A very pretty event was celebrated A very pretty event was celebrated last Wednesday morning at the R. C. church, Raleigh, when Ida May, daughter of Mr. P. T. Barry, was united in marriage to M. Higgins of Raleigh, by Rev. Fr. Mugan. The bride looked charming in a beautiful dress of white crepe de chene trimmed in the state of the state white crepe de chene trimmed in white chiffon and pearls, and carried a bouquet of white roses. The bride was assisted by her sister, Etta, and Miss Hattie Higgins, sister of the groom, who were both becomingly gowned in dresses of pink organdie, with large picture hats, and carrying beautiful bouquets of pink carnations. Mr. Higgins was supported by Mr. Jno. O'Rourke, and Mr. W. H. Barry, brother of the bride.

The presents were numerous, costly and useful, showing the high esteem in which the bride is held. About 60 guests sat down to a very sumptuous repast, after which the happy couple, amid the congratulations of their friends and showers of rice, left for their home in Raleigh. Guests were present from Detroit, Tilbury, Chatham,, Ridgetown and Leamington.

BILLY, THE BUCK.

In the June McClure's,

Henry Waliace Phillips, the author of "Red Saunders," has been making readers of McClure's Magazine laugh readers of McClure's Magazine laugh pretty regularly ever since his debut with "The Red Headed Cupid." His latest, "Billy, the Buck," in the June McClure's, might, however, be called a purpose; to wit, to disabuse people of the notion traditionally expressed in the phrases "gentle deer," "timid deer," and the like and to impress them with the fact that the horned creatness are the lords of brute creatness are the lords of brute creatness. creatures are the lords of brute crea-tion. Only once in his career is Billy worsted by man or beast in fair fight; that was by the big Injun Jimmy-Hit-the-Bottle, or more poetically "Strong Bull," and with this exception, the au-
