks that they appear to be almost uncanny. This especially applies to the last feat, the Hindu disappearance act. Dolly and Evelyn, in their splendid singing performances prove to be two of the daintiest entertainers that the patrons have enjoyed for some time. The Dumitrescu Trio give a high-class triple bar sensation, and their skillful feats brought an exclamation of wonder from the audience. Another of the excellent "Who Pays" series, completes the bill.

INCIDENT CALLS FOR PATIENCE AND RESTRAINT

Is Opinion of Yankee Press on the Sinking of Leelanaw.

By Special Wire to the Courier. New York, July 27.—Commenting editorially on the sinking of the Steamer Leelanaw, The World this morning says:

The detailed facts in the Leelanaw case are yet to be obtained, but according to the information at hand, the destruction of the ship was unnecessary as well as lawless. The incident is not calculated to strengthen American confidence in the good faith of Germany, and in its broader aspects, it is far more sinister than the generally unfriendly tone of the German newspaper comment on the President's comment on the sinking of the Leelanaw. Apparently that hope will have to be abandoned unless there is an immediate change for the better."

worse in the relations with America, "Germany will not cease its honorable efforts through the most searching examination of the American proposals to come to an understanding."

"In these columns," the writer says, "it has always been maintained that we should show a comprehension of our position. America has done that theoretically by admitting the novelty of hostile relations at sea; but while the German government has not that view, it has shown practical and easy adoptable propositions the American Government so far has scorned the practical path that America still will follow."

OPPOSITE OF REASON. "The Tageblatt," after declaring that President Wilson's standpoint under all circumstances is the opposite of reasonable right or correct reason says:

"We are not so slavishly unfree in our thinking as Americans are told. We believe that Mr. Wilson essentially is free and his ideas of humanity and neutrality are not voluntarily in accord with the interests of his electors. Especially those of us who have not forgotten even in this war that antiquated views and arrangements must be overcome, have laid great store by the friendship of American democracy, but we see with regret that President Wilson, though a Democrat, advances the interests less of peaceable democracy than those of gain-hungry plutocracy."

HAVE HUMANE DESIRES. "We have an urgent desire to have the rules of humanity observed so far as possible and to use all means of rescue and to give protection to sea travellers, but there must be a practical means to this humane purpose. It is not humane, instead it is a misuse of this noble word when it is exacted that protection of life must serve as a protection for an enemy attack or for trade in ammunition."

Jacob Frank, a well-known jurist, discusses in the Vossische Zeitung, the positive and negative aspects of the case. He maintains that the United States no more has a right to protest against the sinking of the Lusitania by a weapon not yet regulated by international law than it has mines which Germany has a right to lay in the path of the vessel.

The Socialist Vorwaerts is the only Berlin newspaper commenting on the note. It prints a brief summary of what its contemporary has said, but publishes no opinion of its own.

WHAT WE HAVE TO FACE. London Times.—The prospect which we and our Allies have to face in the West is tolerably clear. We are approaching the end of the first year of the present and the anniversary of the first German onset. Our enemies have shown that they attach considerable importance to dates and anniversaries, and it would be in keeping with their previous behavior to celebrate this one by renewing the efforts of last year, which came only to near success and only broke down on the rock of the Franco-British stand, as directed to resolute resistance. COTTON REMAINS AS PREVIOUSLY. By Special Wire to the Courier. London, July 27.—Despite the recent agitation by certain sections of the British press that cotton be declared contraband, the government has not changed its decision on this point. This is indicated by a statement made in the House of Commons yesterday by Lord Robert Cecil, parliamentary under secretary for foreign affairs, who said that Great Britain did not want to deal unfairly with neutrals whatever Germany might do. "So far as cotton reaching Germany is concerned," Lord Robert said, "it will make no difference, whether it is declared contraband or not."

Mightiest of Conflicts is Now Raging

By Special Wire to the Courier. Berlin, July 27.—The battles between the Italian and Austrians along the Isonzo River are described by a correspondent in the Tyrol of the Lokal Anzeiger, as the "mightiest and most frightful of the world war."

The great struggle has lasted a week, the correspondent says, without any decision having been reached. The principal Italian onslaught has been directed against Dobberdo, while the artillery fire exceeds in intensity that of the battles at Tarnow and Gorlice, in Galicia. The correspondent adds:

"The conflict which is being directed from captive balloons, lasted three days without any interruption, and after only a few hours pause was resumed of soldiers of nearly all the nationalities in the dual monarchy, endure the terrible fire bravely and when the Italians gain a position they are soon thrown out of it."

"Italian aviators are continually seeking to destroy the railways at the rear of the Austrian lines, especially around Nabresina, but thus far they have done no great damage."

An immense mass meeting to aid recruiting was held in High Park, Toronto.

The murder of Harry S. Brown, a trapper in the wilds of Northern Ontario, was reported to the Provincial Police.
